Diverse Voices in Photographic Albums Mary Trent, Kris Belden-Adams, 2022-07-29 Through a variety of case studies by global scholars from diverse academic fields this book explores photographic album practices of historically marginalized figures from a range of time periods geographic locations and socio cultural contexts Their albums stories span various racial ethnic gender and sexual identities nationalities religions and disabilities The vernacular albums featured in this volume present narratives that move beyond those reflected in our existing histories Essays examine the visual material and aural strategies that album makers have used to assert control over the presentation of their histories and identities and to direct what those narratives have to say a point of special relevance as these albums move out of private domestic space and into public archives institutions and digital formats This book does not consider photographic albums and scrapbooks as separate genres but as a continuum of modern creative practices of photographic and mass print collage aimed at self expression and narrative building that co evolved and were readily accessible The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history history of photography visual culture material culture media studies and cultural studies Encyclopedia of

Margaret Beetham, Kay Boardman, 2001 This anthology makes available to students and general readers the rich variety of Victorian magazines for women The extracts range from fashion magazines to feminist journals from serious works for Christian mothers to tales of romance and passion for sweethearts Focusing on the historical development of the British women's magazine this extensively illustrated work gives access to texts which few readers ever see The first main section describes and illustrates eight kinds of magazine for women Though they have common features the differences between the drawing room journal of the 1830s and 1840s and the cheap domestic magazines of the 1890s are clearly demonstrated The second section focuses on those elements which made up the magazine s typical mix of ingredients including fiction the fashion plate poetry political journalism advice columns and reader s letters The last section is the most comprehensive listing of British Victorian women s magazines which currently exists This is a work of scholarship but one which will appeal to students of Cultural Historical Literary and Women s Studies as well as to the general interested reader Like the magazines it represents it offers its readers both entertainment and instruction
