The Human Journalist Jim Willis, 2003-10-30 Willis examines the many orientations and perspectives of reporters that gather and present the news of the day Debunking the notion that there are limited perspectives journalists may use Willis examines up to 15 different orientations that reporters bring to their work These perspectives run the gamut from the traditional approach of distancing oneself completely from events and people involved to becoming part of the story

s fabric to ascertain the story's true essence Willis also suggests that for many stories it is wholly appropriate for journalists to feel what a non professional would experience at such an event and to allow those emotions to fuel the reporting and writing of the story Several examples are discussed in detail including the coverage of the bombing of the Alfred P Murrah Federal Building in Oklahoma City on April 19 1995 and the terrorist attacks of September 11 2001

Crisis and Disaster Counseling Priscilla Dass-Brailsford, 2009-07-30 This text provides professionals with the skills needed to effectively assist survivors of disasters including Hurricane Katrina with healing recovery and resilience This comprehensive collection includes powerful direct accounts of first responders and the organizations they represent Taking a practical skill building approach it offers clear and pragmatic recommendations to help providers educators advocates and policymakers better understand how to meet the needs of children families and communities in the aftermath of disasters Key Features Provides a substantial review of the current theoretical and research literature on disasters and disaster response Emphasizes multicultural competency in the aftereffects of disasters Uses a practical skill building approach to develop competencies in crisis work Covers the spiritual dimensions of healing as well as funeral practices to encourage discussion on grief and mourning Intended Audience This book is a must have reference for mental health practitioners For graduate students of counseling psychology or social work Crisis and Disaster Counseling will clarify how theory and research can be applied to practice and policy

Sharing the Front Line and the Back Hills Yael Danieli, 2018-10-26 Sharing the Front Line and the Back Hills points to a crisis facing international institutions and the media who seek to alleviate and report human suffering throughout the world The goals of the editor are to tell the story of thousands of individuals dedicated to helping others and to integrate issues of protection and care into all levels of planning implementing and evaluating international intervention and action The book identifies approaches that have proven useful and explores and suggests future directions
