Postmodern Reader:

The Cambridge Companion to Postmodernism Steven Connor, 2004-07-15 The Cambridge Companion to Postmodernism offers a comprehensive introduction to postmodernism The Companion examines the different aspects of postmodernist thought and culture that have had a significant impact on contemporary cultural production and thinking Topics discussed by experts in the field include postmodernism's relation to modernity and its significance and relevance to literature film law philosophy architecture religion and modern cultural studies The volume also includes a useful guide to further reading and a chronology This is an essential aid for students and teachers from a range of disciplines interested in postmodernism in all its incarnations Accessible and comprehensive this Companion addresses the many issues surrounding this elusive enigmatic and often controversial topic

The Illicit Joyce of Postmodernism Kevin J. H. Dettmar, 1996 For nearly three quarters of a century the modernist way of reading has been the only way of reading James Joyce useful yes and powerful but like all frameworks limited This book takes a leap across those limits into postmodernism where the pleasures and possibilities of an unsuspected Joyce are yet to be found Kevin J H Dettmar begins by articulating a stylistics of postmodernism drawn from the key texts of Roland Barthes Mikhail Bakhtin and Jean Fran ois Lyotard Read within this framework Dubliners emerges from behind its modernist facade as the earliest product of Joyce's proto postmodernist sensibility Dettmar exposes these stories as tales of mystery not mastery despite the modernist earmarks of plentiful symbols allusions and epiphanies Ulysses too has been inadequately served by modernist critics Where they have emphasized the work's ingenious Homeric structure Dettmar focuses instead upon its seams those points at which the narrative willfully joyfully overflows its self imposed bounds Finally he reads A Portrait of the Artist and Finnegans Wake as less playful less daring texts the first constrained by the precious would be poet at its center the last marking a surprising retreat from the constantly evolving vertiginous experience of Ulysses In short The Illicit Joyce of Postmodernism explores what happens when the extra literary pronouncements of Eliot Pound and Joyce as well as Joyce's early critics are set aside and a new unauthorized Joyce is allowed to appear This postmodern Joyce more willful and less easily compartmentalized stands as a counterpoint to the modernist Joyce who has perhaps become too familiar

A Postmodern Reader Joseph Natoli, Linda Hutcheon, 1993-06-29 These readings are organized into four sections The first explores the wellsprings of the debates in the relationship between the postmodern and the enterprise it both continues and contravenes modernism Here philosophers social and political commentators as well as cultural and literary analysts present controversial background essays on the complex history of postmodernism The readings in the second section debate the possibility or desirability of trying to define the postmodern given its cultural agenda of decentering challenging even undermining the guiding master narratives of Western culture The readings in the third section explore postmodernism's complicated complicity with these very narratives while the fourth section moves from theory to practice in order to investigate in a variety of fields the common denominators

of the postmodern condition in action

Reanimating Qohelet's Contradictory Voices Jimyung Kim, 2018-09-11

Ecclesiastes also known as Qohelet is a fascinating text filled with intriguing contradictions such as wisdom's beneficial consequences, God's justice and wisdom's superiority over pleasure. Under the paradigm of modernism the contradictions in the book have been regarded as problems to be harmonized or explained away. In Reanimating Qohelet's Contradictory Voices, Jimyung Kim, drawing on Mikhail Bakhtin's insights, offers an alternative reading that embraces the contradictions as they stand. For Kim, Qohelet's or the protagonist's contradictory consciousness is dialogically constructed by his contact with a complex web of discourses. Instead of harmonizing them or explaining them away, Kim identifies various dialogic voices available to Qohelet and demonstrates how those voices constitute Qohelet's contradictory utterances and construct his unfinalizable identity.

Reading Cultures Molly Abel Travis, 1998 Molly Abel Travis unites reader theory with an analysis of historical conditions and various cultural contexts in this discussion of the reading and reception of twentieth-century literature in the United States. Travis moves beyond such provisional conclusions as the text produces the reader or the reader produces the text and considers the ways twentieth-century readers and texts attempt to constitute and appropriate each other at particular cultural moments and according to specific psychosocial exigencies. She uses the overarching concept of the reader in and out of the text both to differentiate the reader implied by the text from the actual reader and to discuss such in and out movements that occur in the process of reading as the alternation between immersion and interactivity and between role playing and unmasking. Unlike most reader theorists, Travis is concerned with the agency of the reader. Her conception of agency in reading is informed by performance, psychoanalytic, and feminist theories. This agency involves compulsive reiterative performance in which readers attempt to find themselves by going outside the self, engaging in literary role playing in the hope of finally and fully identifying the self through self-differentiation. Furthermore, readers never escape a social context; they are both constructed and actively constructing in that they read as part of interpretive communities and are involved in collaborative creativity or what Kendall Walton calls collective imagining.

