VALUES BULLSEYE EXERCISE

Identify through your vision, then make an "X" in each one of the four boxes. Below to represent where you are standing today. If you place an "X" in the bull's eye (center of the board), it means that you're being fully by your values. As it is from the bull's eye means that you are way off the mark in terms of being by your values.

provide different vantage points on the quotidian impacts of militarism whether it is the banality of everyday violence for non combatants or the daily struggles of soldiers living with physical and emotional trauma Three interrelated concepts frame the book s attempt to stay in the moment of looking at visual cultures of survival First the concept of the war in between captures those interstitial spaces of war where violence and survival persist side by side Second this book expands the concept of indexicality to consider how images of the in between rely on a range of indexical traces to produce alternative visualities about survival and endurance Third the book introduces an asymptotic analysis to explore the value in getting close to the diverse experiences that comprise the war in between even if the horizon line of experience is always just out of reach Exploring the capaciousness of survival reveals that there is more to feel and engage in war images than just mangled bodies collapsing buildings and industrialized death The War In Between Kozol argues offers not a better truth about war but an accounting of visualities that arise at the otherwise unthinkable junction of conflict and survival
