Private Rod Marital Violence Sensation And The Law In Victorian Britain:

The Private Rod Marlene Tromp, 2000 Sensation novels a genre characterized by scandalous narratives and emotionally and socially provocative dialogue and plots had their heyday in England in the 1860s and 1870s in the midst of growing concern about codes of behavior in marriage Exploring the central metaphor of marital violence in these novels Marlene Tromp uncovers the relationship between the representations of such violence in fiction and in the law Her investigation demonstrates that sensational constructions of gender marriage brutal relationships and even murder were gradually incorporated into legal debates and realist fiction as the Victorian understanding of what was real changed from publisher description The Private Rod Marlene Tromp, 1995 Mary Elizabeth Braddon Anne-Marie Beller, 2012-11-01 An important figure in the development of crime fiction Mary Elizabeth Braddon 1835 1915 wrote more than 80 novels numerous plays poems essays and short stories and edited two magazines during her 55 year literary career Her bestselling Lady Audley's Secret secured her reputation as a leading sensation novelist Though critics called her work immoral Braddon's novels influenced the detective fiction of the late Victorian period With entries on all her published writing characters relationships and influences and themes and contexts as well as numerous illustrations a career chronology and a chronological and alphabetical listing of all of her works this companion to Braddon's mystery fiction is the definitive reference on this provocative but overlooked writer Feminist Perspectives on Law and Literature Laura Schmitz-Justen, Laura A. Zander, Hanna Luise Kroll, Laura Wittmann, 2025-04-21 The interdisciplinary study of law and literature can help us better understand intersectionality and vice versa intersectional feminist perspectives are extremely valuable in the study of law and literature Of course neither feminist nor intersectional approaches are new in and of themselves for decades literary scholarship has studied the impact of particular constellations of gender race and class when it comes to representations of women in literary texts and has succeeded in shaking monolithic and stereotypical notions of womanhood However research at the intersection of law literature and feminism has so far been limited and insular Bringing together more than twenty international researchers from related disciplines this volume is the first to bring questions of intersectional feminism to the forefront of law and literature scholarship From reproductive and trans gender justice in law and literature to feminist practices that intervene in judicial discourse this volume brings into focus a wide range of cultural and legal phenomena in which gender and the law intersect in literary texts The volume's commitment to intersectionality fittingly extends to its very make up the contributors were selected to represent a diverse range of positions in terms of their gender career stage and nationality Domestic Tyranny Elizabeth Hafkin Pleck, 2004 Elizabeth Pleck's Domestic Tyranny chronicles the rise and demise of legal political and medical campaigns against domestic violence from colonial times to the present Based on in depth research into court records newspaper accounts and autobiographies this book argues that the single most consistent barrier to reform against domestic violence has been the Family Ideal that is ideas about family privacy conjugal and parental rights and family stability This edition features a new introduction surveying the multinational and cultural themes now present in recent historical writing about family violence
