Good Parents, Better Homes, and Great Schools Karen Benjamin, 2025-06-09 Good Parents Better Homes and Great Schools examines how white residential developers, planning consultants and their allies in government strategically replaced block-level segregation with segregation at the neighborhood level in New South cities such as Atlanta, Baltimore, Birmingham, Houston, Raleigh and Winston-Salem. Going beyond the well-known Home Owners Loan Corporation maps of the 1930s, Karen Benjamin traces segregation tactics back to the late nineteenth century when this public-private partnership laid the groundwork for the nationwide segregation strategies codified by the New Deal. This book links the tactics of residential and school segregation to prevailing middle-class ideas about what constitutes good parenting, ensuring the longevity of both practices. By focusing on efforts that specifically targeted parents, Benjamin not only adds a new dimension to the history of residential segregation but also helps explain why that legacy has been so difficult to undo.
