Golden, 2000-01-01 This book examines storymaking processes in K-8 classrooms from a social semiotic perspective that highlights how participants discourse influences story construction and interpretation It is unique in that it invites the reader to actively engage in the analysis of classroom discourse and to consider issues related to storymaking in specific classrooms Examples of theory in action illustrate important issues regarding text selection and the roles of teachers and students in affecting meaning making processes An excellent text for upper level and graduate courses in language literacy and literature education Storymaking in Elementary and Middle School Classrooms includes Transcripts of teacher student text discourse in kindergarten and second fifth seventh and eighth grade classrooms Helpful overviews at the beginning of each chapter Theory into practice sections at the end of each chapter that pose issues to think about related to classroom practice A separate chapter on translating theory into practice in the classroom with practical suggestions

Echoes of our childhood, by the author of Everley Miss Cornish, 1865 Enchantress of Elektra Kaivallya

Dasu, 2015-11-16 Five years ago I the dark magician Ente von Ino Lock took over the kingdom of Elektra As one of the most powerful magicians in the world nobody dared to stop me And then one day someone did A thirteen year old girl the former princess of Elektra a magician herself She challenged me to battle to try and win back her country How hard could it be to defeat a teenager Never underestimate an opponent Especially not thirteen year old Kerry Violette Royale This is the story of my defeat The story of how an age old prophecy was fulfilled The story of the Enchantress of Elektra Dig A.S.

King, 2019-03-26 Winner of the Michael L Printz Medal King's narrative concerns are racism patriarchy colonialism white privilege and the ingrained systems that perpetuate them Dig will speak profoundly to a generation of young people who are waking up to the societal sins of the past and working toward a more equitable future Horn Book starred review I've never understood white people who can't admit they're white I mean white isn't just a color And maybe that's the problem for them White is a passport It's a ticket Five estranged cousins are lost in a maze of their family's tangled secrets Their grandparents former potato farmers Gottfried and Marla Hemmings managed to trade digging spuds for developing subdivisions and now they sit atop a million dollar bank account wealth they've refused to pass on to their adult children or their five teenage grandchildren Because we want them to thrive Marla always says But for the Hemmings cousins thriving feels a lot like slowly dying of a poison they started taking the moment they were born As the rot beneath the surface of the Hemmings white suburban respectability destroys the family from within the cousins find their ways back to one another just in time to uncover the terrible cost of maintaining the family name With her inimitable surrealism award winner A.S. King exposes how a toxic culture of polite white supremacy tears a family apart and how one determined generation can dig its way out The Metamorphosis of Heads Denise Y. Arnold, Juan de Dios Yapita, 2006-05-07 Since the days of the Spanish Conquest the indigenous populations of Andean Bolivia have struggled to preserve their textile based writings This struggle continues today both in schools and within the larger culture The Metamorphosis of Heads explores the history and cultural significance of Andean textile writings weavings and kipus knotted cords and their extreme contrasts in form and production from European alphabet based texts Denise Arnold examines the subjugation of native texts in favor of European ones through the imposition of homogenized curricula by the Educational Reform Law As Arnold reveals this struggle over language and education directly correlates to long standing conflicts for land ownership and power in the region since the majority of the more affluent urban population is Spanish speaking while indigenous languages are spoken primarily among the rural poor The Metamorphosis of Heads acknowledges the vital importance of contemporary efforts to maintain Andean history and cultural heritage in schools and shows how indigenous Andean populations have incorporated elements of Western textual practices into their own textual activities Based on extensive fieldwork over two decades and historical anthropological and ethnographic research Denise Arnold assembles an original and richly diverse interdisciplinary study. The textual theory she proposes has wider ramifications for studies of Latin America in general while recognizing the specifically regional practices of indigenous struggles in the face of nation building and economic globalization. Firelight stories, by Maggie Browne Margaret Hamer, 1892 The Juvenile instructor and companion Young people, 1879
