based on the logical evidential and existential versions of the problem major attempts to square God's justice with the presence of evil such as Augustinian Irenaean process openness and felix culpa theodicies and debates on the problem of evil covering such concepts as a best possible world natural evil and natural laws gratuitous evil the skeptical theist defense and the bearing of biological evolution on the problem The second edition includes classical excerpts from the book of Job Voltaire Dostoevsky Augustine Aquinas Leibniz and Hume and twenty five essays that have shaped the contemporary discussion by J L Mackie Alvin Plantinga William Rowe Marilyn Adams John Hick William Hasker Paul Draper Michael Bergmann Eleonore Stump Peter van Inwagen and numerous others Whether a professional philosopher student or interested layperson the reader will be able to work through a number of issues related to how evil in the world affects belief in God

Knowledge, Belief, and Transcendence James Hall, 1982-12 Perspectives on a Troubled Decade: Science, Philosophy, and Religion, 1939-1949 Lyman Bryson, Louis Finkelstein, Robert Morrison MacIver, 1950 The Theories of Darwin and Their Relation to Philosophy, Religion, and Morality Rudolf Schmid, 1883 God and Evidence Rob Lovering, 2013-06-20 God and Evidence presents a new set of compelling problems for theistic philosophers The problems pertain to three types of theistic philosopher which Lovering defines here as theistic inferentialists theistic non inferentialists and theistic fideists Theistic inferentialists believe that God exists that there is inferential probabilifying evidence of God's existence and that this evidence is discoverable not simply in principle but in practice Theistic non inferentialists believe that God exists that there is non inferential probabilifying evidence of God's existence and that this evidence is discoverable not simply in principle but in practice Theistic fideists believe that God exists that there is no discoverable probabilifying evidence inferential or non inferential of God's existence and that it is nevertheless acceptable morally if not otherwise to have faith that God exists Lovering argues that each type of theistic philosopher faces a problem unique to his type and that they all share two particular problems Some of these problems take us down an entirely new discursive path others down a new discursive path branching off from an old one Problems of Religious Pluralism John Harwood Hick, 1985-10-07

The Problem of Religious Knowledge William T. Blackstone, 1963 This book is designed for those who have this concern and puzzlement though of course it offers no guarantee of resolving such puzzlement It is not designed to be a highly specialized and technical treatise in philosophy of religion but one which can be read and appreciated by students and educated laymen It has two specific purposes that of providing a clear picture of development in contemporary philosophy and the impact of these developments in philosophy of religion and that of systematically exploring the question Is there religious knowledge Contemporary philosophy is used as a point of reference for devising a framework within which this question can be answered Space limitations have forced an all too brief treatment of some positions Such brevity tends to distort but I have made efforts to avoid such distortion Author's Preface
