Philosophy And Science As Modes Of Knowing Selected Essays:

Philosophy and Science as Modes of Knowing Alden L. Fisher, George B. Murray, 1969 Models and Methods in the Philosophy of Science: Selected Essays Patrick Suppes, 2013-03-14 The thirty one papers collected in this volume represent most of the articles that I have published in the philosophy of science and related foundational areas of science since 1970 The present volume is a natural successor to Studies in the Methodology and Foundations of Science a collection of my articles published in 1969 by Reidel now a part of Kluwer The articles are arranged under five main headings Part I contains six articles on general methodology The topics range from formal methods to the plurality of science Part II contains six articles on causality and explanation The emphasis is almost entirely on probabilistic approaches Part III contains six articles on probability and measurement The importance of representation theorems for both probability and measurement is stressed Part IV contains five articles on the foundations of physics The first three articles are concerned with action at a distance and space and time the last two with quantum mechanics Part V contains eight articles on the foundations of psychology This is the longest part and the articles reflect my continuing strong interest in the nature of learning and perception Within each part the articles are arranged chronologically I turn now to a more detailed overview of the content The first article of Part I concerns the role of formal methods in the philosophy of science Here I discuss what is the new role for formal methods now that the imperialism of logical positivism has disappeared

Philosophy and Science as Modes of Knowledge Alden L. Fischer, George B. Murray, 1969 Logic and Scientific Methods Maria Luisa Dalla Chiara, Kees Doets, Daniele Mundici, Johan van Benthem, 2013-06-29 This is the first of two volumes comprising the papers submitted for publication by the invited participants to the Tenth International Congress of Logic Methodology and Philosophy of Science held in Florence August 1995 The Congress was held under the auspices of the International Union of History and Philosophy of Science Division of Logic Methodology and Philosophy of Science The invited lectures published in the two volumes demonstrate much of what goes on in the fields of the Congress and give the state of the art of current research The two volumes cover the traditional subdisciplines of mathematical logic and philosophical logic as well as their interfaces with computer science linguistics and philosophy Philosophy of science is broadly represented too including general issues of natural sciences social sciences and humanities The papers in Volume One are concerned with logic mathematical logic the philosophy of logic and mathematics and computer science
