

Pro/Engineer Tutorial

1. Parts

Setting the Work Directory and Saving Files

- File → Set Working Directory (select the directory where the file will be saved)
- A new model will not automatically be saved. This must be done manually, periodically.
- Each time a model is saved, a new file is created in addition to the previous saved files (i.e. part_name.pt1, part_name.pt2, part_name.pt3...). Pro/E opens the newest file when using File → Open, but to open a previously saved version, double click on the appropriate file or delete the model files corresponding to subsequent saves.

Creating a New part

- Go to File → New or click on Create New Object icon . A small window will pop up with a list options for us to choose (Part, Drawing, Assembly, etc.)
- Select Part → Solid and deselect the Default Template.
- Enter a name for the part (example: "block") and click OK.
- A window will pop for us to choose the Template. The template determines the units and type of part for the drawing. For this tutorial, select mmns part solid (units: length is mm, force is Newtons, and time is seconds; all other units are derived from these base units). To get U.S. customary units, select inlbs part solid.

Setting up the drawing plane

- To start drawing the part, click on the Sketching Datum Corner tool icon  located on the right side of the screen. You will then be asked to choose planes for drawing and references.
- Sketch Plane: This will be the plane that the two-dimensional representation of a particular feature, such as an extrusion or revolve, will be drawn on. Left click the Front plane in the workspace.
