Postmodern/Postwar and After Jason Gladstone,Andrew Hoberek,Daniel Worden,2016-07 Within the past ten years the field of contemporary American literary studies has changed significantly Following the turn of the twenty first century and mounting doubts about the continued explanatory power of the category of postmodernism new organizations have emerged book series have been launched journals have been created and new methodologies periodizations and thematics have redefined the field Postmodern Postwar and After aims to be a field defining book a sourcebook for the new and emerging critical terrain that explores the postmodern postwar period and what comes after The first section of essays returns to the category of the post modern and argues for the usefulness of key concepts and themes from postmodernism to the study of contemporary literature or reevaluates postmodernism in light of recent developments in the field and historical and economic changes in the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries These essays take the contemporary abandonments of postmodernism as an occasion to assess the current states of postmodernity After that the essays move to address the critical shift away from postmodernism as a description of the present and toward a new sense of postmodernism as just one category among many that scholars can use to describe the recent past The final section looks forward and explores the question of what comes after the postwar postmodern Taken together these essays from leading and emerging scholars on the state of twenty first century literary studies provide a number of frameworks for approaching contemporary literature as influenced by yet distinct from postmodernism The result is an indispensable guide that seeks to represent and understand the major overhauling of postwar American literary studies that is currently underway

Posting the Male, 2022-06-08 The essays collected in Posting the Male examine representations of masculinity in post war and contemporary British literature focussing on the works of writers as diverse as John Osborne Joe Orton James Kelman Ian Rankin Carol Ann Duffy Alan Hollinghurst Ian McEwan Graham Swift and Jackie Kay The collection seeks to capture the current historical moment of crisis at which masculinity loses its universal transparency and becomes visible as a performative gender construct Rather than denoting just one fixed polarised point on a hierarchised axis of strictly segregated gender binaries masculinity is revealed to oscillate within a virtually limitless spectrum of gender identities characterised not by purity and self containment but by difference and alterity As the contributors demonstrate rather than a gender in crisis millennial manhood is a gender in transition Patriarchal strategies of man making are gradually being replaced by less exclusionary patterns of self identification inspired by feminism Men have begun to recognise themselves as gendered beings and as a result masculinity has been set in motion
