The Poverty of Life-Affirming Work Mechthild Hart, 2001-12-30 While society may applaud middle and upper class women who decide to stay home to raise their children there exists a decided abhorrence for single mothers welfare queens who collect public funds but do not work Here Hart challenges traditional notions of welfare mothers by providing first hand accounts of poor urban mothers and revealing the life affirming and moral aspects of their motherwork a form of subsistence work involving many tasks that incorporate the physical psychological emotional and spiritual dimensions of life Though the mothering work these women do is vilified in public discourse as unnecessary and unwanted the author contends that the ethical and epistemological dimensions of life affirming work a key component of motherwork not only structure social political activism but also educational efforts that are oriented towards radical change Concrete experiences of motherwork policy analyses regarding welfare reform efforts oriented towards educational and epistemological border crossings and collective struggles for social change are examined here in a larger theoretical political economic framework Pulling together the many strands of different theoretical fields addressing issues related to critical transformative pedagogy community activism and forms of unpaid work this unique work calls for the unlearning of ways of thinking and feeling which uphold prejudices and life threatening social political hierarchies While the public may sneer at women who choose to accept welfare in order to stay home to raise their children these mothers must continue to perform this invisible work in order that their children may break the cycle of poverty in which they are entrenched The author examines ways in which these mothers organize and carry out educational efforts and political work in the context of extreme poverty and against the harsh criticisms of an unforgiving public Ultimately Hart hopes to convince the public of the inherent importance of motherwork and break down the prejudices that have worked against the urban poor and single mothers

The Poverty of Life-Affirming Work Mechthild Hart, 2002 While society may applaud middle and upper class women who decide to stay home to raise their children there exists a decided abhorrence for single mothers welfare queens who collect public funds but do not work Here Hart challenges traditional notions of welfare mothers by providing first hand accounts of poor urban mothers and revealing the life affirming and moral aspects of their motherwork a form of subsistence work involving many tasks that incorporate the physical psychological emotional and spiritual dimensions of life Though the mothering work these women do is vilified in public discourse as unnecessary and unwanted the author contends that the ethical and epistemological dimensions of life affirming work a key component of motherwork not only structure social political activism but also educational efforts that are oriented towards radical change Concrete experiences of motherwork policy analyses regarding welfare reform efforts oriented towards educational and epistemological border crossings and collective struggles for social change are examined here in a larger theoretical political economic framework Pulling together the many strands of different theoretical fields addressing issues related to critical transformative pedagogy community activism and forms of unpaid work this unique work calls for the unlearning of ways of thinking and feeling which uphold prejudices and life threatening social political hierarchies While the public may sneer at women who choose to accept welfare in order to stay home to raise their children these mothers must continue to perform this invisible work in order that their children may break the cycle of poverty in which they are entrenched The author examines ways in which these mothers organize and carry out educational efforts and political work in the context of extreme poverty and against the harsh criticisms of an unforgiving public Ultimately Hart hopes to convince the public of the inherent importance of motherwork and break down the prejudices that have worked against the urban poor and single mothers

International Encyclopedia of Adult Education L. English, 2016-04-30 The Encyclopedia of Adult Education is the first comprehensive reference work in this important and fast growing field and is an invaluable resource for adult educators who research and teach in the fields of higher education work in community based settings or practise in public or private organizations Its 170 articles written by an international team of contributors from over 17 countries detail the research and practice of the field from its emergence as a separate discipline to the present day covering key concepts issues and individuals and providing a cutting edge summary of ongoing debates across a wide range of perspectives from self directed learning to human resource development Entries are arranged A Z and extensive cross referenced with detailed bibliographies for each topic to facilitate further research

Rethinking Work and Learning Peter Willis, Stephen Mckenzie, Roger Harris, 2008-11-02 Rethinking a Sustainable Society Alan Mayne The world has already passed the midway point for achieving by 2015 the eight Millennium Development Goals for a more peaceful prosperous and just world that were set by the United Nations in the wake of its inspirational Millennium Declaration in 2000 These goals range from combating poverty hunger and disease to empowering women and ensuring environmental sustainability However Ban Ki Moon the United Nations Secretary General conceded in 2007 that progress to date has been mixed During 2008 the head of the United Nations World Food Programme cautioned that because of the surge in world commodity prices the program had insufficient money to stave off global malnutrition and the World Health Organization warned of a global crisis in water and sanitation Depressing news accounts accumulate about opportunities missed to achieve a fairer world order and ecological sustainability the manipulation of election results in Africa human rights abuses in China 4000 Americans dead and another nation torn apart by a senseless and protracted war in Iraq and weasel words by the world's political leadership in the lead up to negotiations for a climate change deal in 2009 that is supposed to stabilize global carbon dioxide emissions It is clear that the parameters of the debates that drive progressive policy change urgently require repositioning and energizing As is shown by the contributors to Rethinking work and learning experts in the humanities and social sciences HASS could have an important role to play in this process

