Shallow Waters Rising Tide Shipping And Trade In Java Around 1775:

Shallow Waters, Rising Tide G. J. Knaap, 1996 In the historiography of Southeast Asia of the early modern period maritime trade has always been an important topic A good opportunity for learning more about early modern shipping and trade is by making use of the few surviving harbourmasters registrations of private traffic in fifteen major ports in Java around the year 1775 In this book these records registering more than 20 000 ship movements are analysed and interpreted in their broader context The traffic in the shallow waters along the coast of Java appears to have experienced a rising tide of Dutch presence

Geschichte der Welt 1350-1750 Akira Iriye, Jürgen Osterhammel, Wolfgang Reinhard, 2014-10-17 Weltgeschichte ist lange Zeit als eine Geschichte des Aufstiegs und Niedergangs einer kleinen Zahl von Hochkulturen geschrieben worden Unter diesen Kulturen schienen Europa oder der atlantische Westen während der letzten Jahrhunderte nach den Kriterien Macht Wohlstand und kulturelle Kreativität zu dominieren Das neue sechsbändige Werk zur Weltgeschichte das von einem Team von Historikerinnen und Historikern vorwiegend aus den USA und Deutschland erarbeitet wird und das gleichzeitig bei C H Beck und Harvard University Press erscheint verabschiedet sich von diesen Traditionen Es leugnet die Errungenschaften des Westens nicht stellt sie aber in den größeren Zusammenhang gleichzeitiger Entwicklungen in anderen Teilen der Welt Dadurch wird das allmähliche dabei aber krisenhafte Entstehen des heutigen dicht integrierten und pluralistischen Weltzusammenhangs sichtbar Erstmals werden in diesen Bänden die Ergebnisse von mehreren Jahrzehnten internationaler Forschung zur Vorgeschichte der Globalisierung und zur Entwicklung von Gesellschaften und politischen Ordnungen auf allen Kontinenten von führenden Experten zusammenfassend dargestellt Weltgeschichte erscheint hier nicht als Aneinanderreihung einzelner Spezialgeschichten Die Aufmerksamkeit richtet sich auf bisher wenig beachtete Querbeziehungen und Wechselwirkungen auf Migrationen von Einzelnen und Gruppen und die Gründung neuer Gesellschaften auf die interkontinentale Ausbreitung von Technologien Religionen oder politischen Ideen auf globale Kommunikationsnetze Handelsströme und Konsummuster auf Imperialismus Kolonialismus und großräumige Kriege

Merchant Communities in Asia, 1600-1980 Madeleine Zelin, 2015-10-06 This book is the first to use local primary sources to explore the interaction between foreign and native merchants in Asian countries Contributors discuss the different economic political and cultural conditions that gave rise to a variety of merchant communities in Korea China Japan Taiwan the Philippines Singapore and India

Shipping and Trade in the Java Sea Region, 1870-1940 Jeroen Touwen, 2001 The Java Sea Region was the scene of increasing flows of shipping and trade during the late colonial period It was an arena of intense competition between Indonesian Chinese and European shipping in both foreign and interregional trade This dynamic process can now be studied in detail for the first time on the level of individual ports

Niel,2005 The World of Jan Brandes, 1743-1808 An Duits,2004 Maritime Social and Economic Developments in Southeast Asia Hanizah Hj. Idris,Wan Hin Tan,Mohammad Raduan Mohd. Ariff,2008 This book brings together the past and the future of maritime social and economic development in the region The various authors identify current as well as past trends in maritime social and economic developments that have propelled the region to being one of the most dynamic expanses in the world and explore certain key issues It is the hope that this book will serve as resource material to scholars and researchers interested in the maritime issues of Southeast Asia Agricultural Development in a Frontier Region of Java S. Nawiyanto,2003 Anthropologica ,2005 Includes reports of meetings of the institute Monsoon Traders G. J. Knaap,Heather Sutherland,2004 Makassar was an early modern Southeast Asian kingdom which has been seen as exemplifying The Age of Commerce both in its trade based prosperity in the late 16th and early 17th centuries and its decline into insignificance following conquest by the Dutch East India Company in 1667 Statistical analysis of the Dutch harbormasters registers which listed incoming and outgoing non Company traffic reveals that Makassar actually succeeded in establishing new and profitable networks after a difficult period of transition Whereas slaves and rice had once been predominant exports by the mid 1700s sea cucumbers in great demand in China had become the most important commodity This volume provides detailed material on shipping crews armament routes merchandise and skippers and hence offers unique insights into both the trade of Makassar itself and the wider transformations of Asian commerce in the 18th century

