Power And Conflict Toward A General Theory Violence Cooperation Peace:

Understanding Conflict and Conflict Analysis Ho-Won Jeong, 2008-04-08 effectively fills a long standing void and will no doubt be hailed as a much needed new addition to the literature. This text very much exemplifies the strength of Ho Won Jeong as a theorist and one of the more prolific writers in the larger peace and conflict studies field. The final three chapters on De-escalation Dynamics which includes a brief section on third party intervention on Conciliation Strategies and especially the one on Ending Conflict which provides a range of outcomes beyond the usual focus on third party intervention read mediation epitomizes the value of this new text. Journal of Peace Research an awesome tour d'horizon of modern war violence and confrontation within and between nations. Illustrating via just about every conflict in every corner of the world the author invokes an endless array of insights and interpretations ranging from the micro to the macro beautifully written in a seamless sequence of closely linked and discursive essays. Professor J David Singer University of Michigan. Ho Won Jeong has written an illuminating analysis of the dynamics of conflict. He lays out the tools we have to analyze conflict in a literate and comprehensive way. A valuable book for anyone interested in a more comprehensive understanding of conflict its sources and its de-escalation and termination. Janice Gross Stein Belzberg Professor of Conflict Management Director Munk Centre for International Studies University of Toronto. Jeong has successfully combined behavioral and structural analysis of the dynamics of social conflict. This volume covers the multiple dimensions escalation entrapment de-escalation termination and resolution both of violent and non violent confrontation between adversaries as well as the utility and limitations of external intervention. For students of the social sciences it should serve as an excellent introduction to the complex realities of social conflict. Milton Esman John S Knight Professor of International Studies Emeritus Cornell University. By examining the dynamic forces which shape and re-shape major conflicts this timely book provides students with the knowledge base needed to successfully study conflict sources processes and transformations. Broad in focus it addresses the multiple social political and psychological features central to understanding conflict situations and behaviour. A range of both recent and historical examples including the Arab Israeli conflict the War on Terrorism the Cold War and the civil wars in Sudan former Yugoslavia and Sri Lanka are discussed illustrating the application of concepts and theories essential to the analysis of inter group inter state and intra state conflict and conflict resolution in a wider context. Understanding Conflict and Conflict Analysis is key reading for students of international relations peace and conflict studies conflict resolution international security and international law. Violence in America Ted Robert Gurr, 1989-06. An excellent companion to Violence in America. The History of Crime this volume provides fascinating insight into recently developed theories on the sources of recurring conflict in American society. With their main focus on traumatic issues that have generated group violence and continue to do so the contributors discuss the most intractable source of social and political conflict in our history the resistance of Black Americans to their inferior status and the efforts of White Americans to keep them there. Other intriguing topics include the emergence and decline of political terrorism and the continuation of violent threats from right wing extremists such as the Klan the Order and the Aryan nations The basic assumption underlying all interpretations is that group violence grows out of the dynamics of social change and political contention The idea presented is that the origins processes and outcomes of group violence like the causes and consequences of crime must be understood and dealt with in their social contexts This volume is essential reading for students and professionals in history criminology victimology political science and other related areas SEE QUOTE W VOLUME ONE

Three Faces of Power Kenneth E. Boulding, 1989-08-01 Broadly defining power as the ability to get what we want this volume new in paper identifies three major types of power threat power which is particularly important in political life economic power which derives from the power to produce and exchange goods and depends on the changing distribution of property ownership and integrative power which rests on relationships such as love legitimacy respect affection community and identity Boulding argues that threat power should not be seen as fundamental since it is not effective unless reinforced by economic and integrative power
