Philosophy Of Being Human:

Being Human Roger Smith, 2007 Challenging commonly held biological religious and ethical beliefs internationally well known historian of science Roger Smith boldly argues that human nature is not some thing awaiting discovery but is active in understanding itself According to Smith being human is a self creation made possible through a reflective circle of thought and action with a past and a future and studying this history from a range of perspectives is fundamental to human self understanding Smith s argument brings together historical and contemporary debates concerning materialism and human nature and the relations of the different fields of knowledge He draws on classic writings from across the human sciences touching on sociology anthropology brain sciences history philosophical hermeneutics and critical theory and demonstrates that there is no position outside history for an absolutely objective or eternally valid view of human nature The question what is human does not have and could not possible have one answer Instead there exists a variety of answers for different purposes and there are good reasons for the many conceptions of what it is to be human Smith does not treat human nature as only biological economic or moral but as a multidimensional subject that should be considered in its proper historical context By understanding this context Smith believes we can come to a truer understanding of ourselves Persuasively and elegantly written Being Human takes an important new turn in the philosophical study of being human

Being Human Richard Gross, 2012 A fascinating account of the psychological characteristics of human beings in which the author contemplates one of the biggest questions of them all what makes us human and how do we differ from the other lifeforms that share this planet

Becoming Human Zakiyyah Iman Jackson, 2020-05-19 Winner 2021 Gloria E Anzald a Book Prize given by the National Women s Studies Association Winner 2021 Harry Levin Prize given by the American Comparative Literature Association Winner 2021 Lambda Literary Award in LGBTQ Studies Argues that Blackness disrupts our essential ideas of race gender and ultimately the human Rewriting the pernicious enduring relationship between Blackness and animality in the history of Western science and philosophy Becoming Human Matter and Meaning in an Antiracist World breaks open the rancorous debate between Black critical theory and posthumanism Through the cultural terrain of literature by Toni Morrison Nalo Hopkinson Audre Lorde and Octavia Butler the art of Wangeci Mutu and Ezra Leary and the oratory of Frederick Douglass Zakiyyah Iman Jackson both critiques and displaces the racial logic that has dominated scientific thought since the Enlightenment In so doing Becoming Human demonstrates that the history of racialized gender and maternity specifically anti Blackness is indispensable to future thought on matter materiality animality and posthumanism Jackson argues that African diasporic cultural production alters the meaning of being human and engages in imaginative practices of world building against a history of the bestialization and thingification of Blackness the process of imagining the Black person as an empty vessel a non being an ontological zero and the violent imposition of colonial myths of racial hierarchy She creatively responds to the animalization of Blackness by generating alternative frameworks of thought and relationality that not only disrupt the racialization of the human animal distinction found in Western science and philosophy but also challenge the epistemic and material terms under which the specter of animal life acquires its authority. What emerges is a radically unruly sense of a being knowing feeling existence one that necessarily ruptures the foundations of the human.

Being Human in the Ultimate ,2022-03-16 For John M Anderson philosophy as the love of wisdom is a concern for what is ultimate. The essays in this volume take to heart this understanding of philosophy and are therefore responses to the ultimate. The first four essays by Kaelin Schrag Baillif and Johnstone deal with Anderson's own account of ultimacy as it is presented in his reflections on the aesthetic occasion the experience of the sublime on freedom and on insight. The concern for what is ultimate is formulated differently by each of the other eight essays. Desmond articulates ways of our encounter with the ultimate by means of what he calls essential perplexity. Gendlin reflects on Aristotle's characterization of thinking as an activity that is ultimate. Biemel and Lingis present death as an aspect of the ultimate. Hersch sees our loss of meaning and value as the result of our refusal of finitude and thus of our denial of the ultimate which reveals itself in this finitude. Ginsberg initiates us into the ultimacy of the human encounter that is dialogue. Verene speaks of the ultimate through his account of the fool. For Kockelmans philosophy unlike science deals with what is as it manifests itself in our encounter with our lived world which is a source of meaning and in that sense an ultimate. Finally John M Anderson writes of the awareness of our becoming more than we are and does so by bespeaking the origin of the dialogue we are.

