Going the Distance David R. Jarraway, 2003-01-01 This bold new theoretical study explores dissident subjectivity that is the struggle for unique authorial identity in American literary discourse that has existed according to David Jarraway since the Romantics From Emerson's Experience remarking upon the focal distance within the actual horizon of human life to Toni Morrison's Nobel Prize address sanctifying the artist's sophisticated privileged space American literature has continuously recognized a necessary distance the gap between culturally accepted ideas of selfhood and the intractable reality of the self's never completed construction in time Jarraway's fascinating examination of modernist poets shows that engaging with this artistic space or going the distance empowers writers and their readers to create and perceive identities that resist the frozen certainties of conventional gender sexual and social roles Employing this theory with grace and precision Jarraway ranges through the dissident process in Gertrude Stein the cultural criticism of William Carlos Williams the deferred racialism of Langston Hughes the queer perversities of Frank O'Hara and the spectral lesbian poetics of Elizabeth Bishop Bolstered further by insights from the pragmatism of William James through the cultural critique of Theodor Adorno to the queer theory of Judith Butler the author challenges his audience with politically engaged insistence on the life affirming potentialities of human subjectivity in literature His passionate conclusion demonstrates the liberating fluidity of self made possible by feminist chartings of modern identity's depths Lucidly composed theoretically sophisticated and up to the minute Going the Distance painstakingly recovers the dissident American subjective in modernist literary discourse within its fullest cultural context Jarraway's readings are a major contribution to poetry scholarship and to cultural studies that will provoke further investigations into the history of subjectivity in American literature as a whole

Bourdieu and Postcolonial Studies Raphael Dalleo, 2016 The collected essays demonstrate the ways postcolonial studies has adapted Bourdieu's sociology of literature to examine the institutions that structure the creation dissemination and reception of world literature the foundational values of postcolonialism as a field and its sometimes ambivalent relationship to the popular and the ways concepts like habitus cultural capital consecration and anamnesis can be deployed in reading postcolonial texts

Die Werkzeugkiste der Cultural Studies Udo Göttlich, Lothar Mikos, Rainer Winter, 2015-09-15 Cultural Studies haben sich nach ihren Anfängen in Birmingham zu einem transnationalen und transdisziplinären Projekt entwickelt Auch im deutschsprachigen Raum fand eine breite Rezeption statt Wissenschaftler aus verschiedenen Disziplinen ließen sich von Cultural Studies inspirieren und bedienen sich aus deren theoretischer und methodologischer Werkzeugkiste um diese Anstöße produktiv umzusetzen Dieser Band dokumentiert sowohl den Einfluss der Cultural Studies als auch ihre engagierte Fortführung im deutschsprachigen Raum Dabei wird deutlich welche Bereicherung sie für die hiesigen Sozial und

Kulturwissenschaften darstellen. Zugleich zeigt sich die Anschlussfähigkeit der Cultural Studies in Deutschland und Österreich an die internationale Diskussion. Postcolonial Thought and Social Theory Julian Go, 2016-09-23. Social scientists have long resisted the radical ideas known as postcolonial thought while postcolonial scholars have critiqued the social sciences for their Eurocentric focus. However in Postcolonial Thought and Social Theory Julian Go attempts to reconcile the two seemingly contradictory fields by crafting a postcolonial social science. Contrary to claims that social science is incompatible with postcolonial thought, this book argues that the two are mutually beneficial, drawing upon the works of thinkers such as Franz Fanon, Amílcar Cabral, Edward Said, Homi Bhabha and Gayatri Spivak. Go concludes with a call for a third wave of postcolonial thought emerging from social science and surmounting the narrow confines of disciplinary boundaries.

