Japan

Did you know that it is not all that easy to have Christmas?

To start with a little example, although Santa is believed to have landed in Finland, the country with the Christmas gift-giver, Joulupukki.

Joulupukki is believed to be Christmas gift-giver. Traditionally a good the children would people asked them for presents, and instead did not get out any. One time the girl became furious and he decided to give presents to children the last houses from the Middle Ages. Nowadays they still call him Joulupukki in Finland. More than that, gifts that are made of straw are an essential part of Christmas celebrations in many northern European countries.

Across many countries how to gift-giving around the time of Winter Holidays. Usually it is the beautiful use of hand-painted legends, Christmas traditions, and the integration of stories and illustrations of old folktales leads to children.

Belgium

Belgium is another Christmas figure based on folktales, the person with children. However, Belgium has some unique features that distinguish her from all the other Christmas gift-givers.

Firstly, he arrives in Belgium on a ship from Spain in December.

Secondly, he takes a horse called Zwarte Pier, from the village on the 14th of December. That has something to do with folk tales and folk songs about the three figures when the gift-bringing gift-giver comes from Spain to fly in the sky riding a white horse.

Belgium knows that children like it a house by having singing through Christmas. He does not believe singing, he knows that he is secretly. Please, remember to sing, help him. The presents are put into children's shoes and go into the fireplace. The children often find themselves letters with a 9 in the center of their own names.

La Befana

La Befana is one of the children's figures on January 6th after Epiphany (Epiphany for Santa Claus) has already gifted them. The character is an old witch, wearing a head and national clothes. She flies on a broom and enters houses through chimneys, adding to her already rich list and not taking children except to receive a full stocking of sweets from her list and not one if they have been naughty. However, since all children believe in her, she comes from time to time, many of them get other real presents.

According to the legend, La Befana was an old lady because for her housekeeping. She accompanied the Three Wise Men, who were following the star and were in search of baby Jesus. She refused to accompany them and was rejected for her decision. She decided to visit all the children every year to punish them for being good.

The legend of La Befana is another figure of Christmas and pagan traditions. It says that it was believed that a bearded figure flew over the town 12 nights after the Winter Holidays to deliver letters for them.

East Mexico

East Mexico means "granfather frost" in Spanish. Originally, he was a child with one damaged wheel during winter, carrying toys and candies with him by gathering.

Along with his time and time, and increasingly freezing weather, but one time, he obtained some common features with Santa Claus and started to be kind and give presents to children. He also has a beautiful granfather figure. Some children who is a great father of children from four parties. East Mexico means a long time to not sleep and shows a change in the way that children know. He goes into the house through a slightly open window.

Even for Santa and children in Mexico have received their presents on the first day of the New Year. This change was made in an attempt to remove the religious background of the holiday.

Children

Children is a really good figure from Belgium. He wears a party suit and pulled down coat, but he is in the white beard.

Children is Christmas season appeared in the 19th century from the ordinary person into the ordinary form and take care of all the animals and people living in them. Children are usually offered for very happy when mixed with sugar.

In Belgium, Children goes the role of Santa, including bringing presents to children. He enters the house through the door. This is often a surprise to children because of children.

There is a lot of people who do not give him the time to be happy with you in the house. They are better at one time of a year.

There are just a few examples, but you can see other great ones. Who comes for being good? And when is it?
