Power Privilege The Russian Empire The Soviet Union The Challenge:

Imperial and Soviet Russia David Christian, 1997-06-04 It is impossible to make sense of the modern world without understanding the vast and ultimately unsuccessful experiment with Communism that began in Russia in 1917 Imperial and Soviet Russia offers a coherent interpretation of the turbulent history of the Russian Empire and the Soviet Union during the last two centuries Tracing the roots of the Communist experiment in the peasant world of traditional Russia it shows how the harsh social and economic changes of the nineteenth century created enough dislocation to topple the tsarist regime and bring the Bolsheviks to power in 1917 Power and Privilege David Christian, 1994 Revised edition of a book first published in 1986 This edition has been updated and expanded to include new chapters on the Brezhnev era and perestroika and to take into account the dissolution of the Soviet system The text is well illustrated and is supported by a statistical appendix an annotated bibliography a glossary chronology and an index Russia's Bitter Path to Modernity Alexander

Chubarov, 2001-01-01 Will it follow the model of the Western capitalist democracies as those who applied the economic shock therapy of the early 90s hoped or will it chose its own distinct path of development In this history of Russia from 1917 to the present Alexander Chubarov teases out certain themes developed in his previous book on tsarist Russia The Fragile Empire One of the key factors to Russia's distinctiveness is its halfway location in the center of the Eurasian landmass This lends an inevitability to the traditional cultural schism between Westernizing reformers and Slavophiles Neither approach says Chubarov will work on its own Chubarov offers a balanced view abstaining from narrow ideologically biased assessments and examines the triumphs yes and failures of Russia's Soviet development within Russia's own cultural and historical context Without ever minimizing the brutalities of the Soviet period the state terror the collectivizations the labor camps the deportations of whole peoples Chubarov demonstrates much continuity between tsarist and Soviet Russia with the latter often repeating the former's mistakes Russia says Chubarov cannot turn its back on its Soviet experience Far from being a blind alley or aberrant phase the Soviet period was an organic part of Russia history and was largely successful in turning Russia and most of the other Soviet republics into modern states Träume und Alpträume Dietmar Neutatz, 2013-10-02 Dreimal wurde Russland im 20. Jahrhundert neu erfunden im Zuge der Modernisierung des späten Zarenreichs unter den Kommunisten und nach dem Ende der Sowjetunion Die Träume die mit diesen Aufbrüchen verbunden waren konfrontiert Dietmar Neutatz auf innovative und zugängliche Weise mit der Wirklichkeit die sich oft genug als Alptraum entpuppte Wir wollten das Beste aber es kam wie immer Dieser Satz Viktor Ernomyrdins ist in Russland zum geflügelten Wort geworden weil er als gemeinsamer Nenner vieler Anfänge gelten kann die in Russland im Laufe seiner Geschichte unternommen wurden Die Reformer des späten Zarenreichs die Bolschewiki deren Traum von einer besseren Gesellschaft Millionen Menschen das Leben kostete aber auch die Marktwirtschaftler der neuen Ära nach dem Ende der Sowjetunion Sie alle mussten zusehen wie sehr sich das was herauskam von dem unterschied was sie sich ausgemalt hatten Anschaulich und mit dem Blick für die

Lebenswelten der Menschen schildert Dietmar Neutatz die bewegte Geschichte Russlands seit 1890 und zeigt welche Antworten dort auf die Herausforderungen des langen 20 Jahrhunderts gefunden wurden A History Of Russia Volume 2 Walter G. Journal of South Asian and Middle Eastern Studies, 2003      A History of Russia: Since 1855 Walter Moss, 2002      Strategies and Challenges of Sustainable Development in Eurasia Anastassia Obydenkova, 2024-04-30 This book examines the main environmental challenges and their management in post-Soviet Eurasia and China It uncovers international, national and subnational dimensions in sustainable development and aims to facilitate understanding of pressing environmental problems in the region While supporting the values and goals of sustainable development at the international level, states might employ very different strategies at the national, regional and local levels The goal of this edited book is twofold First it aims to advance our understanding of different strategies, paying special attention to China and Russia at global, national and sub-national levels Thus analysis of their strategies across different levels presents a more rounded picture The second goal is to identify at least a few of the most pressing challenges of sustainable development across post-Soviet Eurasia and China e.g. nuclear supply chain emissions, environmental conflict management and to attempt to understand their triggers, outcomes and potential solutions This book reflects the state of the art before the invasion in Ukraine took place It aspires to develop a better dialogue across different sets of literature in area studies, environmental politics and international relations to improve our understanding of obstacles to sustainable development in Eurasia The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Post Communist Economies

