

Addressing Objections - 2

The Jews were not carrying out executions under Roman rule -Jn 18:31. Divorce was the response to adultery. This should be what Jesus affirmed and he must have meant “except she commits adultery.”

Reply: Such assertion is faulty for several reasons. It makes it seem that:

- Jesus conformed to whatever the people were practicing rather than uphold what the law of God then stated.
- The Israelite leaders were right when they mischievously said unto Pilate that “It is not lawful for us to put any man to death:” in Jn 18:31.

To claim that the Israelites did not carry out executions as per the Law of Moses is to have no respect for scriptures.

Religious Beliefs and Conscientious Exemptions in a Liberal State John Adenitire,2019-06-13 The central focus of this edited collection is on the ever growing practice in liberal states to claim exemption from legal duties on the basis of a conscientious objection Traditional claims have included objections to compulsory military draft and to the provision of abortions Contemporary claims include objections to anti discrimination law by providers of public services such as bakers and B B hoteliers who do not want to serve same sex couples The book investigates the practice both traditional and contemporary from three distinct perspectives theoretical doctrinal with special emphasis on UK Canadian and US law and comparative Cumulatively the contributors provide a comprehensive set of reflections on how the practice is to be viewed and carried out in the context of a liberal state Rethinking Conscientious Objection in Healthcare Alberto. Giubilini,Udo Schuklenk,Francesca Minerva,Julian Savulescu,2025 Societies around the world are becoming increasingly multicultural while the range of new or controversial medical procedures that are available to patients also grows This has led to an increase in claims from health care professionals regarding their right to abide by their own moral or religious views and refuse a long list medical interventions or drugs This list includes abortions euthanasia access to contraceptives sterilizations cosmetic surgery and many others Depending on circumstances these interventions might or might not be consistent with professional standards however when deciding whether to provide them many doctors would rely on their own conscientious views about the morality of each case instead of professional standards As societies become more pluralistic and the range of medical options continues to grow it is inevitable that the problem of conscientious objection in health care will as well Rethinking Conscientious Objection in Health Care presents the case against the right of health care professionals to refuse delivery of certain health care services based on their moral views It provides philosophical analyses of conscience and freedom of conscience as well as the arguments and principles typically utilized when arguing in favor of allowing health care professionals conscientious objection The authors criticize those arguments and offer a philosophical and historical analysis of the concept of professionalism as well as an appeal to the nature of professional obligations to build their case against the right to conscientious objection in health care They explain why arguments for pluralism tolerance and diversity which support a right to freedom of conscience in society at large do not necessarily support the same right within the health care profession or indeed any profession that is governed by internal norms of professionalism which an individual freely decides to enter Subject Catalog Library of Congress, Catalogue of Additions to the Manuscripts in the British Museum in the Years ... British Museum. grievances to the door of the All Saints Church of Wittenberg and condemned the Catholic Church's teaching of indulgences as nothing but a scheme to raise money for the church. It is a supreme irony of history that five hundred years later it is now a subset of the Protestant Church that is defrauding the faithful. The Catholic Church's teaching of indulgences and the evangelical movement's teaching of tithing to be blessed are substantially the same and lead to the same result. In both cases the church walks away with a bag of money and the Christian walks away with a bag full of empty promises. This book explains why I am losing faith in the church but finding faith in Christ. The reason for this is that I began finding answers to some of the most elusive questions about God. Something is preventing God from doing all the good that he would otherwise want to do. But here is the problem: How can God have limitations? If he has limitations then he must not be divine. However, there is one thing that could prevent a good all-powerful God from doing all the good that he would otherwise want to do: that would not detract at all from his omnipotence. What this is and how it holds the key to unlocking some of the most perplexing mysteries of God is explained in this book.

Is the Bible God's Word? Yes. Is Jesus the Messiah, the Son of God, and the only Mediator between a sinful people and a perfect, holy and righteous God? Yes. Is the Christian faith supported by reasonable, provable, historical, archaeological, and philosophical evidence? Yes, yes, and yes. The word apologetics comes from two Greek words: apo, out from, and logos, logic, and it literally means to give out a logical defense, apologia. In Christianity, it means to give out logical reasons for our faith to defend the truth of Scripture and to give reasons for believing in Christ. Like Paul, I am set for the defense, apologia, of the gospel. Philippians 1:17. Like Peter, I am ready always to give an answer, apologia, to everyone who asks why I trust Christ. 1 Peter 3:15. Like Jude, I am prepared to earnestly contend, epi agn zomai, agonize, fight for the faith. Jude 3. I have written this book to defend and contend for the Christian faith. I want to let others know why I believe the Bible is God's Word and Jesus is God's Son. 2 Timothy 3:16. John 1:34.

The Churchman, 1886 North-western Christian Advocate, 1897 Freedom, Teleology, and Evil Stewart Goetz, 2008-01-01

Stewart Goetz presents a thought-provoking defence of the existence of libertarian freedom of will, arguing that choices are essentially uncaused events with teleological explanations.
