Postcolonial Representations Women Literature Identity Pb:

Postcolonial Representations Françoise Lionnet, 2018-07-05 Passionate allegiances to competing theoretical camps have stifled dialogue among today's literary critics asserts Françoise Lionnet. Discussing a number of postcolonial narratives by women from a variety of ethnic and cultural backgrounds she offers a comparative feminist approach that can provide common ground for debates on such issues as multiculturalism universalism and relativism. Lionnet uses the concept of métissage or cultural mixing in her readings of a rich array of Francophone and Anglophone texts by Michelle Cliff from Jamaica Suzanne Dracius Pinalie from Martinique Ananda Devi from Mauritius Maryse Conde and Myriam Warner Vieyra from Guadeloupe Gayl Jones from the United States Bessie Head from Botswana Nawal El Saadawi from Egypt and Leila Sebbar from Algeria and France. Focusing on themes of exile and displacement and on narrative treatments of culturally sanctioned excision polygamy and murder Lionnet examines the psychological and social mechanisms that allow individuals to negotiate conflicting cultural influences. In her view these writers reject the opposition between self and other and base their self portrayals on a métissage of forms and influences. Lionnet's perspective has much to offer critics and theorists whether they are interested in First or Third World contexts. The Paternalism of Partnership Maria Eriksson Baaz, 2005-03-04 Publisher Description Books in Print, 1991

The Power to Name H.A. Olson, 2013-12-01 In this preface I will include explanations of three factors the intended audience of this book the structure of the book and the acknowledgement of many who contributed to its fruition. The Power to Name is intended for two audiences those interested in knowledge organization and those interested in theoretical study of representation. These two groups come from the perspective of the structure and principles of organization and from the perspective of understanding the cultural ramifications of naming. The first may be those who develop subject representation schemes for a wide range of purposes and those who apply those schemes. They may be librarians information scientists web developers or knowledge managers. The second group are likely to be feminist poststructural and postcolonial theorists who explore the construction of meaning. It is my hope that both of these audiences will find the case of subject representation in library catalogues illuminating in a much wider sense. I have tried to include a modicum of explanation for each audience while avoiding over explanation for either. This approach will require some patience and some close reading from each. The intellectual structure of the book is introduced in the first chapter. However in a book on organization of knowledge and information it is important to also explain its internal syndetic structure. I have used some somewhat unconventional approaches. The book contains a fair number of manual hyperlinks references to earlier discussions of a topic in the form of see also page referrals. Catching Butterflies Maria Takolander, 2007 Magical realism was one of the most significant literary developments in the last century. It has become synonymous with the seductive fictions of writers such as Gabriel

García Márquez Salman Rushdie Toni Morrison Ben Okri Jeanette Winterson and Peter Carey However the genre has also become known for its theoretical indeterminacy In fact exoticist speculation inspired by the links between magical realist literature and the world's cultural or political margins has thrown the category into critical disrepute This book rescues magical realism from misreadings and misdemeanours tracing the historical development of the literary genre and analysing an original spectrum of magical realist texts from Latin America Africa India Canada the US the UK and Australia It asks such questions as How did magical realism come to take over the world What is the nature of its allure Also how does the marginal status of its authors inform the genre Does magical realism have a political agenda This book uses postcolonial theory to investigate notions of cultural identity and post structural theory to examine the narrative strategies of magical realism presenting a comprehensive historical and theoretical overview of the genre and a politically urgent argument about its subversive potentialities

MultiCultural Review ,1998      Cahiers Élisabéthains ,1994      Canada in the Frame Philip J. Hatfield,2018-06-18 Canada in the Frame explores a photographic collection held at the British Library that offers a unique view of late nineteenth century and early twentieth century Canada The collection which contains in excess of 4 500 images taken between 1895 and 1923 covers a dynamic period in Canada's national history and provides a variety of views of its landscapes developing urban areas and peoples Colonial Copyright Law was the driver by which these photographs were acquired unmediated by curators but rather by the eye of the photographer who created the image they showcase a grass roots view of Canada during its early history as a Confederation Canada in the Frame describes this little known collection and includes over 100 images from it The author asks key questions about what it shows contemporary viewers of Canada and its photographic history and about the peculiar view these photographs offer of a former part of the British Empire in a post colonial age viewed from the old Heart of Empire Case studies are included on subjects such as urban centres railroads and migration which analyse the complex ways in which photographers approached their subjects in the context of the relationship between Canada the British Empire and photography

Textual Lives of Caste Across the Ages Prathama Banerjee, 2024-10-17 The essays in this volume explore the myriad ways in which caste varna and jati has been theorized and critiqued in multiple philosophical religious logical and narrative traditions in India Spanning ancient medieval and modern times and in diverse classical and vernacular languages the chapters show how the social fact of caste and imaginations of kinship community and humanity were historically subject to epistemological spiritual and existential debate in both elite and popular circles in India Textual Lives of Caste Across the Ages seeks to bridge the interdisciplinary gap between historians and sociologists by focusing on texts that help us think across the sociological and philosophical the political and the religious the epistemological and the aesthetic and indeed the elite and the popular The volume also sets up a conversation between scholars specializing in different regions archives and historical periods and demonstrates how caste imaginaries have been deeply diverse and contested in India s past Reconstructing these diverse traditions of social and existential criticism helps us in our contemporary struggles against caste hierarchy and untouchability and enriches our contemporary critical repertoire
