Isolation Harry Coccossis, Peter Nijkamp, 2012-12-06 As European countries pursue a common effort towards establishing a European Union various isolated and consequently disadvantaged regions are likely to face increasing competitive pressures due to their peripheral location To assist such areas regional national and supranational bodies put much effort into developing transport and communication networks and linkages in order to ensure that such less favoured areas are better integrated in the broader European social and economic development process This book addresses the issue of lagging development in various mainly central and southern European regions which are in a disadvantageous position as a result of their isolated location The persisting problems of social and economic development in several European Union areas e.g. islands mountains border areas has turned the attention of policy makers to the critical importance of transport and telecommunication linkages The purpose of the book is to bring into perspective the role of transport and communications in regional policy for peripheral areas This subject is currently of high priority since the European Union through the Structural Funds interventions i.e. the Community Support Frameworks and the new Cohesion Fund relies heavily on transport and communication infrastructure investments to assist areas which are at a disadvantage due to their peripheral location and isolation Furthermore as the Union considers enlargement some of these issues might be of wide European interest Port

Infrastructure Finance Hilde Meersman, Eddy Van de Voorde, Thierry Vanelander, 2014-06-20 This book provides an expert analysis of alternative investments routes and the investment strategies available to the major port players and is a much needed guide to expanding the investor base for private debt funding of projects from loan providers to bond investors Port infrastructure investments are vitally important to all ports throughout the world without these investments the competitive position of ports and of the dependent logistics sector will deteriorate National regional governments and the local port authorities are no longer a guaranteed source of sufficient financial input to meet the continuous port infrastructure investment needs of major ports It is therefore increasingly crucial for ports to broaden their strategies and secure alternative streams of investment This book provides expert insight into areas of port infrastructure finance across

Sanders, 1987 In the past twenty years the study of urban politics has shifted from a predominant concern with political culture and ethos to a preoccupation with political economy particularly that of urban development Urban scholars have come to recognize that cities are shaped by forces beyond their boundaries From that focus have emerged the views that cities are clearly engaged in economic competition that market processes are shaped by national policy decisions sometimes intentionally and sometimes inadvertently and that the costs and benefits of economic growth are unevenly distributed But what else needs to be said about the policies and politics of urban development To supplement prevailing theories The Politics of Urban Development argues that the role of local actors in making development decisions merits closer study Whatever the structural constraints politics still matters Collectively the essays provide ample evidence that local government officials and other community actors do not simply follow the imperatives that derive from the national political economy they are able to assert a significant degree of influence over the shared destiny of an urban population The impact of the collection is to heighten awareness of local political practices and of how and why they make a difference
