Responding To Disability Issues In Student Affairs:

Responding to Disability Issues in Student Affairs Sue Ann Kroeger, Judy Ann Schuck, 1993 Serving Students with Disabilities Holley A. Belch, 2011-09-28 This issue examines what student services professionals can do to ensure the success of the growing population of students with disabilities The contributors explore the critical role that community and dignity play in creating a meaningful educational experience for students with disabilities and show how to help these students gain meaningful access and full participation in campus activities In addition to such common concerns as fulfilling legal requirements and overcoming architectural barriers the contributors also address a full range of important issues such as effective approaches to recruitment and retention strategies for career and academic advising and the impact of financial resources on funding programs and services This is the 91st issue of the quarterly journal New Directions for Student Services

Higher Education and Disabilities Alan Hurst, 2018-08-13 First published in 1998 this volume compares disability services and strategies along with students with disabilities across various countries around the world Its publication followed a series of conferences held at different international locations These papers have been brought together with the aim to better inform our understanding of approaches to disabled students and their experiences Focusing on topics such as the Australian Disability Discrimination Act 1992 disability policy and supporting students with disabilities in higher education this volume will be of use to students lecturers researchers and policymakers whether able bodied neurotypical or disabled

Helping College Students Succeed Glenn Hirsch, 2013-06-17 Glenn Hirsch offers professionals a user friendly comprehensive resource book of theories and specific techniques that can be used to enhance college student success Dr Hirsch offers readers an integrated model for change that includes both holistic assessments of academic difficulty and suggestions for three different levels of intervention based on the student s readiness and motivation for change He also provides specific interview and testing strategies for determining the causes of academic difficulty

Disabilities: Responses : practice, legal, and political frameworks Catherine A. Marshall, 2009 In these unprecedented volumes authors from around the world spotlight the latest knowledge on disability including the social legal and political issues that come to bear on people with disability These authors are researchers practitioners people with disability and family members Through their experiences they share with us the nature of disability the challenges people with disabilities face approaches to disability around the world and promising efforts for rehabilitation that are on the horizon We also learn in these volumes about social actions that have advanced human rights for people with disabilities in countries around the world Yet we learn that in these same countries discriminatory actions against people with disabilities continue to occur The impact of different cultural beliefs about disability are explored and these beliefs are juxtaposed against legislative responses In all three volumes people with disabilities share their personal narratives about events they have faced in society They provide rich examples of how culture social interactions and legislation can impact on people

Pedagogy and Student Services for Institutional Transformation ,2008 Student Affairs Research, Evaluation, and Assessment: Structure and Practice in an Era of Change Gary D. Malaney, 1999-04-13 Representing the most major effort to date to examine the student affairs research office this issue of New Directions for Student Services shows how this research can enhance and support the work of the student services staff and the campus at large The contributors describe how student affairs and faculty can collaborate to create an agenda for student related research review technological aids for collecting and analyzing data and discuss how student affairs researchers can make their role more vital to the campus by expanding into policy analysis and information brokering The volume also reports the results of a national study of thirty five centralized student affairs research offices including information on the types of research they have conducted and how institutional reorganization has impacted their research missions This is the 85th issue of the quarterly journal New Directions for Student Services Critical Issues in Judicial Affairs: Current Trends in Practice Wanda L. Mercer, 1996-07-12 In the past two decades judicial administrators have become increasingly concerned with training both newcomers and veterans in the field and networking among professionals concerned with the administration of student discipline This sourcebook provides judicial administrators with practical information and guidelines in many aspects of student discipline While the authors often rely on legal precedent and case law this issues oriented handbook also deals with current trAnds and recent topics of interest in judicial affairs This is the 73rd issue of the journal New Directions for Student Services For more information about the series please see the Journals and Periodicals page Beyond Law and Policy: Reaffirming the Role of Student Affairs Diane L. Cooper, James M. Lancaster, 1998-07-14 This volume examines higher education s apparent overreliance on policy and shows how we can redirect our attention to the ethical and developmental issues that underlie the undergraduate experience Authors discuss how learning communities and creeds can can help achieve balance between policy and personal responsibility how to deal with student misconduct in a way that both reduces the risk of litigation and furthers student development and how to promote multiculturalism without compromising individual rights and freedoms This is the 82nd issue of the quarterly journal New Directions for Student Services For more information on the series please see the Journals and Periodicals page Current Index to Journals in Education ,2002
Student Services for the Changing Graduate Student Population Anne S. Pruitt-Logan, 1995 The central theme of this volume of New Directions for Student Services is the graduate student experience It has been assumed that because graduate students have completed undergraduate degrees they have developed to the point where they can handle the new responsibilities of graduate study on their own Moreover because graduate study is characterized as trial by fire systems of support are seen as unnecessary Although there have always been those who have been alert to the attention these students need it has often been left to chance This book brings together in one place a discussion of issues and needs from the points of view of both graduate education and student affairs Drawing on the research and practical experiences of leading scholars the book leads off with excerpts from a graduate student's diary and then reviews the current landscape of graduate education The challenge to graduate education and student affairs concludes the volume This is the 72nd issue of the quarterly journal New Directions for Student Services For more information on the series please see the Journals and Periodicals page