Work and Family Commitments of Low-Income and Impoverished Women Judith Hennessy, 2015-03-18 Conflict between work and family life is an all too familiar experience for many Americans The difficult choices facing women who combine paid work with childcare are the subject of a deluge of books and articles in addition to an ongoing public debate about how women and men should balance their work and family commitments Although we know a great deal about the social and cultural environment fueling these contradictions among middle class and upper middle class women we know little about the forces that influence poor and low income women Work and Family Commitments of Low Income and Impoverished Women addresses this omission and gives voice to women in poverty as it traces the moral and cultural structures that help shape the meaning and value of paid work and motherhood among a group of mothers who rely on welfare or a combination of low wage work and welfare to provide and care for their families This portrayal of poor women s lives rarely enters the work life debate over women s choices generally characterized as between mothers who have to work versus those who choose to Judith Hennessy puts low income women front and center to shed light on less explored aspects of the moral and cultural foundations of contemporary work and family conflict from interviews and survey data of a group of low income and poor mothers on and off welfare Hennessey explores the paradox in American society where combining paid work with caring for children continues to generate considerable ambivalence and often guilt on the part of married middle class mothers for devoting too much time to paid work and supposedly neglecting their children While poor and working class mothers who might otherwise rely on welfare are relegated to working at low wage jobs outside the home in fulfillment of their family responsibilities Child Poverty in America Today Barbara A.

Arrighi,David J. Maume,2007-05-30 In a 2004 study by the Annie E Casey Ford and Rockefeller Foundations it was reported that a large number of American families are currently faring poorly in their struggle to provide for themselves Low income and poor families were found to contain one third of all of the children in American working families Low wage jobs without benefits mean that families at or below the poverty line live a precarious existence This four volume set is designed to reveal explicate analyze and assess the effects of an inadequate income on children Each volume contains original essays written by an interdisciplinary roster of contributors The first volume Children and the State addresses policy and legislation that affect low income families One issue that is considered in this volume is the lack of a national housing policy in the United States The second volume Health and Medical Issues includes discussions on the status of Medicaid the lack of mental health services available for low income families and the difficult to access healthcare for the rural poor Volume three Families and Children explores the effects of welfare reform especially the issue of childcare and the increased work expectations of parents Other compelling topics in this volume include low income families and the Family and Medical Leave Act poor children and the internet and the increase in economic insecurity among low income families who increasingly live on credit In the final volume The Promise of Education universal pre kindergarten Head Start and the education of immigrant children are all explored Encyclopedia of Women's Folklore and Folklife Pauline Greenhill,Liz Locke,Theresa A.

Vaughan,2008-12-08 From the stone age to the cyber age women and men have experienced the world differently Out of a cosmos of goddesses and she devils earth mothers and madonnas witches and queens saints and whores a vast body of

Feminism in Community Catherine J. Irving, Leona M. English, 2015-11-02 The authors draw upon their earlier research examining how feminists have negotiated identity and learning in international contexts or multisector environments Feminism in Community focuses on feminist challenges to lead learn and participate in nonprofit organizations as well as their efforts to enact feminist pedagogy through arts processes Internet fora and critical community engagement The authors bring a focused energy to the topic of women and adult learning integrating insights of pedagogy and theory informed practice in the fields of social movement learning transformative learning and community development The social determinants of health spirituality research partnerships and policy engagement are among the contexts in which such learning occurs In drawing attention to the identity and practice of the adult educator teaching and learning with women in the community the authors respond to gender mainstreaming processes that have obscured women as a discernible category in many areas of practice

