Postcolonial Duras:

Vietnam and the Colonial Condition of French Literature Leslie Barnes, 2014-12-01 Vietnam and the Colonial Condition of French Literature explores an aspect of modern French literature that has been consistently overlooked in literary histories the relationship between the colonies their cultures languages and people and formal shifts in French literary production Starting from the premise that neither cultural identity nor cultural production can be pure or homogenous Leslie Barnes initiates a new discourse on the French literary canon by examining the work of three iconic French writers with personal connections to Vietnam Andr Malraux Marguerite Duras and Linda L In a thorough investigation of the authors linguistic metaphysical and textual experiences of colonialism Barnes articulates a new way of reading French literature not as an inward looking homogenous monolingual tradition but rather as a tradition of intersecting and interdependent peoples cultures and experiences One of the few books to focus on Vietnam s position within francophone literary scholarship Barnes challenges traditional concepts of French cultural identity and offers a new perspective on canonicity and the division between French and francophone literature Postcolonial Duras J. Winston, 2002-02-08 Taking an innovative approach Jane Winston s Postcolonial Duras radically revises our understanding of both Duras and a crucial swath of French cultural and literary history by studying each one through the lens of the other This is the first book to read Duras s work in relation to the broad historical contexts excluded from our analytic optics since the 1950s colonial education and propaganda the postwar left wing political radicalization of intellectuals and their challenge to the French cultural subject and the anti racist writings of African American Richard Wright as well as in relation to the fin de si cle work of Vietnamese diasporic artists Tran Anh Hung and Linda L Rewriting Duras into this broad historical context Postcolonial Duras establishes Wright s central role in the postwar French literary field and Duras s crucial intermediary place between the French literary and cultural fields and their Francophone successors Around them rises up an account of postwar France locked in the struggle for its cultural memory as representational tools deployed in the conservative 1950s still seek to maintain their exclusions while the ongoing displacement of peoples from the former colonies continues to transform its cultural and literary fabrics Required reading for students and scholars of Duras this book will interest specialists in the fields of contemporary French and Francophone literary and cultural studies Diaspora Studies African American literary studies postcolonial and transnational studies comparative literary studies feminist theory and gender studies Colonial Continuities and Decoloniality in the French-Speaking World Sarah Arens, Nicola Frith, Jonathan Lewis, Rebekah Vince, 2024-02-06 This volume pays tribute to the work of Professor Kate Marsh 1974 2019 an outstanding scholar whose research covered an extraordinarily wide range of interests and approaches encompassing the history of empire literature politics and cultural production across the Francophone world from the eighteenth to the twenty first century Each of the chapters within engages with a different aspect of Marsh s interest in French colonialism and the entanglements of its complex afterlives whether it be her interest in the longevity of imperial rivalries loss and colonial nostalgia exoticism and the female body decolonization and the ends of empire the French colonial imagination the policing of racialized bodies or anti colonial activism and resistance As well as reflecting the geographical and intellectual breadth of Marsh s research the volume demonstrates how her work continues to resonate with emerging scholarship around decoloniality transcolonial mobilities and anti colonial resistance in the Francophone world From French India to Algeria and from the Caribbean to contemporary France this collection demonstrates the persistent relevance of Marsh s scholarship to the histories and legacies of empire while opening up conversations about its implications for decolonial approaches to imperial histories and the future of Francophone Postcolonial Studies

