Shan States The British Annexation:

The Shan States and the British Annexation Sao Saimong Mangrai, 196? Birma zwischen "Unabhängigkeit zuerst, Unabhängigkeit zuletzt" Hans-Bernd Zöllner, 2000 Gazetteer of Upper Burma and the Shan States Sir James George Scott, John Percy Hardiman, 1899 Prisms on the Golden Pagoda Thamarr Taman, U Shwe Ohn, Widura Thakin Chit Maung, Robert H. Taylor, Derek Tonkin, Lian H. Sakhong, 2014-08-18 Just as the prismatic effects of glass mosaics or mirrors produce the spectrums of colour that give Myanmar's pagodas their glittering iridescence Prisms on the Golden Pagoda offers a spectrum of views on the country's national reconciliation process Because many of Myanmar's outlying ethnic groups straddle the country's borders with neighbouring countries in South and Southeast Asia and with China the outcome of this process is crucial not only for the country's current domestic liberalization but also for regional geopolitics The editor of this volume Kyaw Yin Hlaing is a US trained academic who currently serves as an advisor to Myanmar's President He has assembled contributions from veteran activists such as the Shan leader U Shwe Ohn the Chin politician Lian H Sakhong Widura Thakin Chit Maung once leader of Burma's Red Socialists and Thamarr Taman formerly a senior civil servant Commentary by the editor and by Robert H Taylor and British diplomat turned activist Derek Tonkin explains the context and significance of these materials By showing how the national reconciliation effort has been viewed inside the country the contributors provide an important insider's perspective on Myanmar's difficult legacies of violence and separatism The Cambridge History of Southeast Asia: Volume 2, The Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries Nicholas Tarling, 1992 Southeast Asia has long been seen as a unity although other terms have been used to describe it Further India Little China the Nanyang The region has had a protracted maritime history Confucianism Buddhism Islam Hinduism Christianity are all represented It has seen a quintet of colonial powers Britain France The Netherlands Spain the United States Most recently it has become one of the fastest growing parts of the world economy The very term Southeast Asia is clearly more than a geographical expression The Cambridge History of Southeast Asia is a multi authored treatment of the whole of mainland and island Southeast Asia from Burma to Indonesia Unlike other histories of the region it is not divided on a country by country basis and is not structured purely chronologically but rather takes a thematic and regional approach to Southeast Asia's history This volume the second and final in the series takes us into the nineteenth and twentieth centuries from the late eighteenth century of the Christian era when most of the region was incorporated into European empires to the complexity and dramatic change of the post World War II period It covers the economic and social life as well as the religious and popular culture of the region as they develop over two centuries The political structures of the region are also closely examined from the insurgencies and rebellions of early this century to the modern Nationalist movements which challenged the control of the colonial powers and led to the formation of independent states Under the editorship of Nicholas Tarling Professor of History at the University of Auckland New Zealand each chapter is well integrated into the whole Professor Tarling has assembled a highly respected team of international scholars who have presented the latest historical research on the region and succeeded in producing a provocative and exciting account of the region's history History of the Shan State Aung Tun (U Sai), 2009 The Shan are the largest of the many national ethnic groups residing in the Union of Myanmar After migrating from their early home in the Hwangho Yangtze region of China they settled in the eastern part of today's Myanmar primarily in the Shan Plateau around the first century AD The Shan dominated the political stage for a few centuries founding three historically important dynasties in the heartland of Myanmar at Pinya Sagaing and Inwa Shan history then merges with that of Myanmar until after World War II and Myanmar's independence from the British when the Shan initiated efforts to establish an autonomous state Sai Aung Tun deftly traces the cultural and political history of the Shan people from their origins to Myanmar independence and up to the constitutional crisis of 1962 His work highlights particularly the political affairs of the Shan state from 1946 to 1962 He details the Second Pang Long Conference of 1947 which brought about the historic agreement of all the nationalities of Myanmar to work together for independence He examines the significant role played by the Shan people in the debate on whether Myanmar should adopt a federal system of administration and their efforts to draft a new constitution He concludes with an account of the military coup of 1962 which effectively sabotaged the constitutional reform process a stalemate that still persists today Unique among Shan histories is the in depth analysis of the Kuomintang incursion into the Shan States in the early 1950s with its political military and economic consequences Sai Aung Tun has amassed a substantial amount of primary materials in the text proper including verbatim excerpts from conference interviews and speeches as well as a rich collection of official documents minutes and reports in the appendixes The historical critique of existing constitutional weaknesses will be of interest to those who advocate the drafting of a new constitution in Myanmar The pleas for unity and goodwill among the ethnic groups made by various leaders nearly half a century ago will resonate with readers today This comprehensive reference work will be an invaluable resource for all Shan scholars and Myanmar observers and an excellent addition to any reference collection on Southeast Asia The Shan States and the British Annexation Titus Maccius Plautus, 1965 The Entomologist's Monthly Magazine , 1892
