Sheep Who Changed The World:

Wildlife Issues in a Changing World, 1998-08-18 Students of conservation encounter some of the most complex issues on our planet. The resolution of existing problems becomes more complex when humans create further stresses on the natural balance. Moulton and Sanderson brought the challenging issues in wildlife conservation into greater clarity in Wildlife Issues in a Changing World. The Second Edition of this definitive reference focuses more closely on the causes of wildlife issues. The examination of Jared Diamond's Evil Quartet, the four principal causes of extinction, provides a framework for categorizing and resolving these issues. The authors encourage the use of the scientific method as a basis for resolution, especially where environmental laws have failed. The three new chapters provide further counterpoints to preconceived notions. A two-part history of wildlife in the U.S. shows how wildlife had already been decimated by the year 1900. Can Humans Manage Wildlife? questions efforts to revive endangered species, acts which may inadvertently jeopardize the survival of other life. Viewing the natural order from prehistoric times to the present, Wildlife Issues in a Changing World, Second Edition, gives students and instructors an all-encompassing introduction to past relations between humans and nature, explorations of current threats to species and their habitats, and recent novel solutions where humanity and industry have made adjustments to protect the natural order. Professionals will also find invaluable reminders of the importance of their work, the continuation and endurance of wildlife everywhere on Earth.

World Social Science Report 2013 Changing Global Environments
International Social Science Council, United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, 2013-11-15 This book represents a comprehensive overview of the field, gathering the thoughts and expertise of hundreds of social scientists from around the world. The Changing Food Law Landscape Siva Barathi (Sharl) Marimuthu, Anu Lähteenmäki-Uutela, 2024-12-16 This book analyses the current debates within food system governance, covering different aspects of food systems from production to consumption, as well as different fields of law from human rights law to environmental law. Recognizing that the law, in interacting with multiple disciplines, plays a major role in setting binding targets for sustainable innovation and business transformation, it brings together contributors from a wide range of professions, including agriculture law and business, to examine the dimensions of food systems and the challenges in transforming them. The contributors to this book examine some of the most significant aspects of food law and regulation, including the effects of global warming, intellectual property rights and human rights, as well as local and international viewpoints on food safety, information sharing and systems transformation. They consider the history and present challenges of food production, the different approaches to addressing the issues faced, and the factors of human biology, psychology, cultural norms and religion that shape our food environments. The analysis of knowledge values and institutions provides a holistic analysis of human food systems. Topics such as regenerative agriculture, novel and alternative foods and health enhancing foods are also covered With its interdisciplinary approach this book will interest researchers in agricultural law food policy environmental law transdisciplinary food studies and food science Changing Planet, Changing Health Paul R.
