

Schrödinger's Equation

$$i\hbar \frac{\partial}{\partial t} \psi(\mathbf{r}, t) = -\frac{\hbar^2}{2m} \nabla^2 \psi(\mathbf{r}, t) + V(\mathbf{r}, t) \psi(\mathbf{r}, t)$$

$i$  is the imaginary number,  $\sqrt{-1}$ .

$\hbar$  is Planck's constant divided by  $2\pi$ :  $1.05459 \times 10^{-34}$  joule-second.

$\psi(\mathbf{r}, t)$  is the wave function, defined over space and time.

$m$  is the mass of the particle.

$\nabla^2$  is the Laplacian operator,  $\frac{\partial^2}{\partial x^2} + \frac{\partial^2}{\partial y^2} + \frac{\partial^2}{\partial z^2}$ .

$V(\mathbf{r}, t)$  is the potential energy influencing the particle.

Probability And Schrodingers Mechanics:

Probability And Schrodinger's Mechanics David B Cook, 2002-12-26 This book addresses some of the problems of interpreting Schrödinger's mechanics the most complete and explicit theory falling under the umbrella of quantum theory The outlook is materialist realist and stresses the development of Schrödinger's mechanics from classical theories and its close connections with particularly the Hamilton Jacobi theory Emphasis is placed on the concepts and use of the modern objective measure theoretic probability theory The work is free from any mention of the bearing of Schrödinger's mechanics on God his alleged mind or indeed minds at all The author has taken the naïve view that this mechanics is about the structure and dynamics of atomic and sub atomic systems since he has been unable to trace any references to minds consciousness or measurements in the foundations of the theory

Schrödinger's Philosophy of Quantum Mechanics Michael Bitbol, 2012-12-06 This book is the final outcome of two projects My first project was to publish a set of texts written by Schrodinger at the beginning of the 1950 s for his seminars and lectures at the Dublin Institute for Advanced Studies These almost completely forgotten texts contained important insights into the interpretation of quantum mechanics and they provided several ideas which were missing or elusively expressed in Schrödinger's published papers and books of the same period However they were likely to be misinterpreted out of their context The problem was that current scholarship could not help very much the reader of these writings to figure out their significance The few available studies about Schrödinger's interpretation of quantum mechanics are generally excellent but almost entirely restricted to the initial period 1925 1927 Very little work has been done on Schrodinger's late views on the theory he contributed to create and develop The generally accepted view is that he never really recovered from his interpretative failure of 1926 1927 and that his late reflections during the 1950 s are little more than an expression of his rising nostalgia for the lost ideal of picturing the world not to say for some favourite traditional picture But the content and style of Schrodinger's texts of the 1950 s do not agree at all with this melancholic appraisal they rather set the stage for a thorough renewal of accepted representations In order to elucidate this paradox I adopted several strategies

Epistemology and Probability Arkady Plotnitsky, 2009-10-20 This book offers an exploration of the relationships between epistemology and probability in the work of Niels Bohr Werner Heisenberg and Erwin Schrodinger and in quantum mechanics and in modern physics as a whole It also considers the implications of these relationships and of quantum theory itself for our understanding of the nature of human thinking and knowledge in general or the epistemological lesson of quantum mechanics as Bohr liked to say These implications are radical and controversial While they have been seen as scientifically productive and intellectually liberating to some Bohr and Heisenberg among them they have been troublesome to many others such as Schrodinger and most prominently Albert Einstein Einstein famously refused to believe that God would resort to playing dice or rather to playing with nature in the way quantum mechanics appeared to suggest which is indeed quite different from playing dice According to his later sometime around 1953 remark a lesser known or commented upon but arguably more important one That the Lord should play dice all right but that He should gamble according to definite rules i e according to the rules of quantum mechanics rather than 2 by merely throwing dice that is beyond me Although Einstein s invocation of God is taken literally sometimes he was not talking about God but about the way nature works Bohr s reply on an earlier occasion to Einstein s question 1 Cf Erwin Schrödinger and the Rise of Wave Mechanics Jagdish Mehra, Helmut Rechenberg, 1987 The End of Probability and the New Meaning of Quantum Physics DangSon Tran, 2002 Mathematical Reviews , 2007 Boston Studies in the Philosophy of Science , 1996 Lecture Notes on Quantum Mechanics, 1958-1959 Edward Lee Hill, 1959 From Myth to the Modern Mind: Copernicus through quantum mechanics Richard H.
