Sharing The Same Bowl A Socioeconomic History Of Women And Class In Accra Ghana

John Nott

Sharing The Same Bowl A Socioeconomic History Of Women And Class In Accra Ghana:

Sharing the Same Bowl Claire C. Robertson,1990 A study of the socioeconomic changes in the lives of Ga women of Africa    The Handbook of Diverse Economies J.K. Gibson-Graham,Kelly Dombroski,2020-02-28 Economic diversity abounds in a more than capitalist world from worker recuperated cooperatives and anti mafia social enterprises to caring labour and the work of Earth Others from fair trade and social procurement to community land trusts free universities and Islamic finance The Handbook of Diverse Economies presents research that inventories economic difference as a prelude to building ethical ways of living on our dangerously degraded planet With contributing authors from twenty countries it presents new thinking around subjectivity and methodology as strategies for making other worlds possible    Encyclopedia of African History 3-Volume Set KEVIN SHILLINGTON.,2005    "A job, a shop, and loving business" Veronika Fuest,1996

Leben und Arbeit von Frauen, Frauenforschung und Frauenbewegung in Afrika Margarete Maurer,Barbara Smetschka,1993 Teil 4 Region Afrika Kapitel 400 bis 499    Between Feast and Famine John Nott,2025-03-18 Ghana s twentieth century was one of dramatic political economic and environmental change Sparked initially by the impositions of colonial rule these transformations had significant if rarely uniform repercussions for the determinants of good and bad nutrition All across this new and uneven polity food production domestic reproduction gender relations and food cultures underwent radical and rapid change This volatile national history was matched only by the scientific instability of nutritional medicine during these same years Moving between the dry Northern savannah the mineral rich and food secure Southern rainforest and the youthful ever expanding cities Between Feast and Famine is a comparative history of nutrition in Ghana since the end of the nineteenth century At the heart of this story is an analysis of how an uneven capitalist transformation variously affected the lives of women and children It traces the change from sporadic periods of hunger in the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries through epidemics of childhood malnutrition during the twentieth century and into emergent epidemics of diet related non communicable disease in the twenty first century Employing a novel critical approach to historical epidemiology John Nott argues that detailing the co production of science and its subjects in the past is essential for understanding and improving health in the present Praise for Between Feast and Famine This is a tour de force Ghana was an important site for the development of nutritional science in the colonial period as well as a site for its application It is therefore central to the history of a global nutritional science Not only has John Nott pieced together a complex history of that changing science and its application in Ghana in the twentieth century he has also provided a carefully constructed analysis of what was actually happening in terms of food supply health and nutrition in Ghana in this period Few other works manage to do both these things Megan Vaughan Professor of African History and Health Institute of Advanced Studies UCL

Gossip, Markets, and Gender Tuulikki Pietila,2007-02-20 All traders are thieves especially women traders people often assured social anthropologist Tuulikki Pietil during her field work in Kilimanjaro Tanzania in the mid 1990s Equally common were stories about businessmen who had bought a spirit for their enrichment Pietil places these and similar comments in the context of the liberalization of the Tanzanian economy that began in the 1980s when many men and women found themselves newly enmeshed in the burgeoning market economy Even as emerging private markets strengthened the position of enterprising people economic resources did not automatically lead to heightened social position Instead social recognition remained tied to a complex cultural negotiation through stories and gossip in markets bars and neighborhoods With its rich ethnographic detail Gossip Markets and Gender shows how gossip and the responses to it form an ongoing dialogue through which the moral reputations of trading women and businessmen and cultural ideas about moral value and gender are constructed and rethought By combining a sociolinguistic study of talk storytelling and conversation with analysis of gender the political economy of trading and the moral economy of personhood Pietil reveals a new perspective on the globalization of the market economy and its meaning and impact on the local level Winner Aidoo Snyder Prize African Studies Association Women s Caucus Une Ville Libre? Marriage, Divorce, and Sexuality in Colonial Libreville, Gabon, 1849-1960 Rachel Jean-Baptiste,2005 Background Paper on Gender Issues in Ghana Sally Baden,1994 Women and Development in Africa Gideon S. Were,1985 African Research & Documentation ,1984 The End of Slavery in Africa Suzanne Miers,1988 The International Journal of African Historical Studies ,2002 Nigerian Periodicals Index ,1987

Frauenarbeit am Strassenrand Barbara Rocksloh-Papendieck,1988 Biography ,1987 Sierra Leone's Settler Women Traders E. Frances White,1987-04-24 The early part of the nineteenth century saw the establishment of West Africa s Sierra Leone settlement as an important center for the expanding trade economy A surprising number of Sierra Leonean traders were Krio women whose crosscultural background helped them to mediate the contact between European and African markets In Sierra Leone s Settler Women Traders E Frances White has unearthed the fascinating social and economic history of these women traders from the late eighteenth to the mid twentieth century Using a lively mixture of newspaper accounts contemporary observations colonial documents and oral histories this book tells the story of former slaves and captives from Jamaica North America and other areas of West Africa who became successful traders linking their regional trade networks with the international economy The study traces the eventual decline of the Sierra Leone traders influence under the extension of colonial rule and documents the gradual shift of Krio women into professional and semiprofessional occupations Sierra Leone s Settler Women Traders rescues these women from the invisibility that often befalls colonial subcultures and sheds new light on the role of women as cultural brokers across ethnic boundaries resulting in a study that makes a significant contribution to the ongoing debate over the impact of colonial rule on women in Africa

Africa After Gender? Catherine M. Cole,Takiywaa Manuh,Stephan Miescher,2007 Africa After Gender looks at Africa now that gender has come into play to consider how the continent its people and the term itself have changed Leading Africanist historians anthropologists literary critics and political scientists move past simple dichotomies entrenched debates and polarizing identity politics to present an evolving discourse of gender
