of CLS s affect many different stakeholders and the interorganizational relationships between them The implementation of CLS s therefore faces three challenges management of transport to and from construction sites management of logistics at construction sites and managing the interorganizational relationships amongst construction project stakeholders The development of CLS s is often undertaken by mimicking previous setups as there is currently no guiding procedure for developing and implementing CLS s To reduce the ad hoc approach to developing and implementing CLS s the purpose of this dissertation is to propose a framework for developing construction logistics setups The purpose is fulfilled with the aid of the following four research questions RQ1 Taking the perspectives of different stakeholders why are CLS s implemented RQ2 What type of CLS services are offered RQ3 How can performance effects of CLS s be measured RQ4 How do CLS s affect the identified challenges of managing the transports to and from construction sites managing logistics at construction sites and managing the interorganizational relationships amongst construction project stakeholders To answer the research questions three main methodologies have been used literature reviews to inform the background of the studies and develop analytical frameworks and case study and Delphi research for the empirical studies In fulfilling the research purpose the findings of this dissertation suggests that when developing a CLS three activities need to be considered 1 setting the scope of the CLS 2 deciding on the structure of the CLS and 3 managing the interorganizational relationships of the CLS These activities are the foundation of the developed framework The contents of the activities were derived through the research questions When answering RQ1 it was found that contractors implement CLS s to ensure construction productivity developers implement CLS s to reduce disturbances to businesses and residents nearby and municipalities implement CLS s to reduce disturbances to third parties and to reduce the impact from construction logistics on the urban transport system These stakeholder drivers for implementing CLS s will impact the scope of the CLS Furthermore the scope of the CLS was found to be dependent on both the contextual considerations of the CLS in terms of physical context at site and in terms of what is being built as well as the organizational context in terms of what stakeholders are part of the project where in the hierarchy the CLS is located and what level of mandate the CLS has The scope will also set the terms for how transports are managed through the CLS If for instance there is limited space at site this can imply that time planned deliveries are favoured In answering RQ2 it was found that as a consequence of what transport management approach is chosen the structure of the CLS will differ This dissertation shows that asset based setups are similar to traditional logistics outsourcing and TPL in which physical distribution services are offered Non asset based services on the other hand act more as supply chain orchestrators similar to fourth party logistics service providers In these cases supplied services are aimed more at ensuring that the right services and capabilities can be procured for the CLS One value adding service that was found crucial to include in CLS s is a joint booking and planning system Having this type of support systems will allow the CLS to coordinate the different stakeholders connected to the CLS Related to the structure of the CLS RQ3 suggest that performance needs to be monitored for deliveries on site logistics and the coordination of logistics activities on and off site The performance monitoring needs to be developed from a logistics point of view taking into consideration the different stakeholders perspectives Finally in answering RQ4 it was found that a CLS can affect the identified challenges positively In essence a CLS aims at managing construction logistics and if developed and implemented from this notion transports to and from site as well as on site logistics management can become more efficient Additionally the dissertation shows that CLS s can help in managing the interorganizational relationships within the construction project s However this builds on the notion of having well developed and communicated service offerings and regulations e g through business and governance models It was also found that the activities of the framework are interrelated and dependent on one another suggesting that developing construction logistics setups is an iterative process The proposed framework should thus be seen as a guideline for how to develop the setup allowing for adaptations of the setup to the context for which it is developed
