

A bronze sculpture of a hand, likely a potter's, is shown in the process of shaping a dark, ribbed pottery wheel. The hand is positioned over the wheel, with fingers extended as if guiding or smoothing the clay. The background is a soft, out-of-focus blue and white, suggesting a studio or workshop environment. The sculpture is highly detailed, showing the texture of the clay and the form of the hand.

1944 when he joined the Hindustani Talimi Sangh which promulgated Nayee Taleem at Gandhi's ashram Sevagram as Art Teacher. His political consciousness saw him participate actively in the Quit India Movement in 1942 in Vinoba Bhave's Bhoodan and later from 1962 onward as Secretary General later Chairman of the War Resisters International the oldest world pacifist organisation based in London. From there he was able to extend his Gandhian values internationally. All of this while continuing with his life as a prolific artist. Rather than view them as separate worlds or professions, Devi harmonises them within an ethical and conscionable whole. He has written widely on the inextricable link between peace and creativity on child basic education, Gandhi and Tagore on politics and art in English, Hindi and Bangla. In 2007 he was awarded the Lalit Kala Akademi Ratna and in 2008 the Desikottama by Visva Bharati University Santiniketan.

Women and Ceramics Moira Vincentelli, 2000. This pioneering collection of essays deals with the topic of how Irish literature responds to the presence of non Irish immigrants in Celtic Tiger and post Celtic Tiger Ireland. The book assembles an international group of 18 leading and prestigious academics in the field of Irish studies from both sides of the Atlantic including Declan Kiberd, Anne Fogarty and Maureen T Reddy amongst others. Key areas of discussion are what does it mean to be multicultural and what are the implications of this condition for contemporary Irish writers. How has literature in Ireland responded to inward migration? Have Irish writers reflected in their work either explicitly or implicitly the existence of migrant communities in Ireland? If so, are elements of Irish traditional culture and community maintained or transformed? What is the social and political efficacy of these intercultural artistic visions? Writers discussed include Hugo Hamilton, Roddy Doyle, Colum McCann, N Dhuibhne, Dermot Bolger, Chris Binchy, Michael O Loughlin, Emer Martin and Kate O Riordan.