Towards a Transcultural Future: Literature and Society in a 'Post'-Colonial World 1, 2004-01-01. This collection has one central theoretical focus: viz. stock-taking essays on the present and future status of postcolonialism, transculturalism, nationalism and globalization. These are complemented by special angles of entry, e.g. dharmic ethics and by considerations of the global impact of technology, African literary studies and the Internet. Further essays have a focus on literary-cultural studies in Australia, the South Asian experience and New Zealand, ecopoetics, a Central European migrant perspective on the nation, the unravelling of literary nationalism, transplantation and the trope of translation. The thematic umbrella finally covers studies of such topics as translation and interculturalism, the transcendental in Australian and Indian fiction, African Shakespeares, Canadian narrative and First Nations story templates, anglophone/francophone relations, the writing and rewriting of crime fiction in Africa and the USA, utopian fiction in Quebec and syncretism in post-apartheid South African theatre. Some of the authors treated in detail are Janet Frame, Kafka, Kassabova, Elizabeth Knox, Annamarie Jagose, Denys Trussell, David Malouf, Patrick White, Yasmine Gooneratne, Raja Rao, Robert Kroetsch, Thomas King, Chester Himes, Julius Nyerere, Ayi Kwei Armah, Leopold S. Senghor, Simon Njami, Abourahman Waberi, Lueen Conning, Nuruddin Farah, Athol Fugard, Frantz Fanon, Julia Kristeva, Shakespeare. The collection is rounded off by creative writing, prose, poetry and drama by Bernard Cohen, Jan Kemp, Vincent O'Sullivan, Andrew Sant and Sujay Sood. Transkulturelle Begegnungen Cecile Sandten, Martina Schrader-Kniffki, Kathleen Starck, 2007. Der vorliegende Band nähert sich dem Phänomen kultureller Mischung aus interdisziplinärer Perspektive. Um den Stand der Diskussion um den in Mode geratenen Begriff Transkulturalität in ihrer Heterogenität zu erfassen, stehen unterschiedliche Auslegungen und Gewichtungen dieses Konzepts im Sinne seiner Anwendbarkeit und kreativen Weiterentwicklung im Mittelpunkt. Die versammelten Beiträge liefern Fallstudien und decken gleichsam die Bereiche der Romanistik und der Anglistik/Amerikanistik sowie der Sprach- und der Literaturwissenschaft aus unterschiedlichen Blickwinkeln ab. Gemessen an der Vielfalt der Ausprägungen des Konzeptes und der Bereiche, in welchen Transkulturalität verhandelt wird, ist hier eine durchaus sinnvolle Verknüpfung bislang voneinander getrennter Disziplinen gelungen. Diese weisen auf eine Aufhebung institutionell festgelegter Fachgrenzen und damit einen weiteren Schritt in