Colonialism: N-Z Melvin Eugene Page, Penny M. Sonnenburg, 2003 A comprehensive reference on colonialism focuses on the politics, economy, culture and society of both colonizers and colonized and features nearly 600 entries from an international team of academic experts along with extensive chronologies of 15 modern empires

World Directory of Minorities Bridget Anderson, James Chin, John Connell, Patrick Costello, Lindsey Crickmay, Chris Dammers, James Ferguson, David Hawk, David McDowall, Anna Matveeva, Julia Maxted, Neil Melvin, Peter O'Neill, Suzanne Pattle, Martyn Rady, Javaid Rehman, Alex Roslin, Nikhil Roy, David Sogge, Bogdan Szajkowski, Carl Wilson, Abebe Zegeye, 1997-01-01 This publication is the first version of the World Directory of Minorities and Indigenous Peoples published in 1997 The full Directory is now available and continually updated on our website The large majority of violent conflicts in the world today are conflicts within states with groups polarized across ethnic and religious divides and not across borders Ethnic, religious and linguistic minorities are often among the poorest of the poor, suffer discrimination and are frequently the victims of human rights abuses Time and time again in the past the United Nations system, governments and even non-governmental organizations (NGOs) working in the field of conflict prevention have failed to promote the human rights of minorities or to take early action to promote cooperation between communities Early action may have prevented the loss of millions of lives in many countries ranging from Rwanda to the former Yugoslavia and from Sri Lanka to Guatemala It is also significant that the Nobel Peace Prize was awarded to the Dalai Lama in 1989 and to Jose

Ramos Horta and Bishop Carlos Belo in 1996 as a result of their peaceful campaigns to promote the rights of their people. The situation of minorities is then a matter of major concern and it is essential that accurate objective and up to date information is made available. This Directory contributes to that process. It is difficult to assess accurately what proportion of the world's population identify themselves as belonging to minority communities. Conservative estimates place this above 10 per cent and some suggest that more than 20 per cent of the world's population belongs to several thousand different minority groups and subgroups. National statistics are often skewed for political reasons and there is no universally accepted definition of minorities. The word has different interpretations in different societies throughout the world while the United Nations General Assembly has not sought to reach a definition beyond that implied in the title of the UN Declaration on the Rights of Persons belonging to National or Ethnic Religious and Linguistic Minorities adopted in December 1992. Minority Rights Group focuses its work on non dominant ethnic religious and linguistic communities whether or not they are numerical minorities. The concept thus relates to any self identified community that is marginalized without power unable to take decisions over its destiny and often experiencing high levels of illiteracy under education and overt or covert discrimination. The basic rights of such communities need protection and promotion. There is however a danger of generalizing about minorities and forgetting the complexity of their social composition including the rural poor urban migrants older people women and children. These groups may be considered as doubly vulnerable. What makes their situation particularly problematic is that there is often a deliberate political policy on the part of majorities and states not to give due regard to the legitimate interests of minorities while members of minorities see their identity as central to their social and economic situation. They are often excluded from political power and decision making in the development process without equal opportunities to secure a better quality of life. One further danger may lie in regarding ethnicities as fixed rather than as the potentially fluid phenomena that they often are. Situational ethnicity does occur and individuals and groups do modify their self identifications depending on circumstances. Please note that the terminology in the fields of minority rights and indigenous peoples rights has changed over time. MRG strives to reflect these changes as well as respect the right to self identification on the part of minorities and indigenous peoples. At the same time after over 50 years work we know that our archive is of considerable interest to activists and researchers. Therefore we make available as much of our back catalogue as possible while being aware that the language used may not reflect current thinking on these issues.

From Theory to Policy combines IR theory and policy in a readable format. Houman A. Sadri discusses the distinctive challenges of the South Caucasus region and offers a survey of relevant IR theories. Armenia Azerbaijan and Georgia are covered in depth since independence. These former Soviet republics have experienced major conflicts and cooperation since independence in the early 1990s The 2008 Russian invasion of Georgia and the Armenian Azeri Wars captured headlines and affected markets but the completion of energy pipelines exposed the complexity of cooperation in connecting the regional and global political economy Conflict and Cooperation in the South Caucasus Region has three major purposes 1 To provide a survey of the major developments of the Caucasus States 2 To analyze the application of IR prominent theories and 3 To offer practical policy options for policymakers seeking to understand the South Caucasus region What does the remainder of the 21st Century hold for Armenia Azerbaijan and Georgian Where are the main sources of threats How can these threats be effectively dealt with
