High Performance Embedded Computing Luis Miguel Pinho, Eduardo Quinones, Marko Bertogna, 2022-09-01

Nowadays the prevalence of computing systems in our lives is so ubiquitous that we live in a cyber physical world dominated by computer systems from pacemakers to cars and airplanes. These systems demand for more computational performance to process large amounts of data from multiple data sources with guaranteed processing times. Actuating outside of the required timing bounds may cause the failure of the system being vital for systems like planes, cars, business monitoring, e-trading, etc. High Performance and Time Predictable Embedded Computing presents recent advances in software architecture and tools to support such complex systems, enabling the design of embedded computing devices which are able to deliver high performance whilst guaranteeing the application required timing bounds. Technical topics discussed in the book include Parallel embedded platforms, Programming models, Mapping and scheduling of parallel computations, Timing and schedulability analysis, Runtimes and operating systems. The work reflected in this book was done in the scope of the European project P-SOCRATES funded under the FP7 framework program of the European Commission. High performance and time predictable embedded computing is ideal for personnel in computer communication embedded industries as well as academic staff and master research students in computer science, embedded systems, cyber physical systems and internet of things.

The Peer-Effect: Non-Traditional Models of Instruction in Spanish as a Heritage Language Lina M. Reznicek-Parrado, 2023-07-31

The Peer Effect Non Traditional Models of Instruction in Spanish as a Heritage Language guides an important pedagogical conversation on the relevance of heritage language and literacy practices as resources for instruction, framing heritage teaching and learning as a social justice issue. Presenting ethnographic and discourse analyses of a heritage peer tutoring program at a university in California, this book focuses on the ways in which the dynamic translanguaging practices that Spanish heritage language (SHL) peer tutors mobilize in a non-classroom student-led collaborative academic space directly respond to the literacy demands of academic language development. Based on the in-depth analysis of peer tutors' translanguaging practices, the book advances scholarship in SHL pedagogy, providing concrete classroom-based examples, techniques, and activities that nurture equitable pedagogies for heritage students belonging while challenging the deficit discourse that has traditionally governed the dialogue around literacy instruction for multilingual students.