Ruled Reading and Biblical Criticism Matthew T. Bell, 2019-11-04 In Ruled Reading and Biblical Criticism, Matthew T. Bell contends that the gulf in interpretive priorities between ancient and modern readers has been exaggerated and that careful study of early Christian reading practices suggests that it is both possible and productive to recontextualize early Christian ruled reading for a postmodern setting. Modern prejudice holds that ancient Christian interpretation was relatively unconcerned with history and concomitantly determined to foist extrascriptural doctrinal commitments onto scripture, silencing those layers of scripture's meaning that modern criticism has been most concerned with uncovering. In this book, Bell argues that when the ethos and theology of reading in the early Church are taken into account, premodern interpretive priorities turn out to be less implausible than the modern world has believed them to be. Through close reading of ancient Christian texts, Bell outlines an ontology of scripture wherein the relationship between early Christianity's Rule of Faith on one hand and its scriptures on the other was expressly constructed as a hermeneutical spiral the slant of which was designed to attend to and be edified by textually mediated conundrums and intellectual provocations Viewed along that spiral the Church's Rule was as scriptural as the Church's catalog of scriptures was ruled This book will be welcomed by academics who study early Christianity and scripture as well as scholars interested in reconsidering Christian hermeneutical questions for a postmodern age Postmodern Studies ,2003 "What's anything got to do with anything?" Sophia Schmidt,2015 Die vorliegende Arbeit nimmt es sich zum Ziel das in yer face theatre in einen postmodernen diskursiven Kontext zu setzen um erweiterten Bedeutungsspektren und Sinnzusammenh ngen Raum zu bieten Indem Figuren Handlung Zeit und Raum sowie Sprache ihrer repr sentationalen Funktion entbunden werden verweisen sie metaisierend auf die eigene ontische Pr senz und die Pluralisierungen der postmodernen Gesellschaft spiegeln sich in neuer Subjektivit t und Geschichtskonzeptionen wider In diesem Sinne kommt es zu einer Repolitisierung des Postmoderne Begriffs The Columbia Guide to the Latin American Novel Since 1945 Raymond L. Williams,2007-09-21 In this expertly crafted richly detailed guide Raymond Leslie Williams explores the cultural political and historical events that have shaped the Latin American and Caribbean novel since the end of World War II In addition to works originally composed in English Williams covers novels written in Spanish Portuguese French Dutch and Haitian Creole and traces the profound influence of modernization revolution and democratization on the writing of this era Beginning in 1945 Williams introduces major trends by region including the Caribbean and U S Latino novel the Mexican and Central American novel the Andean novel the Southern Cone novel and the novel of Brazil He discusses the rise of the modernist novel in the 1940s led by Jorge Luis Borges's reaffirmation of the right of invention and covers the advent of the postmodern generation of the 1990s in Brazil the Generation of the Crack in Mexico and the McOndo generation in other parts of Latin America An alphabetical guide offers biographies of authors coverage of major topics and brief introductions to individual novels It also addresses such areas as women's writing Afro Latin American writing and magic realism The guide's final section includes an annotated bibliography of introductory studies on the Latin American and Caribbean novel national literary traditions and the work of individual authors From early attempts to synthesize postcolonial concerns with modernist aesthetics to the current focus on urban violence and globalization The Columbia Guide to the Latin American Novel Since 1945 presents a comprehensive accessible portrait of a thoroughly diverse and complex branch of world literature Continental and Postmodern Perspectives in the Philosophy of Science Babette E. Babich,Debra B. Bergoffen,Simon Glynn,1995 Examines the implications of recent continental epistemology challenging the relationship between traditional analytic continental and postmodern understandings of science showing that the challenging circumstances of the scientific project are transforming the role and meaning of science in the modern postmodern world Ezra Pound's (post)modern Poetics and Politics Roxana Preda,2001 Ezra Pound the poet called the contemporary of our grandchildren has exercised enormous influence on the development of American poetry and criticism This impact on the world of letters is only grudgingly acknowledged today since it comes from a poet tainted by fascism and anti-Semitism This book follows the contours of our love for his poetics and hate for his politics juxtaposing Pound's work to postmodern theory The contrasts prevail in the relation of language to reality in the moral and political commitments and in the vision of history At the same time Pound's poetic practices particularly his collage techniques and series of Englishes overflowed his political ideology It is this overflow that makes him so fascinating to intellectuals and the main reason we study his work with respect now

The Postmodern Fantastic in Contemporary British Fiction Martin Horstkotte, 2004 This study looks at the complex relationship between postmodernism and the fantastic in contemporary British fiction and shows that a new type of the fantastic arises in postmodernism Arguing against interpretations that view postmodernism as inherently fantastic it seeks to define the postmodern fantastic as a narrative mode that is influenced by certain traits both of the traditional fantastic and of literary postmodernism but does not simply conflate both In the first theoretical part a number of theories of the fantastic and of postmodernism are used to set the fantastic apart from other non-mimetic forms of literature and to create a model of the postmodern fantastic that postulates the totalisation of the fantastic in postmodernism In the second part of this study this model is applied to a number of contemporary British texts which are particularly susceptible to this form of the fantastic due to several characteristics such as their muted kind of postmodernism and their frequent construction of parallel worlds The analysis of these texts focuses on four thematic fields of the postmodern fantastic the figure of the other as defined by Bernhard Waldenfels time and history text and textuality and the development of the Todorovian pure fantastic Finally the question of the death of the fantastic in postmodernism is examined
