

What makes Shakespeare's play a tragedy?

Describe some of the elements that you feel make this play a Tragedy? (Give examples from the play, describe some of the "Preventable" events, What causes them to occur?- Don't tell me the plot!

Hint: She drops a handkerchief...what happens? is that preventable?

)

*Note- Emotions, Communication, and Misunderstandings are not preventable! Do not tell me that "Othello just needed to talk to Desdemona" or that "Iago couldn't have prevented everything by not doing the following..." these are Hypotheticals, and are not facts. You must look at the events of the play and find the ones that could have been stopped. In the case of the Handkerchief.

Do not say that "Desdemona shouldn't have dropped it, that's why she's dead now"

One- that's victim blaming and was a totally accident.

Two- Emilia GIVING the handkerchief to her husband is the event. If she didn't do that, then Iago wouldn't have been able to see his plot all the way through. Emilia immediately knows that something is wrong the moment this event happens as well (thinking that her husband may show her love again... and he simply doesn't).

Think of this as if it was a court of law. What are the facts? What are the actually events and/or actions that happen that could have been prevented (avoid hypotheticals, opinions, or conjecture).
