Schlaeger, 2005 Postcolonial Contraventions Laura Chrisman, 2003 This book provides unique insider critical insights into the ever growing field of Postcolonial Studies from one of the field's original architects Caribbean Transnationalism

Ruben S. Gowricharn, 2006-05-04 Exploring the old and new forms of transnationalism stemming from the Caribbean Caribbean Transnationalism challenges present concepts about diaspora brings into perspective new forms of transnationalism and offers new perspectives on social cohesion in plural societies The novelty of this collection of essays by experts from a wide range of disciplines consists not only of the theoretical clarity it offers with regard to issues related to diaspora transnationalism and social cohesion but also of the ample attention given to the intra regional transnational communities and the discussion of ethnification for social cohesion Caribbean Transnationalism calls into question traditional views held in the expanding fields of migration transnationalism and social cohesion making this an important book for scholars and students interested in the study of the social sciences and Caribbean studies South Africa, Shakespeare, and Post-colonial Culture Natasha Distiller, 2005 This book works within the frameworks of post colonial studies and cultural studies in order to theorise and then to illustrate the possibilities for cultural creation in the context of oppression It re works the concept of hybridity and the philosophies of liberalism and humanism in order to suggest that these important and much contested terrains within critical theory have specific potential in a South African context This book applies these theoretical points to a specific trajectory of writing in English in the region which it finds embodied in the writing of Solomon Plaatje Peter Abrahams Es'kia Mphahlele Bloke Modisane and Can Themba By seeking to unlock the complex and sometimes contradictory ways in which Shakespeare is useful to these writers the book addresses the traditional imbalance of knowledges in Shakespeare Studies by conceptualizing the presence of Shakespeare in these texts as indicative of an act of cultural appropriation and political resistance Ultimately the book makes a contribution to post colonial and cultural studies engagements with how culture works how resistance is inscribed and what role theory can play in the neo colonial world

Anglia, 2008 New Perspectives on the Black Atlantic Bénédicte Ledent, Pilar Cuder Domínguez, 2012 This collection of essays attempts to expand the notion of the Black Atlantic beyond its original racial geographical linguistic and cultural borders while acknowledging its remarkable ability to disturb established historical truths and to go beyond traditional dichotomies thereby providing an essential tool for cross cultural understanding It is divided into four sections each of them dealing with a different approach to the question of the Black Atlantic Definitions touches on the various limitations of Gilroy's original concept. Readings focuses on how the Black Atlantic can be productively used in readings of certain literary texts. Practices shifts towards the practical applications of the concept in order to explore the impact it has had on academic disciplines and examine to what extent it may have altered their epistemology and working procedures. Finally Dialogues engages with the Black Atlantic from the perspectives of two creative writers whose work includes transatlantic themes and characters. Research in African Literatures, 2007 Vol 1 spring 1970 include A Bibliography of American doctoral dissertations on African literature compiled by Nancy J Schmidt. Black British Literature Mark Stein, 2004. In this fascinating book Mark Stein examines black British literature centering on a body of work created by British based writers with African South Asian or Caribbean cultural backgrounds. Linking black British literature to the bildungsroman genre this study examines the transformative potential inscribed in and induced by a heterogeneous body of texts. Capitalizing on their plural cultural attachments these texts portray and purvey the transformation of post imperial Britain. Stein locates his wide ranging analysis in both a historical and a literary context. He argues that a cross cultural and interdisciplinary approach is essential to understanding post colonial culture and society. The book relates black British literature to ongoing debates about cultural diversity and thereby offers a way of reading a highly popular but as yet relatively uncharted field of cultural production. With the collapse of its empire with large scale immigration from former colonies and with ever increasing cultural diversity Britain underwent a fundamental makeover in the second half of the twentieth century. This volume cogently argues that black British literature is not only a commentator on and a reflector of this makeover but that it is simultaneously an agent that is integral to the processes of cultural and social change. Conceptualizing the novel of transformation this comprehensive study of British black literature provides a compelling analytic framework for charting these processes. Southern Postcolonialisms Sumanyu Satpathy, 2009. Southern Postcolonialisms is an anthology of critical essays on new literary representations from the Global South that seeks to reinvent reorient the ideological disciplinary aesthetic and pedagogical thrust of Postcolonial Studies in accordance with the new and shifting politico economic realities transactions between the North and the South as well as within the Global South in an era of globalization. Since the emergence of Postcolonial Theory in the 1980s the shape of the world has changed dramatically. Old Cold War boundaries have shifted in the wake of the collapse of communism. Globalization on an unprecedented scale has dramatically changed the meaning of time and space. The rise of the US as a new imperial power has profound implications for the world order. In the South new emerging markets have challenged the older division of industrial e first world e tm and non industrial e third world e tm. In most parts of the world the academy is struggling to keep up with these developments. One result has been a major transnational turn in the humanities and social sciences. Terms like e world history e tm e globalization e tm e glocalization e tm and e transnationalism e tm now dominate academic agendas worldwide. These changing circumstances raise far reaching questions. What does the new emerging world order mean for established models of postcolonial theory Is postcolonialism as a field of study being overtaken by models of globalization and transnationalism What implications do the new configurations in the South have for postcolonial theory This volume drawn from a major literary conference at Delhi University provides a set of perspectives on these questions With a majority of contributions by scholars from the South these research articles have a dual focus e they revisit older debates on postcolonial theory while suggesting new perspectives and directions

Interdisciplinary Measures Graham Huggan, 2008 Where now for postcolonial studies That is the central question in this new volume from one of the field s most original thinkers Huggan s answer is interdisciplinarity and here he sets out a series of conversations between literary studies and other disciplines notably geography environmental studies history and anthropology Huggan aims to establish an alternative trajectory through the field of postcolonial literary cultural studies that is alert to similar kinds of work being done in and across other disciplines and reflects on possible futures for postcolonial studies that move beyond

Journal of Vietnamese Studies , 2008 Complexions of Race Fritz Gysin, Cynthia S. Hamilton, 2005 Complexions of Race The African Atlantic reveals the ways in which conceptions of race have informed and sometimes over determined readings of American experience The first section is concerned with the geography of racial identity with race place and with mapping The second explores the way racial identities are constructed reconstructed or enforced through performance The final section explores the way literary forms generic constructions linguistic strategies and critical practices construct re construct or reposition identities assigned or claimed on the basis of race

New Formations , 2005 Afrindian Fictions Pallavi Rastogi, 2008 In the first published book length study of Indian fiction in South Africa Pallavi Rastogi demonstrates that Indians desire South African citizenship in the fullest sense of the word a longing for inclusion that is asserted through an Afrindian identity Afrindian Fictions Diaspora Race and National Desire in South Africa examines Afrindian identity and blurs the racial binary of black and white interaction in South African studies as well as unsettles the East West paradigm of migration dominant in South Asian diaspora studies While offering incisive analyses of the work of the most important South African Indian writers today Ahmed Essop Farida Karodia Achmat Dangor Imraan Coovadia and Praba Moodley among others the author also places South African Indian fiction within broader literary traditions Rastogi s project of recovery shines a light on the rich but neglected literature by South African Indians The book closes with interviews conducted with six key South African Indian writers Here the authors not only reflect on their own writing but also comment on many of the issues raised in the book itself particularly the role of Indians in South Africa today and the status of South African Indian writing Afrindian Fictions is a valuable introduction to South African Indian literature as well as a major interrogation of some of the foundational notions of post colonial literary studies