Richtung eines transdisziplinären Ansatzes der Diskussion des Konzeptes Transkulturalität hin Archaeology Under Fire Lynn Meskell, 2002-01-04 The Middle East and Eastern Mediterranean are some of the most politically charged regions in which archaeology is implicated Historically they played a formative role in the birth of archaeology as a discipline Archaeology Under Fire addresses archaeology's role in current political issues including the ethnic cleansing in the Balkans the division of Cyprus and the continued destruction of Beirut The contributors consider the positive role of the past as a means of reconciliation whether it be in Turkey Israel and the Gulf They advocate a responsible global archaeology and an awareness of contemporary issues can only enhance this aim Emotions Jennifer Harding, E. Deidre Pribram, 2009 Brings together some of the best examples of the work on emotions in cultural studies and related disciplines This book differentiates between theoretical traditions and ways of understanding emotion in relation to culture subjectivity and power mapping an academic territory and providing an overview of cultural studies and studies of emotion BOOK JACKET The Global Circulation of African Fashion Leslie W. Rabine, 2002-11 Transnational movements of people cultural objects images and identities have played a vital role in creating an informal global network for African fashion from clothing designers and tailors to dyers and jewellery makers This book traces the changing meanings aesthetics and histories of the thriving informal African fashion network through its multicultural cross roads of Los Angeles Kenya and Senegal In African communities designers compete with each other to survive and often travel long distances in search of new markets Such competition and bridging of cultures fuels creativity and innovation From adapting western fashion magazines to combining ethnic designs with dramatic new colours and techniques artisans weave a variety of borrowed influences into their traditional practices Rabine explores the interrelationship and tensions that exist between these popular and mass cultures including the ways that global circulation threatens to destroy artisanal skills With its unique insights into the operation and ethics of these global networks this book offers a timely contribution to contemporary studies of fashion transnationalism and globalization Figure Farida Batool, 2004 The Legend of the Golden Boat Andrew Walker, 1999 Based on extensive travel in the upper Mekong hinterland this volume is a fascinating account of the lives of the transport operators traders entrepreneurs and government officials Postcolonial theory Dieter Riemenschneider, 2004 Ariel, 2017 Blairism and the War of Persuasion Deborah Lynn Steinberg, Richard Johnson, 2004 Tony Blair's use of the state to impose and manage the United Kingdom's global and individual identities which not only defines New Labour but is doctrine in its own right is analyzed in this look at the Contemporary Labour Party Compared to Margaret Thatcher's market led policies driven by social authoritarianism Blairism is a political construct that persuades with hopes of social progressivism while maintaining the necessary disciplines of global capital Showing how Blairism invites trust and advocates dialogue but hollows out party democracy to pursue pre set objectives this critique clarifies Blair's agenda in order to contest its forms of passive revolution with active construction of alternatives Postcolonial Theory B. J. Moore-Gilbert, 1997 Much controversy has recently come to surround the status and value of postcolonial modes of cultural analysis Postcolonial theory has been challenged on several fronts on its interdisciplinary competence on the politics of its institutional location and its implicit will to have power over other kinds of postcolonial analysis many of which have been established for much longer than postcolonial theory itself The ensuing debate has often become so heated even personalized that the issues at stake have been obscured In what is the most comprehensive and accessible survey of the field to date Bart Moore Gilbert systematically examines the objections that have been raised against postcolonial theory revealing the simplifications and exaggerations on both sides of the argument He provides a detailed institutional history of the ways in which the relationship between culture and colonialism was traditionally studied in the West then traces the emergence of alternative forms of postcolonial analysis of such questions He gives an extremely careful presentation of the complex and elusive work of the three principal representatives of postcolonial theory Gayatri Spivak Edward Said and Homi Bhabha and considers the criticisms they have faced from an alleged Eurocentrism to an obfuscatory prose style And he assesses the overlaps and differences between postcolonial theory and other forms of postcolonial criticism Finally he considers the ways in which postcolonial analysis may be connected with different histories of oppression and looks at how such a heterogeneous theory can be reconciled with political questions of solidarity and alliance in the continuing struggle for cultural decolonization

Ways of Belonging Andrea Daska, 1999 This is a wonderful book the product of much love, sense and sensibility and dedication Its starting point is the Americanization of writer Bharati Mukherjee Its thesis is that in Mukherjee's case Americanization or the gradual integration into American society of a student who originated from India took the form of a trauma of self transformation It was an experience that has also found a lasting expression in Mukherjee's fiction

Postcolonial Framework "This Shipwreck of Fragments" Li-Chun Hsiao, 2009 In the light of and in response to the popular perception of the Caribbean as an epitome of cultural hybridity and improvisation this book seeks to further examine Caribbean cultural identities along the lines of race class nationalism and history Drawing on a variety of genres of literature and popular music the present volume includes not only essays that stress the shaping and reshaping of Afro Caribbean cultural identities and the significance of hybridization but also those that think against the grain and pursue questions which have not received enough critical attention This latter task can be seen in the attempt to probe the phenomenon that the Caribbean's image as a tropical getaway in metropolitan popular imaginations tends to eclipse its troubled pasts traumatic memories and current and recurrent problems which elude the rhetoric of cultural hybridity presupposing instead a certain non conflictual diversity or racial equality in the relatively innocuous realm of culture Although nuanced among themselves on certain issues the individual chapters together highlight a body of work which is distinct from the bulk of Anglo American academic productions on the Caribbean as the majority of the textual and cultural materials treated here come from either the Hispanic or Francophone Caribbean