Madurese Seafarers Kurt Stenross,2011-08-31 The Madurese are one of the great maritime and trading peoples of the Indonesian Archipelago This study takes readers into the trading villages of Madura with their remarkable traditional vessels perahu that were powered by sail until the late twentieth century and examines their informal sector economic niches notably the cattle salt and timber trades and the carriage of people The book argues that the nature of village society the physical characteristics of the island s coast cultural traditions of frugality and self reliance and an appetite for risk all contributed to the enduring success of Madurese traders During Suharto s New Order Madurese seafarers prospered through their central role in the booming timber trade between Kalimantan and Java using great ingenuity and quasi legal means to negotiate state laws and regulations Based on data collected during visits to remote ports and unlicensed sawmills in Kalimantan perahu harbors in Java and wild beach ports in Madura the book explores the inner workings of Madurese maritime trade during a critical period that brought this village based transport industry into a modern and increasingly regulated economic environment Linking Destinies P. Boomgaard,Dick Kooiman,Henk Schulte Nordholt,2008 Trade flows cities and kinship relations can all be seen as elements of complex networks In this collection of essays all of which deal with Asia we argue that there are good reasons to envisage them as various dimensions of the same networks Nevertheless it is fairly rare to find trade cities and kinship relations as intimately linked as we have portrayed them in this volume because they are usually classified within different sub disciplines of history whose practitioners are all too often not inclined to talk to people outside their own field The Australian born historian Heather Sutherland who recently retired from the VU university in Amsterdam is an exception in this respect because most of her work gravitates towards an approach which aims to integrate this trinity of topics This collection of essays written by a number of her students and close colleagues has taken its cue from her approach It is not the case that all the contributions deal with all three topics but they as a collective demonstrate how flows of trade cities both as urban centres and nodes in wider networks and kinship relations hang together and how the study of one topic opens new vistas on the other two revealing causal links that otherwise would have remained hidden Thus the essays in this collective volume support the idea that trade towns and kin although often dealt with quite separately can be viewed as various aspects of the same networks connecting people places and commodities Historical Abstracts Eric H. Boehm, 1998

Diaspora Entrepreneurial Networks Ina Baghdiantz McCabe, Gelina Harlaftis, Ioanna Pepelasis Minoglou, 2005 Diasporas large scale ethnic migrations have been a source of growing concern as we try to understand the nature of community identity and nationalism Traditionally diaspora communities have been understood to be pariah communities and most work on diasporas has focused on specific groups such as the Jewish or African Diaspora This book is unique in arguing against traditional interpretations and in taking a comparative look at a range of diasporas including the Jewish Arab Chinese Japanese Indian Maltese Greek and Armenian diasporas Taking the past four centuries into consideration the authors examine diaspora trading networks across the globe on both a regional and international level They investigate the common patterns and practices in the enterprises of diaspora peoples and entrepreneurs The regions covered include Western Europe the Mediterranean South West Asia and the Indian Ocean and South East Asia Global networks of diaspora trading groups were crucial to international trade well before the twentieth century yet because they were not part of established institutions they have remained elusive to economists sociologists and historians Through an understanding of diaspora trading networks we learn not only about diaspora communities but also about the roots of the modern global economy Review of Indonesian and Malaysian Affairs , 1997

Multiple Centres of Authority Timothy P. Barnard, 2003 Offering access to an extensive and resource rich hinterland eastern Sumatra was an important trading region between the Melaka Straits and the Minangkabau highlands of Sumatra prior to colonial rule Traditionally under the control of Johor the various communities in eastern Sumatra were united under the leadership of an adventurer named Raja Kecik in the early eighteenth century and formed an independent community along the Siak River Over the next century Raja Kecik and his descendents attempted to gain control over the trade that flowed through the Straits while keeping the numerous communities within their territories united by means of marriage alliances warfare raiding trade and myth By the end of the eighteenth century the multiple centres of authority that constituted Siak represented the dominant Malay community in the Straits of Melaka only to fall into decline due to the rise of British trading communities in Singapore and Penang This book based on VOC Dutch East Indies Company archives and traditional Malay texts examines the rise of a Malay state in the early modern era It focuses on the ecological frontier of eastern Sumatra with its multi ethnic communities and how they were able to transform themselves in the words of an English visitor into a summit of prosperity by the end of the eighteenth century Particular emphasis is placed on the methods used by Siak leaders used unite the disparate communities in the region and how this was viewed in other Malay communities

Verzeichnis lieferbarer Bücher ,2002 For Profit and Prosperity Wim Ravesteijn,Jan Kop,2008 Roads railway lines and bridges harbours and cities irrigation and drinking water supplies evidence of the presence of Dutch engineers in the former Dutch East Indies may be found everywhere in Indonesia For Profit and Prosperity places this legacy from the colonial past in its true perspective This publication provides a detailed description of some of the most important civil public works projects of the Dutch East Indian era while simultaneously outlining the contribution made by the Netherlands to the restoration modernisation and development of such works in the Republic of Indonesia The public works once constructed by Dutch engineers have greatly influenced the way in which Indonesia has become what it is today For Profit and Prosperity reveals just how all of that happened and it does not merely confine itself to the technological aspect The relevant social economic and cultural developments are also subjected to careful scrutiny This book therefore describes in a unique way just how technology and society can influence each other For Profit and Prosperity does not so much set out to provide a comprehensive catalogue style overview of all the public works structures created in the archipelago but rather to provide an insight into the way in which civil engineering evolved in the former colony At the same time an impression is inevitably given of the effect which all of that had upon Dutch civil engineering in general
