Plenty More Fish In The Cbd:

Plenty More Fish in the CBD David Rhind, Geoff Neal, 2005 Written by two young twenty something lads around town PLENTY MORE FISH IN THE CBD is a funny often downright bawdy guide to finding desirable women then getting and keeping them Its great insights into the male mind are invaluable for women too The authors use the fishing metaphor throughout with chapters on The Neal Rhind Classification of Women Theory Catch of the Day The Department of Conversation Dressed to Krill Look Before You Launch Hook Line and Sink Her The Lure Setting Anchor Mating Season The One That Got Away and Being a Batter Man Despite the very un PC nature of much of the book the last chapter is called The Women Reply For blokes who profess to never reading books Geoff Neal and David Rhind can spin a great yarn Aimed especially at men like them the book contains lots of breakout boxes with Random Facts Fish Tales Quotes and Supporting Material This is great humour but it s also more than that there is a lot of really helpful and insightful information on relating to women

Strongly Sustainable Societies Karl Johan Bonnedahl, Pasi Heikkurinen, 2018-09-27 The response of the international community to the pressing socio ecological problems has been framed around the concept of sustainable development The ecological pressure however has continued to rise and mainstream sustainability discourse has proven to be problematic It contains an instrumental view of the world a strong focus on technological solutions and the premise that natural and human made capitals are substitutable This trajectory which is referred to as weak sustainability reproduces inequalities denies intrinsic values in nature and jeopardises the wellbeing of humans as well as other beings Based on the assumptions of strong sustainability this edited book presents practical and theoretical alternatives to today s unsustainable societies It investigates and advances pathways for humanity that are ecologically realistic ethically inclusive and receptive to the task s magnitude and urgency The book challenges the traditional anthropocentric ethos and ontology economic growth dogma and programmes of ecological modernisation It discusses options with examples on different levels of analysis from the individual to the global addressing the economic system key sectors of society alternative lifestyles and experiences of local communities Examining key topics including human nature relations and wealth and justice this book will be of great interest to students and scholars of environmental and development studies ecological economics environmental governance and policy sustainable business and sustainability science
