Sidney J. Furie Daniel Kremer, 2015-11-12 Known for his visual style as well as for his experimentation in virtually every genre of narrative cinema award winning director Sidney J Furie also has the distinction of having made Canada's first ever feature length fictional film in English A Dangerous Age 1957 With a body of work that includes The Ipccress File 1965 Lady Sings the Blues 1972 and The Entity 1982 he has collaborated with major stars such as Marlon Brando Frank Sinatra Robert Redford and Michael Caine and his films have inspired some of Hollywood's most celebrated directors including Stanley Kubrick and Quentin Tarantino In this first biography of the prolific filmmaker author Daniel Kremer offers a comprehensive look at the director's unique career Furie pioneered techniques such as improvisation in large scale film productions and sometimes shot his films in sequence to develop the characters from the ground up and improve the performers in the moment spontaneity Not only has Stanley Kubrick acknowledged that Furie's The Boys in Company C 1978 informed and influenced Full Metal Jacket 1987 but Martin Scorsese has said that he considers The Entity to be one of the scariest horror films of all time However Furie was often later criticized for accepting lowbrow work and as a result little serious study has been devoted to the director Meticulously researched and enhanced by Kremer's close relationship with the filmmaker this definitive biography captures the highs and lows of an exceptional but underexamined career taking readers behind the scenes with a director who was often ahead of his time Those Girls Katherine J. Lehman, 2011-09-27 Long before Carrie Bradshaw in Sex and the City there was Mary Richards in The Mary Tyler Moore Show Every week as Mary flung her beret into the air while the theme song proclaimed You're gonna make it after all it seemed that young independent women like herself had finally arrived But as Katherine Lehman reveals the struggle to create accurate portrayals of successful single women for American TV and cinema during the 1960s and 1970s wasn't as simple as the toss of a hat Those Girls is the first book to focus exclusively on struggles to define the single girl character in TV and film during a transformative period in American society Lehman has scoured a wide range of source materials unstudied film and television scripts magazines novels and advertisements to demonstrate how controversial female characters pitted fears of societal breakdown against the growing momentum of the women's rights movement Lehman's book focuses on the single girl an unmarried career woman in her 20s or 30s to show how this character type symbolized sweeping changes in women's roles Analyzing films and programs against broader conceptions of women's sexual and social roles she uncovers deep seated fears in a nation accustomed to depictions of single women yearning for matrimony Yet as television began to reflect public acceptance of career women series such as Police Woman and Wonder Woman proved that heroines could wield both strength and femininity while movies like Looking for Mr Goodbar cautioned viewers against carrying new found freedom too far Lehman takes us behind the scenes in Hollywood to show us the production decisions and censorship negotiations that shaped these characters before they even made it to the screen She includes often overlooked sources such as the TV series Get Christie Love and Ebony magazine to give us a richer understanding of how women of color negotiated urban singles life And she reveals how trailblazing characters continue to influence portrayals of single women in shows like Mad Men This entertaining and insightful study examines familiar characters caught between the competing fears and aspirations of a society rethinking its understanding of social and sexual mores Those Girls reassesses feminine genres that are often marginalized in media scholarship and contributes to a greater valuation of the unmarried independent woman in America
