Making Sense of Complexity in Projects Steve

Raue,2024-11-25 This book explores project management PM from a new perspective Project management is facing a paradigmatic stalemate Its major challenge is complexity Its current paradigmatic foundation in first order cybernetics has reached its limits More tools are created and project management is applied to any potential context expecting better results while doing more of the same Beyond conventional project management agile and other project management approaches have emerged as new options to answer the complexity challenge Yet the question remains whether new options and more tools in light of the current shortcomings can create enough momentum for project management as a whole to overcome its paradigmatic stalemate and evolve toward new paradigms based on second order cybernetics This book will embark on a journey to explore current paradigms in project management and argue why an analysis of discourse practices in project management may be critical to generating new paradigmatic perspectives The aim of this book is to provide an alternative perspective on projects as discourses and project management as a means to observe and conduct these discourses Instead of defining what projects and project management are the approach is to look at what people talk about when doing projects and apply project management It will arrive at a picture of how discourses about project management are shaped and institutionalised through the sensemaking of individuals and selected communities in their specific project practice and how these discourses shape project management in turn It is argued that this self reinforcing circle leads to a certain solidification of project management paradigms which prove insufficient in dealing with project complexity However it will also be argued that project practitioners can utilise their self reflection and self description of these discourse conventions to obtain more meaningful project conversations and arrive at a unified and systemically integrated understanding of project management This book will be of particular relevance to those interested in current issues underlying project management More generally it will be a valuable resource for researchers of project management organisational studies and governance

Animal Narratology Joela Jacobs,2020-12-15 Animal Narratology interrogates what it means to narrate to speak speak for on behalf of and to voice or represent life beyond the human which is in itself as different as insects bears and dogs are from each other and yet more as individual as a single mouse horse or puma The varied contributions to this interdisciplinary Special Issue highlight assumptions about the human perception of attitude toward and responsibility for the animals that are read and written about thus demonstrating that just as the animal does not exist neither does the human In their zoopoetic focus the analyses are aware that animal narratology ultimately always contains an approximation of an animal perspective in human terms and terminology yet they make clear that what matters is how the animal is approximated and that there is an effort to approach and encounter the non human in the first place Many of the analyses come to the conclusion that literary animals give readers the opportunity to expand their own points of view both on themselves and others by adopting another s perspective to the degree that such an endeavor is possible Ultimately the contributions call for a recognition of the many spaces moments and modes in which human lives are entangled with those of animals one of which is located within the creative bounds of storytelling     The Duino Elegies Rainer Maria Rilke,1972     The Connection ,2001     Proceedings ,1959     Daily Variety ,1958     Saturday Review of Literature ,1932     Open City John Knechtel,1998 Hailed as one of the best avant garde magazines available ALPHABET CITY is now published in annual book form The 1998 issue OPEN CITY is an investigation into the city its nature its possible future and its emergence as one of the most contested economic cultural and political sites of our time     Planning American Society of Planning Officials,1957
