Richard Steven Street

Photographing Farm Workers:

Photographing Farmworkers in California Richard Steven Street, 2004 The work of nearly every photographer of consequence since the nineteenth century is captured in this collection of photographs of California farmworkers raising moral questions about the exploitation and colonization of an entire class of people A Critical History of Photography in the Netherlands Saskia Asser, 2007 The themes of the Dutch Eyes exhibition were chosen for their significance to the history of photography as well as to the country's cultural history Areas of particular interest include distinctive 19th century photographs taken by engineers the debate about photography's status as an art form at the start of the 20th century the catastrophic flood in 1953 the former colonies and U 2018 the self-critical gaze This thematic approach makes it possible to see work by famous photographers alongside work by unknown figures who wielded the camera The exhibition includes an abundance of work that has never previously been shown from collections including those of the Rijksmuseum Stedelijk Museum Amsterdam Leiden University's Print Room Amsterdam City Archives and the Nederlands Fotomuseum

Everyone Had Cameras Richard Steven Street, 2008 American photographers have been fascinated by the lives of California farmworkers since the time of the daguerreotype From the earliest Gold Rush era images and the documentary photographs taken during the Great Depression to digital images today photographers and farmworkers in California have had a complicated and continuously changing bond In Everyone Had Cameras Richard Steven Street provides a comprehensive history of the significant presence of California farmworkers in the visual culture of America Back cover
