Does SNAP Decrease Food Insecurity? Mark Nord,2009 Self selection by more food needy households into the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program SNAP formerly called the Food Stamp Program makes it difficult to observe positive effects of the program in survey data This study investigates self selection and ameliorative program effects by examining households food security month by month for several months prior to initial receipt of SNAP benefits and for several months after joining the program Food security is observed to deteriorate in the 6 months prior to beginning to receive SNAP benefits and to improve shortly after The results clearly demonstrate the self selection by households into SNAP at a time when they are more severely food insecure Charts and tables

The 1.5 Billion People Question Harold Alderman,Ugo Gentilini,Ruslan Yemtsov,2017-10-12 Most of the people in low and middle income countries covered by social protection receive assistance in the form of in kind food The origin of such support is rooted in countries historical pursuit of three interconnected objectives namely attaining self sufficiency in food managing domestic food prices and providing income support to the poor This volume sheds light on the complex bumpy and non linear process of how some flagship food based social protection programs have evolved over time and how they currently work In particular it lays out the broad trends in reforms including a growing move from in kind modalities to cash transfers from universality to targeting and from agriculture to social protection Case studies from Egypt India Indonesia Mexico Sri Lanka and United States document the specific experiences of managing the process of reform and implementation including enhancing our understanding of the opportunities and challenges with different social protection transfer modalities
