Strachan, 2009 Responding to climate change is a global challenge with significant implications for small developing countries Debate on how trade policy can mitigate the effects of climate change has so far centred on developed countries and the large emerging economies especially China Brazil and India but what are the implications for small and vulnerable economies SVEs least developed countries LDCs and small island developing states SIDS These countries are the most vulnerable to the effects of climate change but they are least equipped to deal with changes in trade policy Trade Climate Change and Sustainable Development examines the opportunities and multiple large scale challenges they face in adapting key trade sectors to the impact climate change addressing climate change measures and furthering their own trade capacity and competitiveness in the global market This book is the result of a joint project between the Commonwealth Secretariat and the International Centre for Trade and Sustainable Development Geneva It will be of interest to policy makers and anyone who wants to gain a clear understanding of the implications of climate change on the economies of smaller developing states BOOK PUBLISHER WEBSITE Environmental Codes of Conduct for Tourism United Nations Environment Programme. Industry & Environment Office, 1995 Over the last years voluntary environmental codes of conduct have come to the fore as a new and promising tool to raise awareness of environmental issues and improve behaviour and practices They provide an interesting complement to other tools such as regulations and economic instruments Chapter 30 of Agenda 21 encourages business and industry to adopt and report on the implementation of codes of conduct promoting best environmental practice Within the tourism industry they are now sufficiently numerous and widespread to warrant an interim review of their content and effectiveness Environmental codes of conduct for tourism is a technical report based on the results of a survey and analysis of existing codes developed by countries industry associations and NGOs It offers not only examples of environmental codes for the tourism industry for host communities and for tourists but also essential elements common to successful codes and some of the most common pitfalls implementation and monitoring tools and programmes currently in use to activate codes and monitor and report on performance references and useful addresses
