Pleasing Myself Frank Kermode, 2013-08-20 Sir Frank Kermode is acknowledged as one of the greatest critics of our time renowned for the wit humanity and good sense of his writing Pleasing Myself brings together the very best of his shorter pieces on topics ranging from Donne and Yeats to modern art and money

Philip Roth and World Literature: Transatlantic Perspectives and Uneasy Passages Velichka D. Ivanova, 2014-03-18 A book like this is long overdue because not many are aware of the numerous intersections between Philip Roth's fiction and world literature In highlighting these intersections and uneasy passages this comparative approach offers an important contribution to Philip Roth studies as well as to comparative literary study in general The fourteen chapters on this book summon Roth's intertextual links to authors ranging from the anonymous writer of the medieval play Everyman through Thoreau Hawthorne Crane Ellison Coover and the New York intellectuals in the United States to Swift Chekhov Svevo Kafka Schulz Gombrowicz Camus and Kierkegaard in Europe and on to Coetzee in South Africa The book does not deal with all the works in Roth's canon but it offers a selection of works representing the different stages of Roth's development as a writer By offering new readings of both well studied and lesser studied works sometimes in unexpected company the book discloses the critical difference that comparative scholarship can affect The uneasy passages the book opens will not exhaust the numerous intersections between Roth and the work of other writers The book's contribution is to place Roth's fiction firmly in a larger transnational context Far from insular Roth's work appears as deeply rooted in the American canon while at the same time showing a remarkable openness a persistent need for contact with his European forebears and true engagement with contemporary world literature The transnational perspective of the book makes it important for the rapidly growing field of transatlantic and transnational American studies The book will be value to collections in American literature and Jewish studies comparative literature and criticism and transatlantic and transnational American studies

Anti-Sport Sentiments in Literature John Bale, 2007-11-05 This book draws on literature specifically on the writings of selected novelists and poets to widen an existing anti sport discourse to include hitherto excluded voices from the world of literature The book commences with a review of exiting pro and anti sport discourses and then proceeds to examine in turn the written works of five eminent authors excavating from their writings their anti sports rhetorics These writers are Lewis Carroll Charles Dodgson Charles Hamilton Sorley Jerome K Jerome John Betjeman and Alan Sillitoe In its conclusion the book draws together the broad themes discussed in the preceding chapters Innovative in its approach to sport and literature and remarkable for its not having been previously explored in any depth this book will be of interest to readers from both social sciences and humanities backgrounds
