Sharks And Shark Products In Prehistoric South Florida:

Sharks and Shark Products in Prehistoric South Florida Laura Kozuch,1993 Discusses how shark remains encountered in archaeological sites in Florida answer questions regarding prehistoric shark fishing technologies as well as the materials and methods of using the remains by the early Indians Trade before Civilization Johan Ling, Richard J. Chacon, Kristian Kristiansen, 2022-09-15 Trade before Civilization explores the role that long distance exchange played in the establishment and or maintenance of social complexity and its role in the transformation of societies from egalitarian to non egalitarian Bringing together research by an international and methodologically diverse team of scholars it analyses the relationship between long distance trade and the rise of inequality The volume illustrates how elites used exotic prestige goods to enhance and maintain their elevated social positions in society Global in scope it offers case studies of early societies and sites in Europe Asia Oceania North America and Mesoamerica Deploying a range of inter disciplinary and cutting edge theoretical approaches from a cross cultural framework the volume offers new insights and enhances our understanding of socio political evolution It will appeal to archaeologists cultural anthropologists conflict theorists and ethnohistorians as well as economists seeking to understand the nexus between imported luxury items and cultural evolution

The Tree That Bends Patricia Riles Wickman, 1999-03-02 Head of the Anthropology and Genealogy Department of the Seminole Tribe of Florida Wickman rejects the view that the Spanish and disease cleared Florida of natives so that Americans expanded into an empty wilderness She describes the genesis of the group of peoples that includes the Creek Seminole and Miccosukee tracing them by their own accounts to a common Mississippian heritage She replaces the rhetoric of conquest with that of survival Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Southeastern Archaeology ,1994 Marine Fisheries Review ,2012

Zooarchaeology Elizabeth J. Reitz, Elizabeth S. Wing, 1999-02-04 Zooarchaeology is a detailed reference manual for students and professional archaeologists interested in identifying and analysing animal remains from archaeological sites Drawing on material from all over the world and covering a time span from the Pleistocene to the nineteenth century AD the emphasis is on animals whose remains inform us about many aspects of the relationships between humans and their natural and social environments especially site formation processes subsistence strategies and paleoenvironments The authors discuss suitable methods and theories for all vertebrate classes and molluscs and include hypothetical examples to demonstrate these There are extensive references and illustrations to help in the process of identification Relational Engagements of the Indigenous Americas Melissa R. Baltus, Sarah E. Baires, 2017-10-16 In

Relational Engagements of the Indigenous Americas Melissa R Baltus and Sarah E Baires critically examine the current understanding of relationality in the Americas covering a diverse range of topics from Indigenous cosmologies to the life world of the Inuit dog The contributors to this wide ranging edited collection interrogate and discuss the multiple natures of relational ontologies touching on the ever changing fluid and varied ways that people both alive and dead relate and related to their surrounding world While the case studies presented in this collection all stem from the New World the Indigenous histories and archaeological interpretations vary widely and the boundaries of relational theory challenge current preconceptions about earlier ways of life in the Indigenous Americas Fishing Brian M. Fagan, 2017-01-01 Before prehistoric humans began to cultivate grain they had three main methods of acquiring food hunting gathering and fishing Hunting and gathering are no longer economically important having been replaced by their domesticated equivalents ranching and farming But fishing humanity's last major source of food from the wild has grown into a worldwide industry on which we have never been more dependent In this history of fishing not as sport but as sustenance archaeologist and writer Brian Fagan argues that fishing rivaled agriculture in its importance to civilization He tours archaeological sites worldwide to show how fishing fed the development of cities empires and ultimately the modern world Jacket flaps Archaeology of Upper Charlotte Harbor, Florida George M. Luer, 2002 The Florida Historical Quarterly, 1993 Bulletin of Primitive Technology, 1995 The Florida Anthropologist, 2006 Contains papers of the Annual Conference on Historic Site Archeology Archaeology of Eastern North America, 1995 Maya Calendar Origins Prudence M. Rice, 2007-12-01 In Maya Political Science Time Astronomy and the Cosmos Prudence M Rice proposed a new model of Maya political organization in which geopolitical seats of power rotated according to a 256 year calendar cycle known as the May This fundamental connection between timekeeping and Maya political organization sparked Rice's interest in the origins of the two major calendars used by the ancient lowland Maya one 260 days long and the other having 365 days In Maya Calendar Origins she presents a provocative new thesis about the origins and development of the calendrical system Integrating data from anthropology archaeology art history astronomy ethnohistory myth and linguistics Rice argues that the Maya calendars developed about a millennium earlier than commonly thought around 1200 BC as an outgrowth of observations of the natural phenomena that scheduled the movements of late Archaic hunter gatherer collectors throughout what became Mesoamerica She asserts that an understanding of the cycles of weather and celestial movements became the basis of power for early rulers who could thereby claim control over supernatural cosmic forces Rice shows how time became materialized transformed into status objects such as monuments that encoded calendrical or temporal concerns as well as politicized becoming the foundation for societal order political legitimization and wealth Rice's research also sheds new light on the origins of the Popol Vuh which Rice believes encodes the history of the development of the Mesoamerican calendars She also explores the connections between the Maya and early Olmec and Izapan cultures in the Isthmian region who shared with the Maya the cosmovision and ideology incorporated into the calendrical systems Bulletin of the Massachusetts Archaeological Society Massachusetts Archaeological Society, 1995 Mounds, Modoc, and Mesoamerica Melvin Leo Fowler, 2000 Journal of Anthropological Research, 2017 Handbook of North American Indians, Volume 14: Southeast William Sturtevant, 1978 Encyclopedic summary of prehistory history cultures and political and social aspects of
