Pinkney, Roger R. Woock, 1970 To find more information about Rowman and Littlefield titles please visit www.rowmanlittlefield.com Crafting Preservation Criteria John H. Sprinkle, Jr., 2014-03-05 In 1966 American historic preservation was transformed by the passage of the National Historic Preservation Act which created a National Register of Historic Places Now comprising more than 1 4 million historic properties across the country the National Register is the official federal list of places in the United States thought to be worthy of preservation One of the fundamental principles of the National Register is that every property is evaluated according to a standard set of criteria that provide the framework for understanding why a property is significant in American history The origins of these criteria are important because they provide the threshold for consideration by a broad range of federal preservation programs from planning for continued adaptive use to eligibility for grants and inclusion in heritage tourism and educational programs Crafting Preservation Criteria sets out these preservation criteria for students explaining how they got added to the equation and elucidating the test cases that allowed for their use From artworks to churches from the fifty year rule to the historic scene students will learn how places have been historically evaluated to be placed on the National Register and how the criteria evolved over time Race, Space, and Riots in Chicago, New York, and Los Angeles Janet L. Abu-Lughod, 2007-09-10 Race Space and Riots in Chicago New York and Los Angeles weaves together historical narratives of major riots with the changing contexts in which they have occurred to show how urban space politics and economic conditions not simply an abstract race conflict all structure the form and virulence of urban rebellions Comparing six major race riots that occurred in the three largest American metropolitan centers Abu Lughod draws upon archival research primary and secondary sources and field work to reconstruct events especially for the 1964 Harlem riot and Chicago s 1968 riots where no single study currently exists Seeing Trees Sonja Dümpelmann, 2019-01-08 A fascinating and beautifully illustrated volume that explains what street trees tell us about humanity s changing relationship with nature and the city Today cities around the globe are planting street trees to mitigate the effects of climate change However as landscape historian Sonja D mpelmann explains this is not a new phenomenon In her eye opening work D mpelmann shows how New York City and Berlin began systematically planting trees to improve the urban climate during the nineteenth century presenting the history of the practice within its larger social cultural and political contexts A unique integration of empirical research and theory D mpelmann s richly illustrated work uncovers this important untold story Street trees variously regarded as sanitizers nuisances upholders of virtue economic engines and more reflect the changing relationship between humans and nonhuman nature in urban environments Offering valuable insights and frameworks this authoritative volume will be an important resource for years to come
