Postmodern Explained To Children:

The Postmodern Explained to Children Jean-François Lyotard, 1992 The Postmodern Explained Jean-François Lyotard, 1993 A major figure in the contemporary critical world Jean Francois Lyotard originally introduced the term postmodern into current discussions of philosophy The Postmodern Explained is an engaging collection of letters addressed to young philosophers including the actual children of some of Lyotard s colleagues that inform the trajectory of his thinking in the period before The Postmodern Condition through The Differend Theory for Beginners Kenneth B. Kidd, 2020-11-03 Since its inception in the 1970s the Philosophy for Children movement P4C has affirmed children s literature as important philosophical work Theory meanwhile has invested in children s classics especially Lewis Carroll s Alice books and has also developed a literature for beginners that resembles children s literature in significant ways Offering a novel take on this phenomenon Theory for Beginners explores how philosophy and theory draw on children s literature and have even come to resemble it in their strategies for cultivating the child and or the beginner Examining everything from the rise of French Theory in the United States to the crucial pedagogies offered in children s picture books from Alison Bechdel s graphic memoir Are You My Mother and Lemony Snicket s A Series of Unfortunate Events to studies of queer childhood Kenneth B Kidd deftly reveals the way in which children may learn from philosophy and vice versa Developments Erica Burman, 2020-07-28 How does developmental psychology connect with what used to be called the developing world What do cultural representations indicate about the contemporary politics of childhood How is concern about child sexual exploitation linked to wider securitization anxieties In other words what is the political economy of childhood and how is this affectively organized This new edition of Developments Child Image Nation fully updated is a key conceptual intervention and resource reflecting further on the contexts and frameworks that tie children to national and international agendas A companion volume to Burman s Deconstructing Developmental Psychology third edition 2017 this volume helps explain why questions around children and childhood including their safety welfare their interests abilities sexualities and their violence have so preoccupied the late twentieth and twenty first centuries showing how the frames for these concerns have extended beyond their Euro US contexts of origination In this completely revised edition Burman explores changing debates and contexts offering resources for interpreting continuities and shifts in the complex terrain connecting children and development Through reflection on an increasingly globalised marketised world that prolongs previous colonial and gendered dynamics in new and even more insidious ways Developments analyses the conceptual paradigms shaping how we think about and work with children and recommends strategies for changing them Drawing in particular on feminist and post development literatures as well as original and detailed engagement with social theory it illustrates how and why reconceptualising notions of individual and human development including those informing models of children s rights and interests is needed to foster more just and equitable forms of professional practice with children and their families Burman offers an important contribution to a set of urgent debates engaging theory and method policy and practice across all the disciplines that work with or lay claim to children's interests A persuasive set of arguments about childhood culture and professional practice Developments is an invaluable resource to teachers and students in psychology childhood studies and education as well as researchers in gender studies

Modern and Postmodern Strategies Monika Kilian, 1998 The postmodern notion of gaming as a legitimate method of philosophical inquiry opposes the either/or model of modern discourse Modern and Postmodern Strategies outlines the key issues informing the debate between modern and postmodern thought and focuses on the postmodern contention that the universalizing strategies of modern thought are cognitively and morally wrong This study uses a range of theorists to explore the implications of monism and pluralism By using the work of the poet Hans Magnus Enzensberger the author demonstrates that literary texts can function alongside and often illuminate the philosophical arguments between modern and postmodern thought

Postmodern Studies, 1999

Heterology and the Postmodern Julian Pefanis, 1991 In Heterology and the Postmodern Julian Pefanis presents a new view of the history of poststructuralism heterology and the origins of postmodernism by analyzing three important French theorists Georges Bataille Jean Baudrillard and Jean-François Lyotard Beginning with the introduction of Hegel in French postmodernist thought largely but not exclusively through the thought of Georges Bataille Pefanis argues that the core problematics of postmodern aesthetics history exchange representation and writing are related to Bataille's reconceptualization of the Hegelian framework Pefanis explores how Bataille was influenced by Hegel Marcel Mauss Freud and Nietzsche and traces the effects of this influence on the analyses and critiques of later postmodernists most notably Lyotard and Baudrillard Finally employing these postmodernists along with Freud and Jacques Lacan Pefanis discusses discourse on postmodernism and its relation to Freud's concept of the death drive This intellectual history makes valuable contributions to the debates over what the postmodern may mean for intellectual and political activity

The Political Ethics of Jean-François Lyotard and Jacques Derrida Georges de Schrijver, 2010 A genuine political ethics seems to require a universal perspective and yet we are told that the postmodern age eschews universal perspectives In this book Georges De Schrijver argues that the leading proponents of postmodernity have not as is commonly assumed abandoned the search for universals Rather they have sought to reshape the concept in ways that account for postmodernity's critique Examining the thought of both Jean Francois Lyotard who prophesies the end of the grand stories and Jacques Derrida the leading proponent of deconstruction De Schrijver comes to the conclusion that each in his turn is still in search of the universal Taking his lead from Kant's unrepresentable Idea Lyotard holds out hope for a universal expressed through respect for heterogeneity whereas Derrida arrives at this impossible dream through a critical study of Husserl's phenomenology The common bond for Lyotard and Derrida is their quest of the unrepresentable For Lyotard this comes through a sublime sadness urging him to side with the silenced party in legal disputes For Derrida the same quest is expressed through a yearning for the impossible things to come a justice that goes beyond legality a reshaping of the international juridical order and a hospitality that is truly unconditional in its reach Underlying the thought of both men is a profound appreciation for their Jewish ethical inheritance an appreciation they learn from Emmanuel Levinas In passing judgment on the new world order both authors go decidedly beyond Kant and thus beyond modernity in reaching for a truly transcultural perspective in this era of globalization

Standpoints and Differences Karen Henwood, Christine Griffin, Ann Phoenix, 1998-09-14 This volume investigates a key area of theoretical interest within contemporary feminist and poststructuralist theory paying particular attention to feminist psychology Recognizing that feminist researchers have a long standing commitment to conducting research from feminist standpoints the contributors consider the tensions between this and the poststructuralist argument that research and emancipatory politics can flow from personal and political differences The volume considers questions and developments on giving voice and explores arguments and theoretical positions concerning power and subjectivity paying attention to how these inform research practice A