Strategies for Staff Development: Personal and Professional Education in the 21st Century William A. Bryan, Robert A. Schwartz, 1998 An educated energetic and motivated student affairs staff is critical to the delivery of quality learning opportunities and services for students This volume offers a range of strategies for recruiting retaining and developing such a staff The authors show how supervisors and mentors can make a positive impact on staff members growth and discuss how to build a solid career foundation for entry level professionals They also describe the influence of behavioral style on professional development and present a performance based approach to human resource development that emphasizes goal setting coaching and performance assessment This is the 84th issue of the quarterly journal New Directions for Student Services

Student Services in a Changing Federal Climate Michael D. Coomes, 1994 Every aspect of campus life is affected by federal policy The federal government has become a significant force in the creation of individual campus policies Student affairs administrators must understand the nature of this federal intervention This volume of New Directions for Student Services provides an overview of the development of federal intervention and how the rationale for that involvement has changed over time The laws affecting student life on campus are also examined to help student affairs administrators understand the various mandates they must comply with on a daily basis This sourcebook also explains the federal policy process so that campus administrators can more effectively exercise their rights to influence that process Strategies are provided for administrators who must implement federal mandates on campus as well as warnings to be on guard against the loss of their liberties by overzealous federal enforcers This is the 68th issue of the quarterly journal New Directions for Student Services For more information on the series please see the Journals and Periodicals page

New Challenges for Greek Letter Organizations Edward G. Whipple, 1998-04-07 Greek organizations must demonstrate their educational value if they are to survive and thrive This volume examines how contemporary Greeks are coping with the age old problems of alcohol abuse and legal liability as well as the challenges presented by an increasingly diverse campus population The contributors show how student affairs professionals can help Greek organizations achieve their potential as learning communities and play a positive role in their members cognitive and ethical development This is the 81st issue of the quarterly journal New Directions for Student Services For more information on the series please see the Journals and Periodicals page

Serving Students at Metropolitan Universities: The Unique Opportunities and Challenges Larry H. Dietz, Vicky L. Triponey, 1997-10-04 Among the distinctive characteristics of U S postsecondary education are access choice and variety Students in this country have a diversity of choices as they seek college admission The possibilities boggle

the mind especially as college administrators contemplate how to meet the service needs of diverse student populations with differing needs abilities and aspirations It becomes an even greater challenge when one realizes that most institutions are confronted with students who fit into not one but several of these life situation categories Thus the challenge becomes one of how an institution should plan program and budget to meet the diverse and changing demands for services and resources This challenge is faced by student affairs administrators regardless of the type of institution but it is particularly demanding in a metropolitan university setting A paucity of research is available about students who choose to attend metropolitan universities and little opportunity exists for sharing ideas and expertise on how to meet the needs of these less than traditional students
