Shattered Subjects:

Revolutionary Subjects in the English "Jacobin" Novel, 1790-1805 Miriam L. Wallace, 2009 The Jacobin novel was labeled as such in Britain because of its supposed connections to the French Revolution This book takes an in depth look at these novels written between 1790 and 1805 She centers on the group surrounding Wollstonecraft and Godwin although not exclusively exploring the limits of their philosophy of human rights and personal subjectivity Unlike other recent scholars the author treats both male and female writers making feminism an aspect of the work but not the overriding one While the novels are the main focus other work by the writers is considered as it pertains to their beliefs She also discusses the reaction from those who defined the Jacobins by opposing them Janet Frame in Focus Josephine A. Stewart,2003-09-16 Examining a range of twentieth century writers including Vera Brittain Anne Frank and Eva Hoffman this study focuses on how recent theories of trauma can elucidate the narrative strategies employed in their autobiographical writing The historical circumstances of each author are also considered The result is a book which provides a vivid sense of how women writers have attempted to encompass key events of the twentieth century particularly the First World War and the Holocaust within their life stories Redefining the Real Margaret-Anne Hutton,2009 What is the literary fantastic and how does it manifest itself in the texts of French and francophone women writers publishing at the close of the twentieth and start of the twenty first century What do we mean today when we talk of the real and realism These are just some of the questions addressed by the papers in this volume which derive from a conference entitled The Fantastic in Contemporary Women s Writing in French held in London in September 2007 This book sets out to refocus through a non realist lens on the works of high profile authors Darrieussecq Nothomb Germain Cixous and NDiaye and some of their less highly publicised contemporaries It analyses and mobilises a wide range of both gendered and non gendered practices and theories of the contemporary fantastic whilst critically interrogating both of the latter terms and their inter relation Papers on Subjects Connected with the Duties of the Corps of Royal Engineers Great Britain. Harte,2007 This groundbreaking anthology represents the critical inquiry of literary scholars into the trope of loss and mourning in the work of women writers from the Caribbean archipelago There is a great deal of recent scholarly interest in the relationship of loss and mourning yet there are no books specifically devoted to an examination of this trope in the works of Caribbean women writers To fill this gap this collection of original essays examines subjects that encompass the brutality of slavery oppressive dictatorships AIDS and the catastrophe of the Mount Pele volcano that appear in the writings of women from the English Spanish and French speaking Caribbean It is an important addition to the contemporary discourse on loss and mourning The project is an exciting and vital one because it brings together a multiplicity of perspectives and critical approaches to examine the works of writers such as Jean Rhys Jamaica Kincaid Julia Alvarez and Maryse Condé What emerges is a complex portrait of loss mourning and remembrance that both enriches and challenges customary discourses of loss mourning and melancholia
