The Concept of the Common Heritage of Mankind in International Law Kemal Baslar, 1998 The concept of the common heritage of mankind is one of the most extraordinary developments in recent intellectual history and one of the most revolutionary and radical legal concepts to have emerged in recent decades The year 1997 marks the thirtieth anniversary of the advent of the concept in the domain of public international law Ever since its emergence it has become evident that no other concept notion principle or doctrine has brought as much intensive debate controversy confrontation and speculation as the common heritage phenomenon did This is because it is a philosophical idea that questions the regimes of globally important resources regardless of their situation and requires major changes in the world to apply its provisions In other words the application and enforcement of the common heritage of mankind require a critical reexamination of many well established principles and doctrines of classical international law such as acquisition of territory consent based sources of international law sovereignty equality resource allocation and international personality This book aims to explore the legal theory and implications of the concept of the common heritage of mankind It addresses almost all aspects of the concept in the light of the experience of three decades The author takes into account the elements of the common heritage concept in the fields of jurisprudence outer space law the law of the sea the law of Antarctica international environmental law human rights and general principles of public international law It tries to develop a normative framework through which the concept may offer alternatives for the governance of the global commons Journeys for a Better World Jean Richardot,1994-04-26 Focuses on the importance of the United Nations and of the international civil service Describes the author's work for the UN in six countries Morocco Haiti Uganda Cyprus Jamaica and Benin Labor ,1981

Sustainable Livestock Farming Into the 21st Century B. J. Marshall,1992 Fostering transformation and growth in Niger's agricultural sector Fleur Wouterse,Ousmane Badiane,2023-08-07 For Niger the development of agriculture is essential to strategies to raise incomes and eradicate poverty in a sustainable manner without further depleting its natural resource base While traditional approaches to agricultural development have emphasized food security and have been rather technology focused African countries are increasingly emphasizing the role of innovation in development Fostering transformation and growth in Niger's agricultural sector seeks to further the understanding of potential innovations that can sustainably transform the agriculture sector in Niger This publication uses the agricultural value chain perspective to provide a reference point for improvements in supporting services and the business environment The first part describes several innovations that could contribute to enhancing agricultural productivity Particularly interesting is the emphasis on the grassroots nature of some of these innovations The second part offers a reference point for improvements in supporting services the business and institutional environments that can contribute to pro poor initiatives and to a stronger linkage of smallholders to markets The comprehensive approach taken in this book ensures its contribution to an understanding of transformative innovations in agriculture as well as enabling conditions Sugar News ,1976 Official Records ,1975