The Cinema of Rithy Panh Leslie Barnes, Joseph Mai, 2021-07-16 Born in 1964 Cambodian filmmaker Rithy Panh grew up in the midst of the Khmer Rouge s genocidal reign of terror which claimed the lives of many of his relatives After escaping to France where he attended film school he returned to his homeland in the late 1980s and began work on the documentaries and fiction films that have made him Cambodia s most celebrated living director The fourteen essays in The Cinema of Rithy Panh explore the filmmaker s unique aesthetic sensibility examining the dynamic and sensuous images through which he suggests that everything has a soul They consider how Panh represents Cambodia s traumatic past combining forms of individual and collective remembrance and the implications of this past for Cambodia s transition into a global present Covering documentary and feature films including his literary adaptations of Marguerite Duras and Kenzaburo Iwano E they examine how Panh s attention to local context leads to a deep understanding of such major themes in global cinema as justice imperialism diaspora gender and labor Offering fresh takes on masterworks like The Missing Picture and S 21 while also shining a light on the director s lesser known films The Cinema of Rithy Panh will give readers a new appreciation for the boundless creativity and ethical sensitivity of one of Southeast Asia s cinematic visionaries

Scham und Schrift Agnieszka Komorowska, 2017 English summary Given the complaints in newspaper arts and culture supplements about the shamelessness of contemporary literature the feeling of shame could be considered an outdated phenomenon However this study argues that in the light of the retour du recit in French literature since the 1970s a strand of literary narrative has formed in which shame has become a magnifying glass through which we can observe contemporary upheavals This occurs on the one hand when we reconnect with changes within literature and on the other in connection with historical events in which the subject finds himself confronted with a specific form of postmodern shame This includes the legacy of the Shoah colonial history and the humiliations of late capitalist life The narratives of Marguerite Duras Georges Arthur Goldschmidt and Annie Ernaux are studied here on the basis of the term hontofiction The subject which was laid to rest by the nouveau roman amongst other things does not return as an autonomous subject but instead reflects its own fragility through the nature of its return German description Das Gefühl der Scham mag angesichts feuilletonistischer Beschwerden über die Schamlosigkeit der zeitgenössischen Literatur als überholtes Phänomen gelten Die Studie argumentiert hingegen dass sich im Rahmen des retour du recit in der französischen Literatur seit den 1970er Jahren ein Strang literarischen Erzählens ausbildet in dem die Scham zum Brennglas für zeitgenössische Umbrüche wird Dies geschieht zum einen in Rückbindung an innerliterarische Veränderungen zum anderen in Bezug auf historische Ereignisse in denen das Subjekt sich mit einer spezifisch nachmodernen Scham konfrontiert sieht Hierzu gehören das Erbe der Shoah die Kolonialgeschichte und Beschamungen spätkapitalistischer Lebenswelten Unter dem Begriff der hontofiction werden Erzählungen von Marguerite Duras Georges Arthur Goldschmidt und Annie Ernaux untersucht Das Subjekt das u a vom nouveau roman zu Grabe getragen wurde kehrt hier nicht als ein autonomes Subjekt zurück sondern reflektiert in der Art seiner Rückkehr die eigene Bruchigkeit

Postcolonial Theory B. J. Moore-Gilbert,1997 Much controversy has recently come to surround the status and value of postcolonial modes of cultural analysis Postcolonial theory has been challenged on several fronts on its interdisciplinary competence on the politics of its institutional location and its implicit will to have power over other kinds of postcolonial analysis many of which have been established for much longer than postcolonial theory itself The ensuing debate has often become so heated even personalized that the issues at stake have been obscured In what is the most comprehensive and accessible survey of the field to date Bart Moore Gilbert systematically examines the objections that have been raised against postcolonial theory revealing the simplifications and exaggerations on both sides of the argument He provides a detailed institutional history of the ways in which the relationship between culture and colonialism was traditionally studied in the West then traces the emergence of alternative forms of postcolonial analysis of such questions He gives an extremely careful presentation of the complex and elusive work of the three principal representatives of postcolonial theory Gayatri Spivak Edward Said and Homi Bhabha and considers the criticisms they have faced from an alleged Eurocentrism to an obfuscatory prose style And he assesses the overlaps and differences between postcolonial theory and other forms of postcolonial criticism Finally he considers the ways in which postcolonial analysis may be connected with different histories of oppression and looks at how such a heterogeneous theory can be reconciled with political questions of solidarity and alliance in the continuing struggle for cultural decolonization From Emancipation to Commemoration Zara Bennett,2007
