Security Sector Reform Issues Challenges And Prospects:

Reform and Reconstruction of the Security Sector Alan Bryden, Heiner Hänggi, 2004 Security sector reform SSR is widely recognised as key to conflict prevention peace building sustainable development and democratisation SSR has gained most practical relevance in the context of post conflict reconstruction of so called failed states and states emerging from violent internal or inter state conflict As this volume shows almost all states need to reform their security sectors to a greater or lesser extent according to the specific security political and socio economic contexts as well as in response to the new security challenges resulting from globalisation and post 9 11 developments Contributions from academics and practitioners elaborate on both the conceptual underpinnings and the practical realities of security sector reform and a crucial aspect of post conflict peace building security sector reconstruction

Security Sector Reform Jane Chanaa, 2002 Over the last decade the failure of countries to emerge from conflict has focused attention on state security sectors This book examines how the external approaches to security sector reform SSR have evolved and what they entail the specific problems faced by the SSR agenda and what policy recommendations for engagement can be drawn from reform experiences

The Politics of Security Sector Reform Magnus Ekengren, 2016-02-24 Security Sector Reform SSR is increasingly becoming a cornerstone in international security and development cooperation Indeed the concept has often been seen as a panacea for many of the biggest threats to the world such as failed states terrorism and poverty In particular this book focuses on the complexities of implementation of SSR across the globe and the actual and potential role for the European Union EU to play in SSR As suggested in the title of the book this involves not only opportunities but challenges to be overcome as well There are three core themes to this book Policy Policies and Practice By presenting the themes in this particular order a greater appreciation of the influences on the process of SSR from conception to implementation is relayed to the reader This volume appeals to audiences interested in the EU as a global actor and the interrelationships between foreign security defence and development policies

Security Sector Reform in Conflict-Affected Countries Mark Sedra, 2016-11-03 This book examines the evolution impact and future prospects of the Security Sector Reform SSR model in conflict affected countries in the context of the wider debate over the liberal peace project Since its emergence as a concept in the late 1990s SSR has represented a paradigm shift in security assistance from the realist regime centric train and equip approach of the Cold War to a new liberal holistic and people centred model The rapid rise of this model however belied its rather meagre impact on the ground This book critically examines the concept and its record of achievement over the past two decades putting it into the broader context of peace building and state building theory and practice It focuses attention on the most common celebrated and complex setting for SSR conflict affected environments and comparatively examines the application and impacts of donor supported SSR programming in a series of conflict affected countries over the past two decades including Afghanistan Sierra Leone the Democratic Republic of Congo East Timor and Bosnia Herzegovina The broader aim of the book is to better understand how the contemporary SSR model has coalesced over the past two decades and become mainstreamed in international development and security policy and practice This provides a solid foundation to investigate the reasons for the poor performance of the model and to assess its prospects for the future This book will be of much interest to students of international security peacebuilding statebuilding development studies and IR in general