Decentering the Ivory Tower of Academia Dianne Ramdeholl, 2013-09-04 For many the academy has historically represented privilege and intellectual exclusion for others it has represented an increasingly contested site as marginalized populations have challenged the myth of the ivory tower being a haven of meritocracy and equal opportunities Still others persist in viewing universities as a level playing field a place where people are judged primarily by their ideas and intellectual contributions Ironically alongside these charged conversations of exclusivity privilege and opportunity has occurred the seduction of the ivory tower by market interests sacrificing standards in the interests of ill defined efficiency Much has been written on the increasingly market driven culture of higher education many have called this commodification and instrumentalization the most dangerous ideology of the current historical moment Yet within this landscape there have been scholars willing to make space to critically interrogate higher education in relation to multiple systems of oppression They are working to introduce new perspectives nurturing counter hegemonic knowledges Many have struggled to cocreate and sustain democratic spheres that decenter dominant interests with the aim of a more equitable society They have been part of a larger movement of academic warriors academics with consciences who live out their commitments by subscribing to the notion that scholarship and activism are inextricably intertwined This volume embodies their narratives and issues an open invitation This is 139th volume of this Jossey Bass quarterly report series Noted for its depth of coverage it explores issues of common interest to instructors administrators counselors and policymakers in a broad range of adult and continuing education settings such as colleges and universities extension programs businesses libraries and museums Children Framing Childhoods Wendy Luttrell,2020-02-12 Urban educational research practice and policy is preoccupied with problems brokenness stigma and blame As a result too many people are unable to recognize the capacities and desires of children and youth growing up in working class communities This book offers an alternative angle of vision animated by young people s own photographs videos and perspectives over time It shows how a racially ethnically and linguistically diverse community of young people in Worcester MA used cameras at different ages 10 12 16 and 18 to capture and value the centrality of care in their lives homes and classrooms Luttrell s immersive creative and layered analysis of the young people s images and narratives boldly refutes biased assumptions about working class childhoods and re envisions schools as inclusive imaginative and care ful spaces With an accompanying website featuring additional digital resources childrenframingchildhoods.com this book challenges us to see differently and thus set our sights on a better future Class Concerns: Adult Education and Social Class Tom Nesbit,2005-06-08 This volume brings together leading progressive adult educators to explore how class affects different arenas of adult education practice and discourse It highlights the links between adult education the material and social conditions of daily and working lives and the economic and political systems that underpin them Chapters focus on adult education policies teaching learning and identity formation educational institutions and social movements and the relationships between class gender and race Overall the volume reaffirms the salience of class in shaping the lives we lead and the educational approaches we develop It offers suggestions for adult educators to identify and resist the encroachments of global capitalism and understand the role of education in promoting social equality Finally it suggests that a class perspective can provide an antidote to much of the social amnesia self absorption and apolitical theorizing that pervades current adult education discourse This is the 106th volume of the Jossey Bass quarterly report series New Directions for Adult and Continuing Education Child Poverty in America Today: The promise of education Barbara A. Arrighi,David J. Maume,2007 Since the numbers of poor children have risen following welfare reform a changing economy and a lengthy recession the time is ripe for a collection on child poverty Rebecca West Bernard Schweizer,2002-09-30 With the violent disintegration of Yugoslavia in the 1990s West s Black Lamb and Grey Falcon catapulted her into the limelight and brought her wide critical attention This book offers a much needed assessment of her literary career BOOK JACKET Dono Genevieve Vaughan,2004 Women in Iran: Emerging voices in the women's movement Hammed Shahidian,2002 Extrait tir de amazon.com Blending social scientific theories about feminism social movements and culture with the specifics of the Iranian situation this volume examines changes in the structure of patriarchy from the 1960s to the present by looking at domestic labor employment education politics culture and sexuality Combining personal narratives and socio philosophical discussion Shahidian focuses on policies that shape gender relations primarily on the Islamic government's strategies to re-strengthen patriarchal practices A nascent secular feminism in Iran opts for far reaching changes in gender relations but faces serious internal and external constraints Negotiating Identities in Women's Lives Christine W. Sizemore, 2002-05-30 Women face different psychological issues at different ages But these issues and the experience of confronting them depend on cultural contexts Literary works represent these psychological and social conflicts but the manner of representation varies according to the culture of the author This book brings together feminism postcolonial theory and developmental psychology to analyze how traditional literary forms are transformed by women writing in different cultures The volume discusses works by such well known authors as Margaret Atwood Nadine Gordimer Keri Hulme and Doris Lessing along with fiction by less studied writers such as Barbara Burford Joan Riley and Jessica Anderson By juxtaposing novels from different cultures the volume highlights the new ways in which women renegotiate their identities at different ages and writers reconfigure novelistic forms The first chapter looks at the search for adulthood in Tsitsi Dangarembga's Nervous Conditions set in Zimbabwe and in Margaret Atwood's Cat's Eye set in Canada The second on the search for intimacy analyzes how Barbara Burford's lesbian novella The Threshing Floor and Keri Hulme's evocation of Maori commensalism in The Bone People undo the traditional romance plot Later chapters offer similar examinations of how various life stages such as the searches for place space and integrity are treated in other works

Athanas, 2004 Women and the Gift Economy Genevieve Vaughan, 2007 Women and the Gift Economy A Radically Different Worldview is Possible is an attempt to respond to the need for deep and lasting social change in an epoch of dangerous crisis for all humans cultures and the planet Featuring articles by well known feminist activists and academics this book points to ways to re-create the connections which have been severed between the gift economy women and the economies of Indigenous peoples and to bring forward the gift paradigm as an approach to liberate us from the worldview of the market that is destroying life on the planet Shifting to a gift paradigm can give us the radically different worldview which will make another better world possible Silent Voices Brenda Ayres, 2003-04-30 Some of the greatest English novels were written during the Victorian era and many are still widely read and taught today But many others written during that period have been neglected by scholars and modern readers alike A number of these novels were written by women and were popular when published Moreover they reveal perspectives of 19th century British culture not present in canonized works and therefore revise our understanding of Victorian life and attitudes With the increasing interest in revising Victorian history and gender scholarship especially through the rediscovery of lost texts written by women this book is a timely and much needed study The expert contributors to this volume argue the value of novels by such Victorian women writers as Grace Aguilar Catherine Crowe Charlotte Elizabeth Tonna Annie E Holdsworth Ella Hepworth Dixon Flora Annie Steel Anne Thackeray Sarah Grand Marie Corelli and others Most of the chapters address numerous works by a particular writer Each focuses on different social issues as well though most of them share an interest in gender politics Topics discussed include a 19th century Jewish novelist s navigation through Protestant spirituality the relationship of noncanonical governess novels to class and gender issues and forgotten works by women crime writers Other chapters analyze how women writers impelled social reform and subverted patriarchally defined religious issues
