Postmodernism And The New Enlightenment:

Postmodernism and the New Enlightenment Hugo Anthony Meynell, 1999 In this provocative book Hugo A Meynell sets out to describe what is known about postmodernism He criticizes its defects calls attention to its dangers and outlines a new way of thinking which combines postmodernism's best features with those of the Enlightenment to which it is so vehemently opposed

God, the Gift, and Postmodernism John D. Caputo, Michael J. Scanlon, 1999-12-22 Pushing past the constraints of postmodernism which cast reason and religion in opposition God the Gift and Postmodernism seizes the opportunity to question the authority of the modern and open the limits of possible experience including the call to religious experience as a new millennium approaches Jacques Derrida the father of deconstruction engages with Jean Luc Marion and other religious philosophers to entertain questions about intention givenness and possibility which reveal the extent to which deconstruction is structured like religion New interpretations of Kant Heidegger Husserl and Derrida emerge from essays and discussions with distinguished philosophers and theologians from the United States and Europe The result is that God the Gift and Postmodernism elaborates a radical phenomenology that stretches the limits of its possibility and explores areas where philosophy and religion have become increasingly and surprisingly convergent Contributors include John D Caputo John Dominic Crossan Jacques Derrida Robert Dodaro Richard Kearney Jean Luc Marion Frangoise Meltzer Michael J Scanlon Mark C Taylor David Tracy Merold Westphal and Edith Wyschogrod

Foundations of Systematic Theology Thomas G. Guarino, 2005-05-01 Guarino argues in this book that the doctrinal form of the Christian faith in its essential characteristics calls for certain theoretical exigencies This is to say that the proportion and beauty of the form is not served or illuminated by simply any presuppositions Rather a determinate understanding of first philosophy of the nature of truth of hermeneutical theory of the predication of language and mutual correlation is required if Christian faith and doctrine are to maintain a recognizable and suitably mediative form Failing to adduce specific principles will lead either to a simple assertion of Christian truth in which case the form of Christianity becomes less intelligible and attractive or one will substitute a radically changed form which is itself inappropriate for displaying the fundamental revelatory narrative of faith The house of Christian faith possesses a certain proportion of structure the form will sag badly if one removes an undergirding item or if one beam is replaced with another of variable shape or size The form's beauty will either be obscured no longer clearly visible or the form will become something quite different no longer architectonically related to what was originally the case The intention of this book is to discuss those doctrinal characteristics considered fundamental to the Christian faith as protective of its revelatory form and concomitantly to examine the theoretical principles required if such form is to remain both intelligible and beautiful

Postmodernism and the Enlightenment Daniel Gordon, 2014-01-14 Why is postmodernist discourse so biased against the Enlightenment Indeed postmodern theory challenges the validity of the rational basis of modern historical scholarship and the Enlightenment itself Rather than avoiding this conflict the contributors to this vibrant collection return to the philosophical roots of the Enlightenment and do not hesitate to look at them through a postmodernist lens engaging issues like anti-Semitism Utopianism colonial legal codes and ideas of authorship Dismissing the notion that the two camps are ideologically opposed and thus incompatible these essays demonstrate an exciting new scholarship that confidently mixes the empiricism of Enlightenment thought with a strong postmodernist skepticism painting a subtler and richer historical canvas