Handbook of International Security and Development Paul Jackson, 2015-02-27 Providing a comprehensive introduction to the literature and approaches used in the field this illustrious Handbook explores and interrogates the link between security and development at a global level whilst offering a broad survey of current thinking Security Sector Reform in Nepal, Challenges and Opportunities Dhruva Kumar, Hari Sharma, 2005 Towards Security Sector Reform in Post Cold War Europe Wilhelm N. Germann, 2003 Security Sector Reform SSR is a broad and ambitious notion that concerns establishing and improving those security relationships and architectures most commonly associated with liberal democracy Starting from the premise that there is no universally applicable model for SSR this volume explores the question how best to evaluate SSR in European context and analyses the conditions for determining and confirming criteria of success in this regard The systematic gathering analysing and evaluating of international expertise in democratic control management and reform of the security sector is one of the main functions of the Geneva Centre of the Democratic Control of Armed Forces DCAF International Seminar Risks, Challenges, and Opportunities in the Black Sea Area at a Time of Structural Change, 2002 Toward a Peaceable Future Yōichirō Murakami, Noriko Kawamura, Shin Chiba, 2005 In a pioneering cross cultural transnational and multifaceted endeavor Japanese and American scholars from various disciplines jointly explore challenging questions by redefining the three key concepts of peace security and kyosei The book offers new perspectives for interdisciplinary peace studies and stimulates a public dialogue on how to shape a safer and more peaceful future for individuals communities and nations Clean, Lean, and Able David C. Gompert, Olga Oliker, Anga Timilsina, 2004 Just a decade ago dramatic developments held out the promise of a secure free prosperous fair and inclusive world There was hope that the East would democratize the South would develop and both would join the West in a global commonwealth of political and economic freedom Despite some notable successes today's reality falls well short of that vision Since the end of the Cold War the gap in per capita annual income between rich and poor countries has grown vast populations in Africa and elsewhere exist in destitution and desperation and undeveloped regions still suffer under authoritarian rule economic mismanagement ethnic feuding and international disputes Add to the equation the proliferation of dangerous weapons the rise of religious fanaticism and the predation of terrorists and the result is that these regions are becoming not less but more hazardous to themselves and to the rest of the world This issue paper examines the ineffective wasteful unaccountable and often kleptocratic character of developing countries' defense institutions including their militaries It discusses defense development also known as defense sector reform for countries that should be going through political and economic transition The authors argue that approaches to defense development to date have lacked strategic commitment clear institutional responsibility objective metrics and leverage They point out that the security situation in much of the developing world is bad enough to warrant shaping up and cleaning up and this paper is intended to provoke a critical and urgent look at this problem and how it should be tackled

Intergovernmental Organisations and Security Sector Reform David Murray Law, David Law, 2007 Intergovernmental organisations IGOs play a crucial role in security sector reform and governance SSR G In virtually all instances of recent and current SSR programme delivery IGOs have either led the SSR effort or supported the lead provided by other actors How this role is played is of vital importance for the prospects of fostering durable security and development in a wide range of countries This volume looks at a selection of organisations that have been in the forefront of SSR activity or that have the potential for significantly developing their SSR agendas in the future These IGOs are the Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development OECD the European Union EU the North Atlantic Treaty Organisation NATO the Organisation for Security and Co operation in Europe OSCE the Council of Europe CoE the Economic Organisation of West African States ECOWAS the World Bank WB and the International Monetary Fund

The Academy Journal of Defence Studies ,2009-02 Security Sector Reform in Liberia Mark Malan,2008 The author presents an explanatory overview and analysis of progress made with the process of security sector reform in Liberia with particular reference to the armed forces and the police The author begins with a concise review of what the theory of SSR and its application in the Liberian context and follows with a description of Liberia s post war security architecture and the urgent need for a comprehensive and sustained process of reform An overview of the legal and conceptual framework for engaging in SSR in Liberia is provided as further backdrop to substantive sections dealing with the reform or re building of the Armed Forces of Liberia and the Liberia National Police The author concludes with a critical analysis of the SSR process and recommendations for further action Peace Research Abstracts Journal ,2004 Challenges of Security Sector Governance Heiner Hänggi,Theodor Winkler,2003 The war in Iraq in spring 2003 was a further indication of the resecuritization of international relations triggered by the terrorist attacks of September 11 2001 However the new or renewed primacy of security will be of a rather different nature as compared to the Cold War period The underlying assumption of the essays in this volume is that security issues will increasingly be approached from a governance perspective and that in this context the internal dimension of security governance security sector governance is an issue whose rapidly growing importance has not yet been duly recognized Heiner Hnggi is assistant director of the Geneva Centre for the Democratic Control of Armed Forces Theodor H Winkler is director of the Geneva Centre for the Democratic Control of Armed Forces Arming Conflict Mike Bourne,2007-07-12 This book uncovers and analyzes the structures and dynamics of the proliferation of small arms and light weapons that fuel conflicts The DAC Journal ,2001
