Postcards From Kew:

Love from Kew Sophie Shillito, 2021-02-14 Bringing together messages from vintage Kew postcards with new prose reflections Love from Kew is a one of a kind look at the enduring needs for human connection with each other as much as the natural world In 2020 the United Kingdom recognized the 150th anniversary of the official introduction of postcards At the peak of their popularity in the early twentieth century more than two million postcards a day were mailed in the UK One could view postcards as the texts or tweets of their day brief communiques that provide glimpses into the lives of others with stories that are often as funny or poignant as they are cryptic These messages were often sent to family or friends back home from a site of special importance like for example the Royal Botanic Gardens Kew Love from Kew is a valentine to these missives of the past placing vintage Kew postcards and the messages written on them alongside new prose reflections from multi genre writer Sophie Shillito The decades old correspondence and Shillito's wonderstruck contemporary reflections offer a meditation on how these Kew postcards speak to the eternal human need for both personal connection and communion with the natural world In today's world of environmental precarity and increased isolation these themes are just as relevant as they were when these antique postcards were first penned Love from Kew is a fascinating and heartfelt blend of social and visual history observed through the singular lens of Kew Gardens Postcards from Kew, 1989 Kew, 1991

KEW GARDENS BOTANICAL ART POSTCARDS THE ROYAL BOTANIC GARDENS KEW., 2024 Postcards Lydia Pyne, 2021-10-13 A global exploration of postcards as artifacts at the intersection of history science technology art and culture Postcards are usually associated with banal holiday pleasantries but they are made possible by sophisticated industries and institutions from printers to postal services When they were invented postcards established what is now taken for granted in modern times the ability to send and receive messages around the world easily and inexpensively Fundamentally they are about creating personal connections links between people places and beliefs Lydia Pyne examines postcards on a global scale to understand them as artifacts that are at the intersection of history science technology art and culture In doing so she shows how postcards were the first global social network and also here in the twenty first century how postcards are not yet extinct

Annett,2004 Nestled at the foot of East River Mountain in the southern tip of West Virginia Bluefield calls itself Nature s Air Conditioned City and is a place of great cultural industrial and natural wealth The early to mid 1900s were a booming time for the city thanks to coal mining and the Norfolk and Western Railway For the many people who lived in or traveled through the region during that era postcards provided a simple and convenient way to send both personal correspondence and business communications Today Bluefield continues to change and evolve but maintains a strong sense of history with many of its buildings and homes listed on the National Register of Historic Places The Dictionary of Picture Postcards in Britain, 1894-1939 A. W. Coysh,Arthur Wilfred Coysh,1996 Full of relevant information this book covers the whole field of picture postcard production in Britain It is an indispensable reference to a vast amount of collectable pictorial material

Vocabulary of Technical Military Terms James Alexander Liebmann,1896 Modernism, Media, and Propaganda Mark Wollaeger,2008-09-15 Though often defined as having opposite aims means and effects modernism and modern propaganda developed at the same time and influenced each other in surprising ways The professional propagandist emerged as one kind of information specialist the modernist writer as another Britain was particularly important to this double history By secretly hiring well known writers and intellectuals to write for the government and by exploiting their control of new global information systems the British in World War I invented a new template for the manipulation of information that remains with us to this day Making a persuasive case for the importance of understanding modernism in the context of the history of modern propaganda Modernism Media and Propaganda also helps explain the origins of today s highly propagandized world Modernism Media and Propaganda integrates new archival research with fresh interpretations of British fiction and film to provide a comprehensive cultural history of the relationship between modernism and propaganda in Britain during the first half of the twentieth century From works by Joseph Conrad to propaganda films by Alfred Hitchcock and Orson Welles Mark Wollaeger traces the transition from literary to cinematic propaganda while offering compelling close readings of major fiction by Virginia Woolf Ford Madox Ford and James Joyce The British Journal of Photography ,1988 The Garden ,1990 The Parliamentary Debates Great Britain.
