Writing South Africa Derek Attridge, Rosemary Jolly, 1998-01-22 During the final years of the apartheid era and the subsequent transition to democracy South African literary writing caught the world's attention as never before Writers responded to the changing political situation and its daily impact on the country's inhabitants with works that recorded or satirised state enforced racism explored the possibilities of resistance and rebuilding and creatively addressed the vexed question of literature's relation to politics and ethics Writing South Africa offers a window on the literary activity of this extraordinary period that conveys its range going well beyond a handful of world renowned names and its significance for anyone interested in the impact of decolonisation and democratisation on the cultural sphere It brings together for the first time discussions by some of the most distinguished South African novelists poets and dramatists with those of leading commentators based in South Africa Britain and North America

Postmodernism in Arthur Miller's Long-Late Period Ciarán Leinster, 2025-06-16 Having made his reputation in the 1940s and 50s Arthur Miller continued to write into the twenty first century producing his final play in 2004 the year before his death With little critical academic or theatrical attention being paid to his plays after 1968's The Price he had one of the longest late periods in literary history This book brings new attention to Miller's writing from this period analysing 5 plays The Archbishop's Ceiling Some Kind of Love Story Clara and The Ride Down Mt Morgan Resurrection Blues and a host of essays to highlight the influence of postmodernism on his work Using relevant novels and films these plays are situated within the context of their cultural moments to show that Miller remained an engaged aware and contemporary writer until his death

Game provides limits boundaries and borders to play thereby both limiting and paradoxically enabling meaningful play This study does not claim that literature is a game in the strong sense it chooses instead to concentrate on the gamelike shape the gamefulness that literary postmodernism assumes      Modern/postmodern Silvio Gaggi,1989 This survey of 20th century arts and ideas attempts to identify underlying epistemological aesthetic and ethical issues The author emphasizes how works from diverse media relate to one another and how their relationships affect the contemporary artistic and philosophical climate      Adorno und Derrida, oder, Wo liegt das ende der Moderne? Holger Mathias Briel,1993 Der hier vorliegende Text
