sensation in some part of your body the feeling that something is not right The fear that something is in fact very wrong

These could be symptoms of illness But they could also be the symptoms of hypochondria an enigmatic condition that might be physiological or psychological or both In this landmark book Caroline Crampton tells the story of hypochondria beginning in the age of Hippocrates and taking us right through to the wellness industry today Along the way we encounter successive generations of doctors positing new theories as well as quacks selling spurious cure alls to the desperate And we meet those who have suffered with conditions both real and imagined including Moliere Darwin Woolf Freud Larkin and Proust whose symptoms and sensitivities gradually narrowed his life to the space of his cork lined bedroom Crampton also examines the gendered nature of the medical response the financial and social factors at play and the ways in which modern technology simultaneously feeds our fears and holds out the promise of relief Drawing on Crampton s own experience of surviving a life threatening disease only to find herself beset by almost constant anxiety about her health A Body Made of Glass explores part of the landscape of illness that most memoirs don t reach the territory beyond survival or cure where body and mind seem locked in a strange and exhausting kind of dance

Ultimate Economic Conflict between China and Democratic Countries C.Y.C. Chu,P.C. Lee,C.C. Lin,C.F. Lo,2022-05-05 This book investigates various dimensions of the economic conflicts between the US and other democratic market economy countries and state capitalist communist China in the past decade examining how differences in institutions and ideology bring these about Through the lens of institutional analysis the book elaborates and explains the underlying institutional designs and reasons behind the disputes highlighting how such variances are embedded and reflect fundamental value divergences between China and other democratic countries This book will be of key interest to scholars students and practitioners in law economics political sciences international relations international organisations and global governance

Inszenierungen zeitgenössischer Propaganda Thomas J. J. Scherer,2023-11-20 Hans Bausch Mediapreis 2024 Don t drink and drive Respect Covid regulations or Don t get the vaccine In the public spheres of democratic societies there are many insistent audiovisual messages that appeal to the public in the name of the common good This monograph examines such social advertisements against a multi disciplinary field of theoretical reference in order to develop a discourse analytical approach By analyzing films serving mundane purposes as cinematic forms of meaning making it opens up audiovisual discourse formations to aesthetic and political critique This film studies perspective sheds new light on media practices where propaganda advertising and public relations intersect What emerges through this analysis is a poetics of persuasion a political instrumentalization of fictional worlds with their inherent possible actions responsibilities and views of humanity staged in the language of cinema Drawing on a number of case studies this book teases out three main elements of social advertising the genre specific pedagogy of negative audience feelings cinematic metaphors that shape public media discourses and the temporal structure of prevention It shows that audiovisual persuasion is not a unidirectional rhetorical maneuver but rather a process of negotiation of shaping ideas and stances through the medium of cinematic fiction Through this reflection of media specific societal practices the study
