 Projects for the development of small ruminant production particularly sheep production are now underway in many countries in tropical Africa
 While this trend is occurring in all climatic zones it is especially so in the humid and subhumid tropics where disease and social and psychological factors may be major impediments to the development of cattle or pig production
 There is therefore a growing need for information on sheep production in tropical regions      Analyse of Sheep Farming Systems in Israel Tobias Rummel, 2003-03-05      Cattle and Buffalo Meat Production in the Tropics Desmond Hill, 1988      Milk Production in the Tropics Anne Chamberlain, 1989      Sheep production in the tropics and subtropics S. Animal production and animal science worldwide A. Rosati, A. Tewolde, C. Mosconi, 2023-08-28
 After the experience of the first volume The World Association for Animal Production WAAP continues the publication of the Book of the Year series for the benefit of animal scientists and policy makers in the field of livestock systems
 The WAAP asked the best known and significant animal scientists in the world to contribute to the preparation of this book
 Following the success of the first volume of the series the WAAP Book of the Year 2003 many authors from the six continents are contributing to this 2nd volume
 The importance of this publication is to have already established a worldwide reference for the animal science and production sectors
 There are the usual four sections that raised much interest in the previous volume of the series
 The first section has six articles describing the changing conditions of livestock systems in each of the six continents
 The second section has more than twenty papers describing the development of the many sectors in which the animal science field has been divided
 The third section dealing with contemporary issues is declared by our readers to be the most interesting
 It allows participating authors to describe current and significant issues important in these last years for the animal science and production sectors
 The statistics produced in the previous volume are updated and enhanced with new figures in this book to form the fourth section
 The papers included in this book speak clearly of the development in the last twelve months in the livestock systems worldwide
 Major space is also devoted to the list of references from where every author can start to deepen his knowledge
 This book is essential for libraries that want their readers to be easily updated
 Also scientists policy makers and scientific writers who need to enhance their competence to have the most practical way of knowing what is going on in the world in the field of livestock science and production will find this book of great value      Crossbreeding Bos Indicus and Bos Taurus for Milk Production in the Tropics E.