and your knowledge and understanding can help you find a place of peace in the life you live On Being Human Erich Fromm, 2013-02-26 An insightful look at alienation in the modern world from the New York Times bestselling author of The Art of Loving and Escape from Freedom Social psychologist Erich Fromm observed the spread of alienation in the 1960s arguing that humans who were once dynamic creative beings were reduced to fixating on TV screens emotionally paralyzed by anxieties over threats like nuclear war Though we may stare at different devices and worry about other dangers today his insights are as useful as ever and allow us to gain perspective on the human condition A collection of his writings on New Humanism and the need to reclaim our happiness and peace of mind this is a thoughtful fascinating overview of the past that shaped us and the philosophies and practices that can ensure a better future both for ourselves and for the world at large Included are reflections on thinkers from Karl Marx to medieval Catholic mystic Meister Eckhart as Fromm's large keen mind and attractive likable voice strive for heart as he asks himself the hardest questions of his day Kirkus Reviews This ebook features an illustrated biography of Erich Fromm including rare images and never before seen documents from the author's estate Twentieth-Century Western Philosophy of Religion 1900-2000 Eugene Thomas Long, 2012-12-06 In the fall of 1994 Hendrik Jan van Leusen an acquisitions editor from Kluwer Academic Publishers visited me in my home to discuss a proposal for a handbook in the philosophy of religion He reported that he had been talking about this with philosophers of religion at several universities and that the response to the idea had been quite favorable I suggested that given the different approaches to the philosophy of religion it might be good for him to meet with philosophers representing different philosophical traditions at an upcoming meeting of the Eastern Division of the American Philosophical Association Jude Dougherty Joseph Kockelmans Robert Neville William Rowe and Merold Westphal kindly agreed to attend that meeting They made many substantial and helpful suggestions and a summary of the discussions was sent to van Leusen Some months later he wrote to inquire whether I might consider editing the series and writing the first volume which was to provide a historical map of twentieth century western philosophy of religion Although I could imagine myself editing the series I was initially reluctant to undertake the task of writing a volume that would take me across the lines of many different philosophical traditions By coincidence I had been asked some months earlier to contribute an essay on the philosophy of religion for a conference being held at the Catholic University of America on the general topic One Hundred Years of Philosophy

Philosophers Past and Present Barry Stroud, 2011-06-30 This volume of uncollected essays by Barry Stroud explores central ideas in the work of individual philosophers from Descartes Berkeley and Locke to Quine Burge McDowell Goldman Fogelin and Sosa Stroud confronts a series of philosophical issues and examines the sources implications and legacy of Hume's naturalism and scepticism The Epistemology of Comparative Philosophy Joseph Kaipayil, 1995 The Philosophical Works of David Hume David Hume, 1875 Women and Gender in Jewish Philosophy Hava Tirosh-Samuelson, 2004-06-18 Proceedings of a conference held Feb 25 26 2001 at Arizona State University The Journal of Speculative Philosophy, 1877 Moral and Metaphysical Philosophy Frederick Denison Maurice, 1873 A Brief Text-book of Logic and Mental Philosophy Charles Coppens, 1891 Studies in Philosophy and the History of Philosophy John Kenneth Ryan, 1986 Being in Time to the Music David Ross, 2008-12-18

Being in time to the music from the ground up is a work in phenomenology where this term is broadly defined comprehending Plato Heidegger Hegel and Marx. The most direct referent is Hegel together with the theoretical revolution that he initiated with Phenomenology of Mind. This text's more general purpose is to set the tone for a 21st communism based upon the idea of dancing with death assuming full responsibility for one's mortality and abandoning the self to love as the meaning of existence. This dance is choreographed through my conversations with the above mentioned writers. In conversing with them I aim to displace if not usurp them from the throne of honour which is nothing more than the authority borrowed from me. By this I do not intend to deny completely their other to me character. However they exist or even figure for me both in the sense of of count having importance as those that I read and by which I read myself. They have borrowed my authority namely my own potential to be an author. So reading them is to re-assume that borrowed authority. The life of the reader to paraphrase Barthes begins with the death of the author.
